LAVAL CABINET QUITS; FORCED OUT BY BRIAND

French Crisis Adds to Chaos in Europe.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Jan. 12.—From his sickroom in the Quai d'Orsay Aristide Briand today toppled over the government of his one time protégé, Pierre Laval. Tonight, exactly thirteen days before the scheduled opening of the Lausanne conference on reparations, France is without a government and no man can tell just when she will have one.

PIERRE LAVAL.
[Assoc. Press Photo.]

What effect this will have on the already chaotic situation throughout Europe was impossible to say tonight. Since the death of André Maginot, minister of war in the late cabinet, the French political situation has plunged deeper into a muddle every day.

May Affect Disarm Parley.

It has now become a real crisis, just as if Laval had been overthrown in the chamber, and it threatens to be a particularly long drawn out one, full of surprises.

The effects on the coming Lausanne reparations conference, scheduled to open on Jan. 25, and on the international disarmament conference, scheduled to open at Geneva on Feb. 2, are uncertain. Some fear these conferences may have to be postponed.

For the next few days, at least, France will be without any clearly defined authoritative attitude toward the tumultuous developments going on all around her.

Briand Forces Showdown.

Officially the end of the Laval cabinet came at 10:30 o'clock tonight, when the premier drove to the Elysee palace and presented to President Doumer the resignation of the entire cabinet. In reality it was all decided twelve hours earlier, when Premier Laval went to pay a friendly call on his foreign minister.

The setting of this interview was foreshadowed last Sunday when Briand threatened to spike efforts to oust him from the Quai d'Orsay on the pretext that his health was poor, by refusing to resign unless the whole cabinet quit. This morning he made good that threat.

Laval remained with Briand for nearly an hour. He came out looking depressed. All he would say was:

"Briand and I had a very friendly talk. We find ourselves in perfect agreement."

Orders Colleagues to Quit.

He then hustled back to the ministry of interior, summoned all his cabinet members and told them to hand in their letters of resignation. All present complied and a letter was dispatched to the Quai d'Orsay for Briand to sign.

Laval did not take advantage of the resignations of all his colleagues to hand in his own at once. On the contrary, he turned and twisted all afternoon trying to escape fate. He lunched with Andre Tardieu, one of the moderate leaders in his cabinet.

Then he dropped in at the Elysee palace for coffee with President Doumer. Rumor says this interview was stormy. The chief of state called on the premier to quit stalling.

Laval Turns to Radicals.

Laval's last desperate maneuver was to confer with Edouard Herriot, leader of the radicals. He offered Herriot Briand's place in the foreign ministry, so the cabinet would have a greater support in the chamber to face the threatening international situation, particularly the crisis precipitated by Germany's declaration that she cannot pay reparations any longer.

Herriot, after conferring with his party, refused on the ground that the radicals could not participate in a government alongside members of other parties who would oppose them in the general elections to be held this spring.

There was nothing for Laval to do then but to resign.

HINDENBURG STEPS ASIDE

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Jan. 12.—President von Hindenburg today asked Chancellor Bruening to abandon the plan to extend his term in office through a vote in the reichstag. The president, however, so far has not rejected proposals

WARN CLEANERS TERRORISM IS PERILING TRADE

Capone hoodlums, who slipped into the back door of the cleaning and dyeing industry two years ago and eventually took over its racketeering activities were blamed yesterday for the murder of Benjamin Rosenberg, cleaning plant executive who was shot down a few blocks from his Maywood home on Monday.

E. C. DUFFICY.

Specifically, a hunt was being conducted for Philip Mangano and Louis Clementi, gangsters who had already been identified as men who tossed acid on clothing at Rosenberg's plant, the International Cleaners and Dyers, Inc.

Murder Motive Suggested.

The anxiety of these men, or their associates, to prevent Rosenberg from appearing as a witness against them at their trial next week was held by Assistant State's Attorney E. C. Dufficy to furnish a plausible motive for the killing.

"Racketeering that seeks to uphold an unwarranted price with paid murderers and sluggers, together with the illegal actions of unscrupulous labor leaders," said Mr. Dufficy, "has brought the cleaning and dyeing industry to a bad pass."

It was suggested that the public has grown tired of fixed prices in the cleaning business and that unless the industry follows the advice of Rosenberg—he wrote a pamphlet a few months ago calling for a square deal all around and no racketeering—and cleans house the patrons will adopt the old system of parcel posting their garments to concerns outside the city.

Past Reduction Is Recalled.

This outside competition, it was said, was one of the main factors several years ago in forcing a reduction of the old set price of $1.75 for cleaning a suit. The present price, fixed by the Cleaners and Dyers' institute, of which Dr. Benjamin M. Squires is dictator, is $1.25. Independents claim that with free competition efficient cleaners can make good profits at less than $1 a suit.

The Capone entrance into the cleaning rackets occurred while Morris Becker, one of the largest of the then independents, grew tired of being pushed around, in the language of the gangs, by the older racketeers. He hired Capone to protect him and announced he had "the best insurance in the world."

Capone Men Branch Out.

The Becker chain of shops did business at its own rates. Finding a natural medium for their activities in the then chaotic conditions, members of the Capone organization apparently branched out further. Some of its minor leaders, including Murray Humphreys, muscled themselves in on other cleaning concerns, it was related.

Just what was the history of the various racketeers who have for years plagued the honest men like Rosenberg in the business is not known to the investigators. It is a fact, however, that Rosenberg was once driven out of his own plant by these gentry and only returned when he discovered a new and more efficient method of dry cleaning overalls.

Rosenberg Gets Warning.

One of the reports, seemingly well substantiated, is that his International Cleaners and Dyers, which had its plant at 2810 South State street, came in conflict with another south side concern in which Humphreys and Machine Gun Jack McGurn, another Capone lieutenant, were interested. His methods were superior, his prices reasonable, and he was taking the Humphreys-McGurn business.

What happened to Rosenberg soon afterward was related yesterday by his black garbed widow at the inquest into his death.

"He was seized," she said, "and taken to the office of Morris Kaplan, a lawyer. There two men, one of them a representative of his business rival and the other a union man, told him to get out of business and stay out."

Alpert Also Threatened.

Associated with Rosenberg in the overall cleaning venture was Harry

THE SHADOW ON THE DOOR

900 Checker Taxi Drivers Go on Strike

Nine hundred Checker Cab drivers, meeting last night in Walsh's hall at Noble street and Milwaukee avenue, voted to take their cabs out of service until the management agrees to cut its monthly service charges in half.

Speakers urged all those present to carry on the strike without disorder and to persuade the other drivers of the company by peaceable means to join.

During the afternoon twenty-five drivers stormed the company's stand at 752 North Clark street and tore out the telephones. There was a similar attack on a stand in the Fillmore street police district. About twenty men were arrested in these disorders.

Last night five strikers were arrested in the Town Hall police district and several others in various parts of the city. They were alleged to have threatened drivers who declined to join the walkout. A police guard was established at the company headquarters, 1401 Jackson boulevard, and another in front of the Morrison hotel, where nonstriking drivers complained of being menaced.

Half of Drivers Rebel.

According to the insurgents, who compose about half the membership of the Checker organization, they are now compelled to pay $95.35 a month to the organization for a cab used by two drivers and $75.35 for a one man cab. For this they receive storage, telephone calls, and washing. They must purchase gasoline also from the company, and at rates which they claim are much too high for the quality of fuel sold.

Specifically they demand that the monthly charges be cut to $47.50 and $35 for two man and one man cabs, respectively, and that the gasoline prices be reduced.

The speakers declared that while in form their company is an association of owner drivers, they are in fact at the mercy of their management. They have been compelled, they declared, to purchase discarded Yellow cabs, repainted, at a price of $1,050, when such cabs sell in New York at $250. New cabs are sold them at $2,265.

Can't Make Money, They Say.

It was said that the company retains ownership of the vehicles, issuing nontransferable stock to each man for the amount of his cab value. Some of the speakers asserted the Checker organization was being run for the benefit of the Yellow Cab company. It is impossible under present conditions, it was alleged, to make any money driving a Checker.

Michael M. Sokoll, president of the Checker company, declared the movement had only a small number of drivers and that 1,006 of a total of 1,120 cabs were in service and all paid up in their dues.

BOY CLINGS TO ROCK 11 HOURS; SAVES HIS LIFE

Pasadena, Cal., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—Clinging all night to a boulder, Harold Zender, a 10 year old school boy, was rescued this morning from a tiny mountain ledge above Salon canyon. Had the boy loosened his hold at any time during his 11 hour ordeal he would have fallen to death on the canyon floor, 120 feet below. Young Zender and a school friend went hiking after grammar school yesterday and started home by a short cut through the mountains. Harold, whose father is a wealthy merchant, skirted the side of the mountain near a waterfall when a slide of loose slate began slipping down the mountainside with him. Apparently headed for a crevasse, he anchored his arms around a big boulder and held on through the night.

Four policemen, paying out on 150 feet of rope, rescued the boy.

SLAY CUSTOMS MAN WHEN HE HALTS AN AUTO

Nogales, Ariz., Jan. 12.—(AP)—U. S. Customs Officer Clyde M. Bristow, 39, was shot to death tonight by one of two men in an automobile which he and Customs Officer Charles Jones halted for investigation north of here on the Tucson highway.

Deputy sheriffs said that when the car halted one of the occupants fired and Bristow fell with a bullet in the head. The slayer and his companion fled, followed by ineffectual shots from Jones in pursuit.

Cold Weather on Way; Snow Is Due Today

Real winter weather was sweeping down from the frozen northwest toward Chicago last night and the official forecast indicated that rains early today would turn to snow later and that much lower temperatures will prevail when the snowstorm moves on tomorrow. The temperature in Chicago reached the day's maximum of 51 degrees at 8 o'clock last night.

Unusually high winds occurred yesterday in the south, in the western Rockies and on the Pacific coast.

Tornadoes Sweep South.

Tornadoes sweeping through Mississippi, Alabama and Texas caused the death of one woman, the injury of about 100 persons and extensive property damage. Mrs. Frank Simmons was killed at New Hamilton, Miss., near Aberdeen, and many of her neighbors were injured. Other cities which felt the force of the twisters were Magee, Miss.; Fellowship and Jasper, Ala.

At Los Angeles it was reported that many small craft in southern California harbors had been swamped by giant waves. Six men who left shore yesterday in fishing boats were missing at Redondo and fears were expressed for their safety.

Blizzard at Hoover Dam.

An 80 mile wind, the accompaniment of a blizzard, caused considerable damage in Boulder City, where government employes working on the new Hoover dam on the Arizona-Nevada border are quartered.

According to the weather bureau, the change from the springlike temperatures of recent days will approach cold wave conditions today in the Dakotas, Nebraska, Minnesota, northwestern Iowa, and northern Kansas. The drop in the mercury in Montana was 50 degrees yesterday.

Brothers Arrested as They Ply Illegal Trade

William Halpin, 31 years old, 459 West 22d street, and his brother John, 34 years old, accomplished a robbery last night. They entered the Central cigar store at 4151 South Halsted street, each with his hand in his right coat pocket, and threatened to shoot the clerk, Charles McGrath, unless he gave them money. McGrath surrendered $35. As the brothers marched out they met Policemen John Coffee and Louis Kolb. Searching them, the police found that each brother had a pair of pliers in his pocket.

Miami Beach, Fla., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—Mayor Cermak of Chicago is ill at the home of his brother-in-law, and under Dr. Frank Jirka's care. He was exhausted and suffering with cold. He didn't transact any business with Chicago today and was confined to his bed.

Hawaii Court to Try Massie, Navy Decides

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—Secretary of the Navy Charles Francis Adams tonight disclosed that Lieut. Thomas H. Massie and the three other Americans accused of the murder of a Hawaiian who criminally assaulted the naval officer's wife will be tried in the Honolulu district courts.

Decision to turn the naval officer, his mother-in-law, Mrs. Granville Fortescue, and the two naval enlisted men, Edward J. Lord and Albert O. Jones, over to the territorial authorities was reached by Secretary Adams after today's cabinet meeting, at which President Hoover discussed the whole situation growing out of the recent disorders at Honolulu with the interested cabinet members.

At that time Secretary of the Interior Ray Lyman Wilbur, who has charge of the Hawaiian territory, urged that the trial of the four Americans be handled just the same as any other case.

Acts on Recommendation.

Secretary Adams was advised this morning by Rear Admiral Yates Sterling, commandant of the naval station at Honolulu, that he thought it would be advisable to allow Lieut. Massie and his associates to be tried in the District court. He advised the secretary that the navy department and the local authorities were coöperating harmoniously in clearing up the situation. Rear Admiral Stirling was instructed late this afternoon to relinquish the prisoners at the request of the civil authorities.

Under the new arrangement, Lieut. Massie will be tried by a jury of mixed races. The navy authorities will do whatever they can to aid the defendants in the way of affording them such military and naval legal talent as they desire.

The prisoners are held on board the cruiser Alton and probably will not be released to Judge Cristy of the Hawaiian court until after the action of the grand jury of Honolulu which is to convene on Friday to consider the charge that the four Americans murdered Kahahawai, who was one of five men accused of assaulting Mrs. Massie the night of Sept. 13, 1931. The five men were tried in November but the jury failed to agree and the men were released in bail of $2,500 each.

Hoover and Wilbur Confer.

The decision to release Lieut. Massie, Mrs. Fortescue, and their co-defendants to the Hawaiian authorities was foreshadowed at a conference at the White House late this afternoon between the President and Secretary Wilbur. Following the conference, Secretary Wilbur said that he saw no reason why the case should not take its regular course in the territorial courts of Hawaii. The trial, he added, will proceed in the normal way to an orderly conclusion.

Previously, and before Secretary Wilbur saw the President, Attorney General William D. Mitchell indicated that there would not be a change of venue, when he pointed out that there was no law that he knew of which would make possible a transfer of the trial from Honolulu to one of the federal courts on the Pacific coast.

Three Departments Involved.

All three branches of the government, executive, legislative, and judicial, are now involved in a far reaching investigation of the Hawaiian situation. The President took the matter up with the cabinet this morning, the department of justice utilized all its agencies, secret and otherwise, in probing to ascertain whether or not the enforcement of law and order in the island had collapsed, while a special committee of the house committee on naval affairs started an inquiry this afternoon, involving the naval angle of the problem.

Meanwhile, Lawrence Judd, governor of Hawaii, challenged the truth of charges that conditions in Hono-

IGOE-SMALL COMBINE COSTS CHICAGO RELIEF

Senate Measure Now the Only Hope.

BY PARKE BROWN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—The house of representatives last night gave two decisive beatings to the Kelly plan for the reorganization of the tax machinery of Cook county.

The senate bill embodying this plan was passed in the upper chamber last week, but the house took up its own bill, which was identical. It came up to vote the first time carrying the emergency clause to make it effective immediately. Passage with this clause included would have required two-thirds support, or 102 votes. The roll call showed it defeated in this form, receiving 80 votes to 56 against it.

Then the emergency clause was stricken out, a change that would have made the bill, if passed, effective on July 1. For passage 77 votes were required. The roll call showed a count of 57 for and 65 against.

Senate Bill Only Hope.

This does not mean that the fight for the abolition of the present board of review and board of assessors is all over. The senate bill is still to come before the house and advocates of the plan say they will continue the battle behind that measure. That was what they said at 1:30 this morning when the house dissolved. But there were some veterans who said the fight is all over.

The defeat of the plan indorsed by Gov. Emmerson, Mayor Cermak, and a group of leading Chicagoans, who worked it out as a compromise upon the proposal of the governor's tax conference, was attributed to the combined political forces of Len Small and Michael L. Igoe.

Small, twice governor, is now a candidate for the Republican nomination for a third time, and Igoe is an aspirant for the Democratic nomination. His hopes have not been encouraged by Mayor Cermak and his associates in the Cook county organization.

Igoe Leads Long Battle.

Igoe, who had operated quietly, led a well organized fight that lasted most of the afternoon and all evening. Under his direction a dozen speakers took the floor and attacked the measure, and he wound up the barrage with a half hour's assault just before the first roll call.

There were fewer speakers from the Small contingent, but the votes from that camp were delivered almost solidly against the bill.

Nearly all of the opposition—including most of Igoe's speakers—came from downstate, but there were eleven Cook county members who voted against the bill. They were the following:

James Curran.
Arthur E. Fischer.
Frank E. Foster.
Harris B. Gaines.
Michael L. Igoe.
Charles J. Jenkins.
William E. King.
Roland V. Libonati.
George Garry Noonan.
Michael A. Ruddy.
William J. Warfield.
Michael L. Durso.

Supporters Find Boomerang.

After the bill including the emergency clause was lost a number of those who had voted for it announced they were changing their votes on the next roll call because proponents of the bill had contended it must be passed at once or it would be of no value in the financial crisis of the local governments of Cook county.

Others who had supported it were silent and the final defeat was more decisive than the loudest opponents had forecast.

The Chicagoans who opposed relief for the city on this test were:

Edwin B. Bederman.
Ralph Church, Evanston.
James Curran.
Michael R. Durso.
Arthur E. Fischer.
Frank E. Foster, Harvey.
Harris B. Gaines.
Michael L. Igoe.
Charles J. Jenkins.
Roland V. Libonati.
George G. Noonan.
Michael A. Ruddy.
Wm. J. Warfield.

Ralph Church of Evanston and Frank E. Foster of Harvey also voted with the down state.

An effort to postpone the announcement of the final roll call until later in the day, also was defeated by being tabled by a vote of 61 to 57.

The violent attack, with downstate forces as the shock troops, had been planned deliberately and was carried out with military accuracy, although earlier in the day Cook county and other friends of the Kelly plan had consented to a compromise on the terms of the income tax bill which was demanded as downstate's price for its aid to the Kelly plan.

That compromise consisted of rescinding the amendments placed on the bill last Wednesday, which advocates of the measure said slaughtered it, and the inclusion of two lesser changes of the same sort accepted by proponents of the tax, including the officers of the Illinois Agricultural association.

The amendments taken back with the consent of opponents of the bill were those increasing the exemptions—that of a single person from $1,000 to $1,500 and that of the head of a family from $2,000 to $3,000. Thus downstate demands were met and then, for the purpose, it is believed, of gathering in a few more votes, the downstate strategists gave ground by putting in new amendments raising the exemption for the head of the family to $2,500 and that for each dependent child from $200 to $300.

Most observers believed that these signs pointed to an elimination of most of the political tactics in reference to the Chicago program, but noon disclosed the luncheon of Small followers with the former Chicago mayor.

Those identified there were all downstaters, with the exception of one, Frank E. Foster of Harvey. The others, all Republicans, were Roger J. Branson, Centralia; Luther B. Bratton, Kankakee; Leo J. Crowley, Peoria; Gus J. Johnson, Paxton; William J. Lowler, Springfield; Hugh Luckey, Potomac; R. G. Soderstrom, Streator; H. D. Sparks, Shelbyville; Charles M. Turner, Wenona; Albert Waller, Tamaroa, and Robert Whitely, Carlinville.

Igoe Joins the Ranks.

This discovery was recognized as spelling war, and the indication was considered more certain when Igoe turned in his list of speakers, the list winding up with his own name. Beside himself he included two Chicagoans, Roland V. Libonati and William E. King, both Republicans.

Elmer J. Schnackenberg, floor leader for the Cook county Republicans, opened the discussion with a history of the development of the present crisis in Chicago—the reassessment of 1928, the depression and the Jarecki decision. He urged that house bill 11, the one called up for passage, presented the only plan for the reorganization of the county taxing machinery that has "a Chinaman's chance of passing" and urged its approval, although it might not be ideal.

"Either we are going to support this bill," he said, "or we are going to tell the taxpayers of Cook county that we are not going to do anything for them."

Shock Troops Get Busy.

When he took his seat the alternating Igoe-Small attacks began. The first Igoe speaker, McClure, essayed to ridicule the reorganization bill and the forces behind it. He spoke of "the marriage of banker-politician Cermak and Banker-Politician Emmerson, with Banker Traylor reading the ceremony.

McClure was followed by Sparks, who had been chosen floor leader for the Small group. Sparks was followed by another Igoe speaker, Timothy J. Sullivan [Dem., Springfield], and then came Libonati.

Here Speaker Shanahan called on Arthur Roe of Vandalia, former minority leader, who said downstate's first good word for Cook county. He urged the house to take the opinion of Cook county as to its own needs.

At this point a recess was taken until 8 p. m.

The Night Session.

The night session was opened by Frank G. Thompson of Mount Vernon, Republican from Gov. Emmerson's district. Thompson seemed reluctant to believe that the assessor bill would solve Chicago's difficulties, but said he would vote for it. Former Minority Leader John Devine of Dixon was next. He was bitter against the measure, terming it a political frameup and a "conspiracy against the real estate owners."

"You will be putting men out of office who were elected by an overwhelming majority if you pass this bill," he told the house. "Behind it is the desire of the boys who haven't paid their taxes to control the assessing machinery."

"The same men are behind this plan who were behind the reassessment and the Strawn plan," was the assertion of William E. King, Chicago Republican, who followed Devine.

Another Igoe Man Talks.

Devine and King were succeeded by Howard L. Doyle, Decatur Democrat, one of the downstate leaders of the Igoe governorship movement. He asserted there was no assurance as to the character of the tax officials that might be named under the Kelly plan.

He said Gov. Emmerson might name as one of the reviewers one of the former assessors who are now members of the state tax commission, Charles Krutckoff or Charles Ringer.

Frank E. Foster, one of those at the Smallite luncheon, although a Cook county representative opposed the bill. He is from the seventh or "outer belt" district, where most of the thirty township assessors constitute a small political machine of their own. The powers of these assessors would be clipped by passage of the bill.

Snell Heard from Next.

"This bill is absolutely un-American," asserted Truman A. Snell [Dem., Carlinville], a candidate for attorney general, an office for which the Cook county organization is said to favor Thomas J. Courtney, minority leader of the senate. Snell mentioned his own candidacy and said the only organization that could stop him at the primary on April 12 "is the people of Illinois."

Other opposition speakers from the Igoe list were Harry McCaskrin [Rep., Rock Island], and Sol Handy [Dem., Marshall].

Carl Jobst [Rep., Peoria] urged downstate members to support Cook county, saying the bill did not affect the rest of the state. Then Igoe arose for the purpose of closing the debate.

First he had Clerk Blaeuer read an affidavit from the board of assessors denying charges that he had sponsored 45 employés on the board's pay roll. The number of his protégés was placed as three.

"This is the surrender of the rights of the people," he asserted when the clerk had concluded. He said he had changed his mind since introducing in 1930 a bill for the abolition of the present taxing board.

Takes Slap at Council.

His opening argument was based on the evidence brought out in the Cisar case before Judge Jarecki that only a fraction of personal property has been assessed in Chicago. Then he attacked the reassessment of loop properties. He condemned the Chicago city council for failing to meet on Monday to consider the offer of the Associated Bond and Share corporation to advance the city $20,000,000.

"The only trouble in Cook county is that people don't pay their taxes," he said. "And they don't pay their taxes because they say personal property is not assessed and therefore the taxes on real estate are fraudulent."

He attacked the governor's tax conference for not recommending a reassessment of personal property which, he charged, its members knew was necessary.

"This bill, he said, "would permit the governor to name a man from downstate as a reviewer for Cook county."

He closed with a patriotic appeal for Americanism, and a plea for home rule.

"If you pass this bill, he said, "you can bid a fond adieu to reapportionment and to home rule, and I can promise you your people will turn against you before the next election."

Income Tax Up Today.

The income tax bill will come up for passage today and Chicago members are threatening reprisals, for they say they not only will fight harder than ever to defeat the tax but that they will move to reconsider today's action by which last week's drastic amendments were reconsidered and placed on the table.

The process of rescinding last week's amendments to the bill occupied nearly all the morning session, the rest of the time before the luncheon recess being taken up with proposed new amendments, a slow grind that ran into the afternoon session.

The restoration of the bill to its original form was a foregone conclusion before the measure was called. Authoritative denials were made by all concerned that there was any deal to this end, but supporters of the governor's tax conference program had prevailed over the week-end upon a number of opponents of the income tax levy to accede to the demand of its adherents that it go to a final vote in unmutilated form. As a result of this missionary work several members, downstaters as well as Chicagoans, who last week voted for the amendments and also fought the bill itself, voted to reconsider and kill the amendments or were silent, permitting the downstate program to go through.

First Amendment Goes.

Representative McClure made the first move, a motion to reconsider the amendment increasing the single person's exemption from $1,000 to $1,500.

The roll call on McClure's motion, the first test of the altered situation, showed it passed by a vote of 77 to 49. Passage of a bill requires 77 votes and this test was thought significant until scrutiny of the roll showed that several members who have opposed the bill and say they will vote against it, for example, James T. Burns [Dem., Kankakee], who last Wednesday made the motion to kill the bill by striking the enacting clause, voted to reconsider.

Then on motion of Homer J. Tice, Republican farm bloc leader from Greenview, the amendment was tabled on a rising vote, 73 to 47.

Representative Snell, who last week voted for increases in exemptions for both single persons and heads of families, made the motion to reconsider the amendment raising the married man's exemption from $2,000 to $3,500. The roll call was 76 to 54, and Tice's motion to kill the amendment was passed on a rising vote, 73 to 40. Then the technical amendments that had been required by the two major changes were erased by rising votes.

$3,000 Exemption Beaten.

Thereupon Robert M. Woodward [Rep., Chicago] made a futile effort to fix the exemption of the head of a family at $3,000, losing by a vote of 59 to 70.

The next proposal started more oratory than anything else during the morning. Emmett McGrath [Dem., Congress Park] submitted an amendment requiring that all income taxes collected in a county be turned back to the treasurer of that county.

It was during noon recess that the concessions were made by the backers of the proposed new tax. Secret conferences were held and the first intimation the house had of their result was when Tice, without comment, accepted the two compromise amendments and they were adopted by viva voce votes without roll calls.

Devine presented the first of these, increasing the exemption of a married couple from $2,000 to $2,500. Then Thomas A. Bolger [Dem., McHenry] presented an amendment to increase the exemption for each dependent child from $200 to $300. It went through so rapidly that many members did not even know its nature.

ROLL CALL ON FIRST TEST OF STRENGTH ON KELLY RELIEF BILL

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 13 [2 a. m.].—The roll call on the Kelly plan bill including the emergency clause, which required two-thirds or 102 votes for passage, was as follows:

ROOSEVELT TO SPEED DECISION ON SEABURY PLEA TO FIRE SHERIFF

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—Charges seeking removal of Sheriff Thomas M. Farley of New York county, made by Samuel Seabury, counsel to the Hofstadter investigating committee, "call for early action," Gov. Roosevelt ruled today.

The governor disclosed that he has caused Samuel I. Rosenman, his counsel, to write to the sheriff requesting him to make an answer to the Seabury charges "at your early convenience." The sheriff previously had requested an opportunity to reply to the charges.

The Seabury letter emphasizes the failure of the sheriff to explain how he accumulated $396,503 in his now famous tin box from 1925 to 1931 while his total income amounted to only $87,000.

BOND ISSUE FOR WEST PARKS IS KILLED IN HOUSE

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—By a vote of 14-12, the house judiciary committee today killed the $4,000,000 Chicago west parks bond bills. They were introduced by Representative James Curran [Rep., Chicago] and would have authorized the park board to issue $4,000,000 in 5 per cent bonds without a referendum for the "maintenance, extension and operation" of the park system.

Edwin B. Bederman [Rep., Chicago] urged passage of the bills when the committee met this afternoon. The vote on his motion that they be referred to the floor with a favorable recommendation tallied 12 for the motion and 14 against.

Then F. W. Lewis [Dem., Robinson] moved that they be reported with a recommendation that they do not pass and this carried with the vote reversed—14 for and 12 against. It it anticipated that the house will follow the committee's action.

NATURALIZED U. S. CITIZEN HANGED; KILLED A TURK

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Eddie Cullens, young naturalized American, was hanged at 8 a. m. today for the slaying of Achmet Musa, a Turk who was engaged in promotion work for the aged Zaro Agha, who claimed to be one of the oldest men in the world.

NEW YORK STATE AND CITY SQUIRM TO GET FINANCES

Roosevelt's Solution Is Doubled Taxes.

BY TOM PETTEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 12.—[Special.]—New York state and New York City, struggling in a financial bog, sought means to gain firmer ground today.

At Albany Gov. Roosevelt proposed in his annual budget report that the state income tax, the gasoline tax, and the stock transfer tax all be doubled and the tax on heavy vehicles be tripled to wipe out a deficit of $124,418,729.

Here in Manhattan the board of estimate, following Mayor James J. Walker's instructions, voted to defer action indefinitely on public improvements of 120 million dollars in order that bankers might be placated and the city's credit restored.

Roosevelt's Tax Program.

With the nation watching him as a prospective Democratic presidential candidate, Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt succeeded in working out an emergency tax program that would bring in an extra 137 million dollars and leave an estimated surplus of $12,581,270 after "balancing the books" on June 30, 1933. Gov. Roosevelt reported a reduction of $17,162,322 in his budget this year, which totals $291,291,114.

Disdaining the so-called luxury taxes as "nuisance taxes," Gov. Roosevelt explained the income, gasoline and stock transfer taxes would be purely emergency levies and would cease in 1933. The increased tax on heavy trucks would be permanent.

Mayor Walker's troubles are more complex. New York City owes $1,877,000,000. The cost to the city of this debt yearly is $160,000,000 or a fourth of the 1932, $631,000,000 budget. The city's pay roll for regular employés is $30,000,000 a month.

Banks Withhold Loans.

Last week the city found itself short of cash and went to th banks to discuss $90,000,000 of refinancing together with a $20,000,000 loan for relief work in the city. The banks offered to take care of the $20,000,000 relief loan but asked questions about the $90,000,000.

Mayor Walker cried for federal aid and failed to get it. Only last September the city had borrowed $51,000,000 in short term money at 1⅜ per cent, now it has to pick up at least $41,500,000, on or before Feb. 1, to meet bills and maturing notes and if the banks decide to make the loans the city will have to pay close to 6 per cent. Hence the financial crisis and Mr. Walker's policy of "retrenchment."

The bankers pointed out that every government, every business had retrenched but not New York City. In a year of depression the budget was boosted many millions of dollars, no salaries were trimmed and no Tammany limousines were dispensed with.

Mayor Walker scoffed at the proposal of a trivial saving of $651,000 by putting the salaries of the 208 Tammany officeholders back on a 1929 basis. In a 1930 salary grab all of these job holders, including the mayor, shared in nice fat salary raises. Four hundred and fifty new jobs were created at the time. They are still being held.

The "retrenchment" today took the form of what the mayor called a "suspense calendar," to which virtually all items involving expenditures, large or small, were referred. Action on all these items, the largest of which is the $78,000,000 Delaware river water supply project, will be delayed indefinitely pending settlement of the city's current financial difficulties.

Berry Sees No Benefit.

Controller Charles W. Berry, attending his first board meeting since a quarrel with Mayor Walker over the 1932 budget, said the action this afternoon would not help present financial matters. The delayed improvements, he said, concerned money that has not been spent. Money already expended to the amount of $120,000,000, Mr. Berry said, is either past due or coming due soon. The city will have to borrow to meet its obligations, he told the board.

Work now under performance for the city in the nature of public improvements represents $150,000,000, most of which should be earned this year. If these jobs are held up for any great length of time under the retrenchment program, labor will suffer about $12,000,000 a month in the city.

In the course of his explanation of the city's new policy today, Mayor Walker took another dig at the local bankers who have informed Mr. Walker the city will have to do a bit of corner trimming before it can have any of their cash.

Calls Action Sudden.

"It is a little sudden," said the mayor, "to find that while we could get all we wanted in September we can get no money at all in January. Our action today shows not only our attitude, but a definite disposition to retrench. . . . It looks as if there has been an attack on the credit of the city. I do no know anything about the operations of bear raiders, but I do know that nothing in the financial world has stood up as well as city bonds. The mayor wants to coöperate. He does not want to debate."

Controller Berry, in commenting on the financial situation, insisted there was no question as to the status of the city's credit, but said it would be necessary to carry about $200,000,000 in short term notes unless bonds to that amount can be floated.

After the meeting Mayor Walker and his advisers resumed negotiations with bankers and it was reported in financial circles that money probably would be available to the city at the regular 5½ per cent terms.

SUPREME COURT DELAYS RULING ON REMAP BILL

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—After conferring since 2 p. m. the state Supreme court announced shortly before 6 o'clock that the decision on validity of congressional reapportionment will not be handed down tonight. It is expected here the court will resume its deliberations and return the opinion tomorrow.

DEFY RAINSTORM TO HUNT SCHOOL CASH IN GLENCOE

Western Springs Reports Quick Response.

Two hundred workers braved a rainstorm last night to canvass Glencoe's 1,200 homes as an opening of a two weeks' campaign to raise cash to reopen the village's three schools and continue other municipal activities. Preliminary reports indicated that many pledges were being made, although some workers reported opposition from citizens who were asked to purchase 1931 tax anticipation warrants.

Elmer Wieboldt in charge of the campaign, expressed confidence, after listening to reports from the volunteer workers, that the $396,700 needed would be raised. This figure was fixed by a committee which reduced a former budget estimate by $243,000.

Five Checks in Seven Calls.

The warrants were issued in multiples of $5 with $25 the minimum. Payments may be made in installments. One team of two workers reported that it obtained five checks from seven prospects visited. Others received no money but were given promises to consider the request.

A report from another suburb seeking to raise funds was even more encouraging. Workers under the direction of J. H. Capell canvassed homes in Western Springs in an attempt to raise $20,000 to keep the schools open. They obtained more than one-third of the amount needed, or $7,775, in the first night of work.

Western Springs residents were sold "teacher's orders," which constitute a junior lien on teachers' salary checks. The buyers were told that they probably would not get their money back for five years, although the orders bear 6 per cent interest in the meanwhile. The average purchase last night was $68.

F. L. Streed, business manager of Kenilworth, revealed that that suburb, hitherto not embarrassed for funds, now has only enough money to meet January pay rolls. Some emergency measure, such as the Glencoe plan, will be needed to keep the village going after Feb. 1, Mr. Streed said.

Highland Park school board officials announced that the teachers' salaries in three schools would be cut 10 per cent for the remainder of the term. In four other schools, the officials elected to cut the school term by one month in order to effect the necessary economy.

SENATE PASSES BILL TO PAY TEACHERS IN CITY TAX WARRANTS

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—While waiting for the assessor bill fight to be thrashed out in the house of representatives, the senate today passed several bills designed to offer some help to the Chicago school teachers and the taxing situation in general.

Senator Thomas J. Courtney, the minority leader, engineered the passage of a bill which would allow the Chicago board of education to issue tax anticipation warrants to the teachers in lieu of back salaries. These warrants, by the terms of the bill, would bear 6 per cent interest until paid.

Courtney also pushed through the three house bills sponsored by Benjamin Adamowski [Dem., Chicago], allowing insurance companies to purchase tax warrants if they choose.

Voliva Reduces Wages of Zion City Workers

Wilbur Glenn Voliva, general overseer of the Christian Catholic Apostolic church at Zion, Ill., yesterday announced that the depression had officially reached Zion. He issued an edict slicing the wages of the 3,000 members of his church who work in the community from 10 to 30 per cent, reducing rents paid to the church and declaring a three months' moratorium on payment of member's dues on investments. He said the church members would not have a chance to vote on the matter.

HOOVER NAMES WILKERSON TO APPEAL COURT

Noted as Judge in Capone Income Tax Cases.

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson, who sentenced Al Capone to eleven years' imprisonment for income tax fraud, yesterday was nominated for the United States Circuit Court of Appeals by President Hoover.

Statements from the White House, briefly announcing the elevation of Judge Wilkerson, said it was part of the recognition due federal officials in Chicago for their efforts in breaking up the forces of gangdom.

Norris Predicts Contest.

Judge Wilkerson's appointment, sent to the senate yesterday for confirmation, will be sent to the judiciary committee in the regular course next Monday. Dispatches from Washington quoted Senator George W. Norris, chairman of this committee, as predicting a battle on the confirmation, to be led by the senate radicals. However, supporters of Judge Wilkerson, including both Senators Otis F. Glenn and James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois, expressed confidence that his appointment would be confirmed by a safe margin.

Senator Norris declined to elaborate on his statement that there will be "quite a contest" on the Wilkerson appointment, but it is understood the senate radicals will have the support of organized labor. Labor is opposed to Judge Wilkerson because of the famous railway injunction he issued in 1922. His order restrained striking railway shopmen on the ground that their activities interfered with interstate commerce and the movement of the United States mails.

Indorsers of Wilkerson.

The list of indorsers of Judge Wilkerson for the Appellate bench, as made public by the White House, covered a full typewritten page. Besides the Illinois senators the list included State Representative Michael L. Igoe, Democratic leader of the house; Judge Arthur E. Fisher of Rockford, Judge E. D. Shurtleff of Woodstock, Silas H. Strawn, Chicago lawyer and president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, and a long list of other members of the bar, headed by William P. Sidley, president of the Chicago Bar association.

Judge Wilkerson's elevation is to fill the vacancy on the Appellate bench left by the retirement of Judge George T. Page, and if confirmed by the senate he will join Judges Samuel Alschuler, Evan A. Evans, and Will M. Sparks in the 7th Circuit court, for Illinois, Indiana, and Wisconsin.

Two Vacancies in U. S. Court.

His elevation would leave two vacancies on the Chicago federal District bench, the other being one of two new judgeships created by the last congress which has not been filled. United States Attorney George E. Q. Johnson is expected to be the first to receive an appointment for one of these vacancies, and Chief Justice William V. Brothers of the Circuit court and Superior Judge Walter Steffen are prominently mentioned as prospects for the other.

Judge Wilkerson is credited with interpretations of the income tax laws which resulted in the successful conclusion of the government's prosecutions of gangsters and grafting politicians in the higher courts. The trial of Ralph Capone was the first prosecution of a gangster for income tax fraud and in it many new propositions of law were involved. Subsequent income tax cases prosecuted by District Attorney Johnson's office involved similar points and the government has not lost a single case, on trial or on appeal.

Judge Wilkerson was appointed to the federal bench in 1922 by President Harding, to succeed Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, before whom he had appeared many times as special assistant United States attorney general and as United States district attorney.

MILWAUKEE SO PROSPEROUS IT'S LESSON TO U. S.

All Debts Paid and Four Million in Bank.

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 12.—(AP)—Officials of the city of Milwaukee, with their house in order, roof tight, and with money in the bank, have become schoolmasters to the nation.

It all started when Associated Press dispatches recently revealed that, with debts paid, this municipality started the year with a surplus of $4,000,000 in cash. Incredulous city officials and better government leagues the nation over wanted to know how such management was accomplished and were amazed to learn that a $4,000,000 surplus was just a trifling incident in a story of efficiency in the conduct of Milwaukee's affairs.

In 1932 the city government will spend $37,940,187. In that sum every projected manhole cover and two dozen bottles of polish for saddles of the police department are accounted for. And dozens of officials now are whittling away at department needs hoping that only twenty bottles of polish will be needed.

Controller Tells How.

So widespread has been the demand for information on "the Milwaukee way" that Controller Louis M. Kotecki has written a form letter setting forth the fundamentals of the city's financial policies. Scores of cities have asked for advice. Socialist Mayor Daniel W. Hoan, a political enemy of Kotecki, but who has helped build the Milwaukee system, has also been forced into the rôle of teacher in a correspondence course on municipal management.

Many American cities, Mr. Kotecki believes, are headed for financial disaster. Several have hit the rocks, and unless there are drastic reforms many will come dangerously close to bankruptcy, he warned. From his office window he scowled at the murky Milwaukee river as he explained some of the unique features of Milwaukee's financial policies. He scowled at the river because recently it threatened to rise up and hit him with a bond issue in violation of a Milwaukee principle.

Explains Bond Policy.

"We were asked to issue bonds to dredge the river," he said. "But dredging is not an expenditure to be financed by bonds. Our bonds all run for terms of twenty years and could not well be used for the satisfaction of having a clean river bottom two or three years. And that rule goes for paving and other street improvements."

Another feature of the Milwaukee plan lies in the fact all city funds are lumped in one general fund. In the budget departments are held rigorously to their allotments, but to the city treasurer there is no segregation of funds. The system has resulted in notable savings in this manner.

A contractor is to be paid. Bonds for the expenditure have been authorized and printed. But if there is money enough in the general fund the cash is drawn from it. Not until the general fund runs low are the bonds sold.

Mr. Kotecki in this manner has deferred sales of bonds as long as two years and recalled one issue on which the saving in interest was $300,000.

"Milwaukee doesn't keep its money in separate pockets," Mr. Kotecki explained. "Consequently one department doesn't borrow money at 5 per cent, while, down the hall, is a more affluent department which is getting 2 per cent on money idling in the bank.

FRANCE BARES PLAN TO PUT REPARATIONS BURDEN UP TO U. S.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Jan. 12.—Although the center of the stage was occupied today by the cabinet crisis, France quietly worked out a policy for the forthcoming reparations conference, if it is held.

The French plan provides for a two year moratorium for Germany and complete commercialization of the unconditional reparations. Reparations would be reduced, but the United States would be asked to cut war debts in the same proportion. If the United States refuses, France will simply pass the word along to Germany.

During the two year moratorium, discussions would be held between the allies, Germany and the United States for the purpose of trying to get the latter to bandon her debt payment demands entirely. If she does, she will be compensated by being given part of an issue of $150,000,000 in German railroad bonds, with interest starting in 1934. How big the American share would be was not revealed. The rest of the issue would be used to cover interest on the Dawes and Young plan loans.

Appeals Court Will Hear Al Capone's Case Feb. 9

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday set Feb. 9 as the date for hearing Al Capone's appeal from an 11 year prison sentence for income tax evasion. A hearing on the appeal of Anthony [Mops] Volpe from a deportation order issued by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson will be held today.

FRENCH CABINET QUITS; FORCED OUT BY BRIAND

French Crisis Adds to Chaos in Europe.

At the instigation of Count Westarp, a meeting of representatives of the six parties decided today to establish a Von Hindenburg election committee, under the chairmanship of Dr. Otto Gessler, former war minister, who has many followers anxious to elect him president but who thereby eliminates himself from the race.

The Nationalists, after spurning Bruening's idea of reëlecting Von Hindenburg through a parliamentary vote, issued an explanation that they refused to accept such a plan because "it would have been a satisfaction to Chancellor Bruening, whom we disapprove." Von Hindenburg, however, has their sympathy and respect, they declared.

Fascists Approach President.

The Fascists, trying to steal a march on their competitors, besieged Von Hindenburg all day, asking him to accept the nomination for president on their ticket before accepting any other support. They succeeded in getting into direct touch with the president through his son and aid, Col. von Hindenburg.

Before leaving Berlin for Munich tonight, Hitler informed Chancellor Bruening that he will submit to him a "comprehensive exposition" of constitutional and moral reasons why the Fascists rejected the proposal for Von Hindenburg's parliamentary reëlection.

WAR PAYMENTS ARE REPUDIATED BY BULGARIANS

Central Europe Expected to Default on Debts.

BY WILLIAM SHIRER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VIENNA, Jan. 12—Bulgaria fell into line with Germany today and announced that she could not pay any more reparations. Dispatches from Sofia said Premier Nicholas Mouchanoff had informed press correspondents that it would be impossible for Bulgaria to continue to pay.

Although Bulgaria has not been invited to the Lausanne reparations conference scheduled to open on Jan. 25, Premier Mouchanoff said he intended to participate anyway. He declared he would present a detailed report, similar to that given to the world bank experts at Basel by Germany last month, showing Bulgaria's incapacity to pay.

Asks Interest Moratorium.

Without declaring a formal moratorium, as Hungary did, Premier Mouchanoff said Bulgaria would also ask to be excused from paying interest on a large part of its foreign debt for the time being. Half of this year's budget, the premier declared, was earmarked for payment on the foreign debt, but the deficit is so large as to make further payments abroad impossible.

Although Bulgaria now pays but $2,000,000 annually in reparations, its decision will seriously complicate the central European situation, for the bulk of Bulgaria's payments have gone to neighboring states. The chief of these is Greece, which received 75 per cent, and Rumania, with 13 per cent.

Greece to Follow Suit.

It looks now as if debt cancellation or default is in order all around, so far as central Europe is concerned. Even before he had been appraised of Bulgaria's action, former Premier Papanastasiu of Greece declared today that conditions are so bad in his country that payments on the foreign debt will have to be stopped for several years.

From Belgrade it is reported that Jugo-Slavia, already in a critical political and financial condition, is panic stricken by the news that Germany will not pay and is telegraphing frantically to Paris, urging France to squeeze reparations out of Germany somehow.

Jugo-Slavia is due to receive $16,000,000 in reparations this year. Belgrade officials have indicated that if this money is not received from Germany, they will be forced to stop payment of war debts automatically.

Czechs Fall in Line.

Even Czecho-Slovakia is inclined to join Austria, Hungary, and Bulgaria in their sympathy with Germany's move, since Prague pays $2,000,000 annually on the "liberation debt."

It is significant that a propaganda campaign has been unleashed in central Europe this week, calling for a united European front against the United States to achieve cancellation of reparations and war debts. British interests are said to have inspired the campaign.

From the mass of leading newspaper articles carrying this propaganda, its is plain that central Europe, which has financed itself through American funds since the war, is ready to aid the program of complete cancellation.

Economics Still in Dark Ages, Says Norman Angell

Sir Norman Angell, member of the British parliament, author, and student of international affairs and economics, yesterday said the western world is still in the dark ages insofar as its treatment of economic ills is concerned. He spoke before a luncheon of the Council of Foreign Relations and the English Speaking union at the Palmer house.

"In the far east plagues and disease are still attributed to demons and evil spirits," Sir Norman declared. "We of the western world have long since learned that disease is transmitted by micro organisms, and have learned to keep sewage out of our drinking water. But when we attempt to cure our economic ills—a problem infinitely easier to understand than the theory of micro organisms—we emulate the people of the eastern world and conjure up demons and evil spirits."

Criticizes Modern Education.

Sir Norman criticized modern educational systems, saying that we live in a civilization dominated by money and finance, but the children, from the day they enter school until the day they leave, never hear a word about economics, which rule the social world in which they must live. He asserted that it was absurd to ask Germany to pay many billions of dollars of reparations in money and not goods when the nation had only $1,000,000,000 of gold. He attacked nationalism, and ridiculed the idea that navies are maintained to protect gold reserves of the world.

"The Bank of England's gold supply has been raided by foreign nations, and carried away, but the navy put up no resistance," he declared. "The gold supply of the United States has been reduced fifty billion dollars and your navy was unable to do a thing about it. And I'm very much afraid you'll never regain a great proportion of that sum of gold."

Suggests Payment in Ships.

The speaker suggested one means for the United States to collect its debt from Great Britain as being sound and practical, but he also remarked, "I know absolutely that you would not do it." His suggestion was to allow Great Britain to build the United States navy, delivering ships instead of gold. Taxpayers in the United States would be relieved of a burden, he declared, and would spend their money on home industries.

DENTISTS VOTE FREE TREATMENT TO UNEMPLOYED

The Chicago Dental society, at a special meeting in the Palmer house last night, voted to donate free dental service to persons whose inability to pay for such treatment is certified by accredited social agencies.

The service will be given by members of the society, either in their own offices or at the Northwestern university and University of Illinois dental schools. Service at the two schools will be of an emergency character, covering relief from pain, extractions and temporary fillings.

Samuel A. Goldsmith, chairman of the health division of the Council of Social Agencies, told the dentists that many thousands of destitute persons are suffering from dental troubles. He said he would ask the Joint Emergency Relief fund to appropriate a sum of money to defray the cost of materials at the two dental schools. Charles R. Baker, president of the dental society, appointed a committee to work out details of the free service plan.

France to Buy 20,000,000 Bus. Wheat from Canada

PARIS, Jan. 13 [Wednesday].—(AP)—The Paris edition of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE today published an unconfirmed report that France has agreed to buy 20,000,000 bushels of wheat from Canada. It added that, while the report could not be confirmed last night it was the subject of much comment in French and American circles.

Baby Is Born in Patrol on Way to Hospital

Mrs. Helen Newquist, 3915 Pine Grove avenue, gave birth to a girl weighing 7 pounds in the Town Hall police automobile patrol which was hurrying her to the county hospital last night.

SLAIN IN HOLDUP AFTER PLEA FROM WIFE IN EUROPE

A conorer's jury yesterday returned a finding of justifiable homicide in the death of Richard Geiss, 33 years old, who was shot and killed by police on Monday night as he fled after holding up Miss Helen Cooper, cashier, in Abarbanell Brothers' cleaning and dyeing shop at 1000 North boulevard, Oak Park.

The police told the coroner's jury of finding two cablegrams in Geiss' rooms at 1354 North Dearborn street. One from his wife in Hochheim, Germany, dated Jan. 5, read: "In vain waited. Dolores' pneumonia bad. Longs for you. Come immediately. With love, Gretchen, wife." The other was the copy of a cablegram he apparently had sent. It read: "Please wire everything about Dolores. Coming on next boat, hoping everything turns out all right. Richard."

ANNA HELD'S ESTATE VALUED AT OVER $220,000

New York, Jan. 12. — [Special.] — The estate of Anna Held, musical comedy actress, who died Aug. 12, 1918, was valued at $257,859 gross and $220,757 net in a transfer tax appraisal filed today with the New York county surrogate. She was the former wife of Florenz Ziegfeld.

According to the terms of the will, a $1,000 brooch was bequeathed to Lillian Russell [Mrs. Alexander P. Moore], who died in 1921, and jewelry worth $500 to Dorothea O'Reilly.

Miss Held's daughter, Liane Carrera, received jewelry valued at $22,050 and a temporary life estate, payable at the age of twenty-five, in $179,076. The daughter was twenty-five in 1920, but restrictions in the will prevented complete disposal of the property except on certain specified dates.

CHAS. A. STEVENS & BROS

Hello Everybody!

You'll be particularly glad to hear this morning that the hour on Stevens Accessories is to be devoted to testimonials (for which not one cent has been paid!), coming from the lips AND the hearts of these adored celebrities.

The Duchess of Worcestershire:

Really, the American shopping trip which gave me the biggest thrill occurred when I found in Stevens a lovely collection of new Ascot scarfs, in silk with silk lining. Best of all, there were plenty in ALL-WHITE, as well as smart colors and color combinations. Each, $3.

SCARFS—FIRST FLOOR

Miss Ankel A. Long of the Follies :

Imagine my mortification when trying on shoes to find a hole in my stocking! Since then I've worn only Delmar Vamp Toe hose, sheer and clear as cellophane, and thoroughly dependable with their famous Vamp Toe feet and "run-stop" at the hem. $1.50 a pair, and economy at that!

HOSIERY—FIRST FLOOR

Miss Ona Trinket:

The cutest little ring you've yet to cast an orb on is Stevens' new "Bowknot" ring of metal in Copper, Silver, or Gold Finish, and adjustable to any finger. I was so intrigued, I bought one of each, to match my other costume jewelry. Each, $1.95.

JEWELRY—FIRST FLOOR

Mrs. Eagle I. Schopper:

It didn't take a very long search on my part to chance upon the smartest handbags in town. Corded Capeskin is the magic password, and what smart magic! The bag of the week, in black or brown, is $10. Other capeskin bags $5 and up.

HANDBAGS—FIRST FLOOR

Miss Iva Mole:

I was simply distraught about that little blemish on my chin until I found out about "Cover-Mark." A new preparation, exclusive with Stevens in Chicago—it completely conceals any scar, birthmark, or blemish, and is absolutely invisible in the bargain. Bottles, $3 and $5.

CONNOLLY DUE TO BARE GRAFT IN TRIAL TODAY

Expected to Bring Canal Case to Climax.

Timothy L. Connolly, who was purchasing agent for the sanitary district board during the wild spending days, will take the witness stand this morning in Chief Justice Harry Fisher's Criminal court as a state's witness. He will testify against Timothy J. Crowe, president of the district board during 1927-'28, when, the prosecution charges, $6,500,000 was squandered as the result of a graft conspiracy on the part of Crowe and seven other defendants.

MORTON KALLIS.

Connolly's appearance on the stand this morning will mark the climax in the trial, according to an attaché of the state's attorney's office. First Assistant State's Attorney John E. Northup, who has charge of the prosecution, refused to discuss the Connolly situation, but all his actions yesterday indicated that the state was ready for the grand finale in the trial, which has been in progress for nearly six weeks.

Kept Away from Defense.

Connolly has "told all" to Assistant State's Attorneys Harold Keele and Henry Seyfarth, it is reported. Since he was arrested in San Diego, Cal., ten days ago, the prosecutors, it is said, have had Connolly in Illinois, Indiana, and Michigan in order to prevent friends of the defense from communicating with him to prevent the impending exposure.

If Connolly repeats today on the witness stand, as he has promised, what he has told the assistant prosecutors, it is expected by Prosecutor Northup that the inside of the alleged graft conspiracy will be brought into the open.

Many of the witnesses called by the state in the trial have blamed Connolly for looting the public treasury of $250,000 by the payments of exorbitant prices by the sanitary district. The prosecutors expect Connolly to show at whose direction he sanctioned many of the deals.

Expected to Accuse Trustees.

"The testimony of Connolly will definitely hook up some of the trustees," said one of the men connected with the case. "It will show that he thought some of the things too flagrant and that he made an effort to stop them.

"Certain of the defendants, who will be named, told Connolly to go back to doing business with the companies favored by the trustees."

It was intimated that all the bills charged up to the district and approved by Connolly were not for goods actually delivered to the district. Many of the bills, it is said, were fakes. One instance shows, it is said, that fake billheads of one concern were printed in order to loot the treasury by mythical sales.

Wins Delay on Hearing.

Prosecutor Northup, appearing before Judge Philip L. Sullivan in a hearing on a writ of habeas corpus obtained for Connolly, won a continuance until tomorrow morning. This will give the prosecution an opportunity to take Connolly into Judge Fisher's court today to testify before he is brought before Judge Sullivan, where, it is feared, his friends and those of the defendants might talk to him.

With Connolly's anticipated testimony, the prosecution's case will be nearly closed. A few more minor witnesses remain, it is said. There will be testimony to show the wealth of the various defendants and the large sums of cash deposited to their credit in banks during the whoopee period. This is expected to wind up the prosecution's case by Friday night.

Testifies on $100,000 Waste.

The testimony at the trial yesterday was brief and dealt with the fact that Crowe and his associates used the taxpayers' money to advertise themselves in a pamphlet termed the "President's Message." Walter Richards, 2221 North Lawndale avenue, a printing estimator, testified that the trustees paid $100,000 for this booklet, which his printing concern would have printed for about $13,000. The district paid 33 cents each for the pamphlets, which, the witness said, were worth 4 cents each.

The cost of the booklets was really much higher, according to First Assistant State's Attorney John E. Northup, because the trustees ordered 200,000 copies destroyed, although they had been paid for. The first printing of the message was destroyed after the death of Trustee Michael Rosenberg and another 100,000 copies were ordered with the photograph of Trustee Henry Berger substituted. Berger is also dead.

Printer of Booklet.

M. Kallis & Co.—in reality Morton Kallis—did the printing. Kallis, who for the purpose of printing the president's message formed what he called the Lae-Jac company, could not be found for the purpose of being a state's witness.

Miss Helen Seymour, 5340 Wrightwood avenue, bookkeeper, was called to identify the vouchers paying for the printing. She said that when she last heard from Kallis he was in New York.

The cover of the booklet bore the title: "What We Are Doing: Annual Message of T. J. Crowe." It was mailed out just before the 1928 primaries.

Maid's Name on Pay Roll.

The only other evidence yesterday came from Mrs. Rose Urban, 1309 South Millard avenue, whose husband was janitor of a building at 1321 Independence boulevard when Martin Edelstein, former real estate agent for the board and one of the defendants, lived in the apartment building. She testified that Margaret Rhoades, colored, was a servant in the home of Edelstein in 1927. The district pay roll shows Margaret Rhoades as being employed for one year at $200 a month in a sanitary district material yard.

PARTY REGULARS WIN CLEVELAND MAYOR PRIMARY

Cleveland, O., Jan. 12.—(AP)—Rolling up heavy pluralities, Republican and Democratic party regulars tonight had won the two mayoralty nominations in today's primary election, the first time in a decade Cleveland has voted for a mayor.

Daniel E. Morgan, city manager under the old form of government, which was voted out this fall, led the field of five and becomes the Republican candidate in the election Feb. 16.

County Prosecutor Ray T. Miller, Democrat, former Notre Dame football star, became the Democratic candidate.

Peter Witt, colorful and caustic independent, and traction expert for the Van Sweringen brothers, fell far behind in the balloting.

Dr. F. W. Walz, insurgent Democrat, and I. O. Ford, communist, were out of the running completely.

With more than three-fourths of the 749 precincts accounted for, the final totals were reliably approximated at 54,000 for Morgan, 46,000 for Miller, and 30,000 for Witt.

HURT; DIES OF HEART DISEASE.

Herbert Smack, 62 years old, 802 South State street, died yesterday at the county hospital of heart disease. He had been taken to the hospital for an injury in a fall.

ELECTED SENATOR

MRS. HATTIE CARAWAY.

Little Rock, Ark., Jan. 12.—(AP)—The election of Mrs. Hattie W. Caraway as United States senator—an honor never before accorded a woman—was assured in returns from today's special election in Arkansas.

Returns from two-thirds of the counties gave Mrs. Caraway 14,121 votes against 436 for Sam D. Carson and 925 for Rex R. Floyd. Her two opponents were listed as independents on the ticket. The Republicans had no candidate.

The election had been generally regarded as a mere formality, as the Democratic nomination is tantamount to election in Arkansas, but because of its history making aspect women's clubs and party leaders sought to get out a large vote.

With most county treasuries in straitened circumstances women volunteers serving without pay acted as election officials in many places. Several counties, because of empty treasuries, held no election and in others only one poling place was provided.

Mrs. Caraway, who took a seat in the senate at the opening of the present session under a temporary appointment from Gov. Harvey Parnell, will serve out the unexpired term of her late husband, Senator Thaddeus H. Caraway, who died two months ago. The term expires in March, 1933.

STIMSON SAID TO AID IRONING OUT COLOMBIAN LOAN

Testimony Given Before Senate Committee.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—In testimony today before the senate finance committee Secretary of State Stimson and Francis White, assistant secretary, were pictured as having taken an active part in ironing out an alleged misunderstanding between the Colombian government and a syndicate headed by the National City company, which early in 1931 temporarily withheld a payment of $4,000,000 on a $20,000,000 credit arrangement.

This testimony, given principally by W. W. Lancaster, of counsel for the National City bank, and by Victor Schoepperle, vice president of the National City company, was confirmed late today in a statement issued by the state department, which claimed that the intervention was done only for the purpose of "fostering of friendly relations."

The description of this transaction was obtained piecemeal by Senator Hiram Johnson [Rep., Cal.] in extended questioning.

Quiz on Oil Concessions.

Hundreds of questions were asked by Senator Johnson, including many which were obviously aimed at establishing whether oil concessions and the influence of the Mellon interests figured in the Colombian loans, a point recognized by the state department in its statement where it was announced officially that:

"The discussion that took place at the time between the department and the Colombian authorities, and those between the department and the National City bank, did not in any manner, shape or form touch upon Colombian petroleum legislation or the settlement of the Barco controversy, and were in no way connected with these matters."

The Barco controversy referred to was settled late in 1930 or 1931 by the Colombian government reëstablishing the validity of an oil lease right granted originally to an individual named Barco but since, according to testimony before the committee, acquired by the Gulf Oil company, controlled by the Mellon interests, and the Carib Development corporation, said to be owned by J. P. Morgan & Co., with Gulf Oil holding the controling interest.

Lancaster's Testimony.

Mr. Lancaster testified that he discussed the final payment of the Colombian loan first with Mr. White and then with Secretary Stimson.

"Mr. White informed me that President Olaya had complained that there had been delay in making the last payment," Mr. Lancaster testified, "and that the reason as presented by President Olaya was that the bankers claimed the budget had not been balanced. President Olaya said the budget had been balanced and it was absurd to insist that it be balanced daily."

"Did you see any one else except Mr. White regarding this matter?" asked Senator Johnson.

"I discussed it with the secretary of state," replied Mr. Lancaster.

"Do you recall that the secretary expressed a view?"

"It is my recollection," Mr. Lancaster replied, "that he asked me to look into the matter to see what merit there was in the disagreement in regard to the loan."

"What finally broke down the objection of the bankers?" Senator Johnson inquired.

"The conviction that adjustments had been made by President Olaya and that he had brought about modifications that warranted the assumption that the budget would balance," replied Mr. Lancaster.

Hear of Suppressed Report.

The finance committee also heard, in testimony hedged about with diplomatic niceties, that Bolivia apparently has suppressed a report advising that government not to float foreign loans. Prof. E. W. Kemmerer of Princeton, a member of the Dawes commission who has been retained by seven South American countries to survey their fiscal problems, was the witness, after Dr. Kemmerer had testified that Bolivia had published each of his reports on its various affairs except one regarding future borrowing, Senator Johnson asked him to state the substance of the unpublished report.

"That puts me in a delicate position," replied Dr. Kemmerer. "That is a confidential document of Bolivia."

"But can't we arrive at its contents some way?" asked Senator Johnson.

"You might ask me what was recommended in the same type of report written for Chile and published," the professor suggested. "The reports were similar."

"Then what did you tell Chile?" Senator Johnson asked.

"We recommended great care in the flotation of further loans and the making of them only for self-supporting public works."

HURLEY, BARUCH SLATED ON TRADE REVIVAL BOARD

Congress Speeds Two Billion Finance Bill.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—With the two billion dollar reconstruction finance corporation bill under debate in the house and the 125 million dollar federal land bank bill nearing passage in the senate, the President's legislative program for economic relief today continued its deliberate but certain progress through congress.

BERNARD BARUCH.
[Acme Photo.]

The reconstruction finance corporation is expected to receive the approval of the house on Thursday, or possibly Friday. The land bank measure probably will pass the senate tomorow.

Already there is considerable discussion as to whom the President will pick for the four directors of the reconstruction corporation to be selected by him.

Two Virtually Decided On.

It is reported that he virtually has settled on two men. These are Edward N. Hurley of Chicago, war-time head of the shipping board and Merchant Fleet corporation, and Bernard Baruch of New York, head of the War Industries corporation. Former Gov. Angus McLean of North Carolina is considered another likely candidate. These three are Democrats. The Republican to serve with the Republican secretary of the treasury, governor of the federal reserve board, and farm loan commission, thus fulfilling the requirement of a nonpartisan board, has not yet been named.

It is known that the President wishes for this place a westerner, particularly experienced in agricultural problems.

Ambassador Charles G. Dawes has been mentioned for this place, but his chairmanship of the disarmament delegation eliminates him. Alexander Legge, former head of the federal farm board, also has been talked of.

As soon as the measures now on the floor are disposed others will be ready to take their places. The 150 million home loan discount bill and the 750 million depositors' relief bill will both begin hearings before senate subcommittees within the next few days.

New Credit Facilities.

With the final passage of the administration program new credit facilities of 3 billion and 25 million will have been extended. Of this amount, the government will put up 875 million in original capital if need be, and will stand behind an additional one billion 500 million of securities to be issued.

No less important than these measures will be the tax bill on which hearings will begin tomorrow when Secretary Mellon and Under Secretary Secretary Mellon and Undersecretary the house ways and means committee. The committee will use the treasury recommendations as the basis for increases, but under the new Democratic rule will draft their own bill and offer it, probably, as a strictly party measure.

Girl Robbed of Purse and Assaulted Near Home

Miss Stella Kamysky, 19 years old, 2554 Winnemac avenue, reported to police last night that she had been attacked and robbed by a man at Argyle street and the north branch of the river. The man snatched her purse containing $2 and then, threatening to kill her if she made an outcry, assaulted her, she said.

RAIL AND BANK CHIEFS PRAISE U. S. CREDIT PLAN

See Finance Corporation as Aid to Recovery.

Railway executives and bankers yesterday acclaimed the impending creation of a 2 billion dollar reconstruction finance corporation as a measure possessing definite possibilities of defenting the depression. The corporation is to be financed by the United States treasury.

A bill, providing machinery and capital for the corporation, was passed Monday in the senate. Washington dispatches yesterday predicted early house action and that the bill will become a law within the next few days.

Downs Praises Project.

Among the railway executives voicing approval of the measure was Lawrence A. Downs, president of the Illinois Central. Mr. Downs declared that the corporation would provide immeasurable assistance to the strong roads, as well as the weaker ones.

"The corporation is bound to prove a splendid help," Mr. Downs said. "Its principal benefit, as I see it, will be to provide the roads a source of credit at reasonable rates.

"The business depression has hammered down the market price of the bonds of nearly all roads, strong and weak. With these bonds, even of the strong roads, selling at 70 or 80 cents on the dollar, the roads are being compelled to pay 7 and 8 per cent interest, where they should be paying 4 or 5 per cent. Creation of the reconstruction corporation will rectify this condition."

Predicts Increased Traffic.

H. M. Scandrett, president of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific, expressed belief that the corporation would prove not only of direct benefit to the weaker roads, but would indirectly benefit all roads by stimulating business and increasing railroad traffic.

"The railroads," he explained, "have three pressing needs. They must find ways of further curtailing expenses, increasing traffic and securing easier credit. To the extent that the credit corporation directly provides the needed credit, it will prove of direct benefit to the more hard pressed roads. But, in the larger aspect, namely, that the corporation will thaw frozen assets, ease credit and stimulate activity in all lines of industi and agriculture, the railroads stand to reap a substantial benefit i increased traffic and increased earnings."

H. B. Voorhees, vice president of the Alton, concurred with Mr. Scandrett. A similar view was held by C. T. O'Neal, who became president of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois on Jan. 1.

Seen as Aid to Banks.

Speaking for the banking interests, State Auditor Oscar Nelson declared that the creation of the corporation would exercise a stabilizing influence on the banking situation throughout the country, supplementing the results already achieved through the work of the privately financed National Credit corporation.

"The National Credit corporation has done a good job, but this measure goes much farther," he said. "Primarily, it is bound to have a reassuring effect on nervous bank depositors. Secondarily, its facilities will prove of vast benefit in a speedy and economical liquidation of banks recently closed."

Bankers Predict Benefits.

Chicago bankers expressed the opinion that the corporation would do more to revive business and industry than any agency that has yet been tried or otherwise can be conceived.

It was agreed that the big government fund will be able to "unfreeze" assets in many frozen banks to a considerable extent and in some cases enable closed banks to reopen.

For example, in Chicago and suburbs it is estimated that approximately $35,000,000 in deposits is tied up in closed banks, while in the whole country some 1½ billions of dollars is similarly impounded. If a third of the government fund should be devoted to the banks, a large share of their frozen but good assets could be liquidated, while there would be less pressure to sell the most depreciated assets. Then, too, the impetus which is expected in business from the big credit fund might cause bank assets to appreciate and result in even larger returns to depositors.

Praised by Reynolds.

"The government fund will be able to do what no other agency can do," Arthur Reynolds, chairman of the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company, said. "While the banks have tried to help, it has been impossible for even the strongest banks, or all of them combined, to help all the closed banks. Public fear and uncertainty have forced the strong banks to maintain themselves in an unusually liquid state in order to meet possible demands. They simply cannot take over assets that require a considerable time to work out.

"However, the government fund can take over good assets that will require several years to liquidate, if necessary. It would be foolish to say that all assets of every bank can be taken over. But the depositors of closed banks will be able to get a considerable part of their money back.

"But even more important a factor will be the return of public confidence. After all, the greatest trouble now is unreasoning fear. A return of confidence would bring out a billion dollars in hoarded money, and it would enable the banks to free vast sums for business and industry."

Flying Forecasts

Special flying route forecasts for the period from 9 p. m., Jan. 12, to noon, Jan. 13:

Chicago-St. Louis—Rain, except possibly becoming fair in extreme south; strong south to southwest winds and gales.

Chicago-Twin Cities—Rain, probably snow by morning over extreme north; strong south to southwest winds and gales becoming north to northwest over extreme north before morning.

Chicago-Kansas City—Rain over north, varying cloudiness over south, probably followed by rain changing to snow by morning; strong south to southwest winds and gales becoming northerly over extreme south portion by morning.

PRATT PREDICTS FAILURE OF ARMS PARLEY IN GENEVA

Britten Fights Cost of Such Project.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—Admiral William V. Pratt, chief of naval operations and ranking naval adviser at the London naval conference, told the house naval affairs committee today that in his opinion the Geneva disarmament conference would not be successful. Answering a direct query from former Committee Chairman Fred A. Britten [Rep., Ill.], Admiral Pratt said the road to general armament reductions or limitations was so beset with obstacles he saw little chance they could be removed without more preparatory work.

The pessimistic statement regarding the conference outlook was made after Mr. Britten had scored the administration for recommending the expenditure of funds on a hopeless cause. It has been estimated the parley will cost American taxpayers $500,000. Britten asserted that the Geneva conference, which is scheduled to meet Feb. 2, will be a fizzle.

"This idea of sending delegates to a conference that is sure to fail is pure bunk," Mr. Britten declared. "Do you have any confidence," he continued, turning to Admiral Pratt, "it will succeed in effecting a general treaty limiting armaments?"

"No, I do not," the admiral replied.

JUSTICE HOLMES RESIGNS; 30 YRS. IN HIGHEST COURT

Near 91, 'Bows to Inevitable,' He Announces.

By GENEVIEVE FORBES HERRICK.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

He phrased the surprise announcement to President Hoover in these quiet words, both reminiscent of his thirty years on the Supreme bench, and prophetic of his 91st birthday the 8th of next March: "The time has come, and I bow to the inevitable."

And, as is the Washington way, even as some senators hurried into the chamber to make speeches in honoring the retiring jurist, other senators hurried to their offices to make plans for influencing the selection of his successor.

Favorite Sons Appear.

Included in the list of favored sons are: Newton D. Baker, Wilson's secretary of war; Curtis D. Wilbur, Coolidge's secretary of the navy; William Dewitt Mitchell, Hoover's attorney general; John W. Davis, 1924 Democratic presidential candidate; William S. Kenyon, Judge 8th district United States Circuit court; Robert Von Moschzisker, former chief justice of the Supreme court of Pennsylvania; Benjamin Nathan Cardozo, chief judge, Court of Appeals, New York; and Learned Hand, judge 2d district, United States Circuit court. Middle west friends advanced the name of Chicago's judge, James H. Wilkerson.

There also was talk of a far western man getting the place, the names of Senator Thomas J. Walsh [Dem., Mont.] and Senator S. M. Bratton [Dem., N. M.] being mentioned.

Surprise to Associates.

But these were political tangents to the announcement. Its dramatic significance lay in its surprise and its simplicity.

Yesterday Mr. Justice Holmes rendered a decision. His voice wavered once or twice; once or twice he coughed. But the same pithy phrases that have long been his were yesterday a part of his pronouncement. When the session was over, Chief Justice Hughes waived precedence and stood aside to help the white haired, pink cheeked old man down the stairs from the bench.

And his intimate friend, Justice Brandeis, helped him into the automobile that took him to his old-fashioned red brick house where he lives, alone with his books and his "young fellow" as he always calls the lucky high man at Harvard law school who, each year, serves as his clerk. As he left the court he remarked to his associates, "I don't think I'll be here tomorrow."

Note of Resignation.

They thought the indisposition, slight, but this morning they felt the full meaning of those words when President Hoover made public a letter from Justice Holmes, which said:

"The condition of my health makes it a duty to break off connections that I cannot leave without deep regret after the affectionate relation of many years and the absorbing interests that have filled my life. But the time has come and I bow to the inevitable. I have nothing but kindness to remember from you and my brethren. My last word should be one of grateful thanks."

In his letter of reluctant acceptance, the President wrote, "I know of no American retiring from public service with such a sense of affection and devotion of the whole people."

A few hours later Senator David Walsh [Dem., Mass.] told his colleagues of a letter he had received last year from Justice Holmes, following his [Walsh's] tribute to him on his 90th birthday.

"I have never believed," the letter read, "that a public man, and especially a judge, ought ever to be thanked."

The retiring justice's eight associates on the bench were sad today. Tonight they sent a letter to their comrade; tomorrow, when the reply is received, both communications will be made public.

And all over this country, men and women who heard Justice Holmes make his first radio speech on his 90th birthday, recall that last line of his:

"And so I end with the line from a Latin poet who uttered the message more than 1,500 years ago, 'Death plucks my ear and says—live—I am coming.'"

FOUR SETS OF TWINS IN SEVEN YEARS

Four times in seven years Mr. and Mrs. John Hanley of Robbinsdale, Minn., have been the parents of twins, and seven times in seven years they have celebrated the birth of grandchildren, some of whom are older than the youngest twins, who are nevertheless their aunt and uncle. The twins, left to right: Norman and Norma, 4 years old; Helen and Harold, 5 years old; Wanda and Waneta, 8 years old; June and Junior, 11 years old. There are three other children, two of them married. The picture was taken in near zero weather.

Holmes Known for Dissenting Opinions

Washington, D. C., Jan. 12.—(AP)—Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, who retired today from the United States Supreme court, rendered many opinions on behalf of a majority of the court, but he probably is better known for his dissensions.

In the 1926 term he found it necessary to express his disagreement with the majority in ten cases, in 1927 in 20, 1928 in 7, 1929 in 9, and 1930 in 4.

Among some of the more important cases in which he dissented but in which he did not write the dissenting views were the O'Fallon railroad case, in which he joined in supporting the methods used by the interstate commerce commission in valuing railroad property for rate making purposes, and the Indianapolis water case, in which he opposed the court in making the cost of reproduction an element in public utility rate making.

While he dissented last term in the two naturalization cases in which the court held that aliens must give an unreserved pledge to bear arms in case of war to be entitled to citizenship, the dissenting views of the minority were written by Chief Justice Huges.

No part of the justice's life on the bench will stand out more prominently in history than his attitude on individual rights under the constitution.

He long insisted the rights of free speech permitted expressions which did not directly provoke immediate public disorder. In one case he said several convicted radicals had as much right to publish their views as the nation had to publish its constitution.

In 1908 he opposed the court's ruling that railroads could discharge their employés for unionism, and that a law fixing employers' liability was invalid.

In 1917 the court upheld the Webb-Kenyon act prohibiting the shipment of liquor from a wet into a dry state. Holmes dissented.

In 1918 he dissented in a case in which the court ruled newspapers must not publish articles or cartoons which embarrass the administration of justice.

Democrats to Hear Shouse at Victory Fund Dinner

Jouett Shouse, chairman of the Democratic National committee, is due to arrive in Chicago today. He is to be chief speaker at the Victory fund dinner tomorrow night at the Stevens hotel, for which 1,400 reservations have been made. While here Mr. Shouse will start the preliminary arrangements for the Democratic national convention.

Roosevelt's Name Will Go on Oregon Primary Ballot

Portland, Ore., Jan. 12.—(AP)—George F. Alexander of Portland, president of the Franklin D. Roosevelt for President league of Oregon, today filed with the secretary of state at Salem petitions to place the New York governor's name on the Democratic presidential primary ballot.

FIND PRESIDENT OF TAILORING CO. SHOT TO DEATH

The body of William M. Cahn, 59 years old, president of the Progress Tailoring company, 532 Throop street, was found in a washroom near his office late yesterday afternoon. A .38 caliber revolver was in the right hand. He had been shot in the chest and the head.

Because of the two bullet wounds, police believed for a time that there was a possibility of murder. Later, however, it was learned that Cahn had suffered financial reverses and also was losing his eyesight. He was believed to have shot himself first in the chest, the bullet passing through his body but not rendering him unconscious. Then he fired the second shot.

Cahn lived at 20 Cedar street. His widow, Mrs. Rosalie Cahn, was waiting outside his office in an automobile with a chauffeur when the body was discovered. One son, William Jr., is a student at Princeton. Cahn's brother-in-law, Alfred E. Stern of Highland Park, vice president of the tailoring firm, said that Cahn had recently lost in the stock market.

WOMAN SHOOTS SUSPECTED THIEF; HE IS CAPTURED

Miss Ida Mueller, 50 years old, landlady in a rooming house at 4816 Kenmore avenue, shot and wounded a suspected thief and then brought about his capture yesterday afternoon. The man's companion had escaped with Miss Mueller's pocketbook, which contained $50.

Taken to the Summerdale police station, the prisoner identified himself as Daniel Nickolopolos, 45 years old, 535 South Halsted street, but refused to name his companion.

The two men were admitted into the house by Miss Mueller when they said they wanted to rent a room. Nickolopolos went upstairs with Miss Mueller while his companion stayed on the first floor. When Miss Mueller went downstairs her pocketbook and the other man were missing.

As Nickolopolos dashed out, Miss Mueller grabbed a revolver and shot him in the arm, then ran after him. He was seized by a crowd of pursuers at Winthrop and Lawrence avenues. Police said that Nickolopolos and his companion were suspected of robbing other landladies by the same trick.

Roland Pleasant, 19 years old, colored, 2906 South State street, died yesterday at the Provident hospital as a result of being shot on Jan. 2 by Mike Campbell when he tried to enter the building at 5157 South Michigan avenue, where Campbell lived.

Dog's Bark Saves Family When Fire Destroys Home

The barking of a police dog, which ran to a bedroom and aroused his master, probably saved the lives of six persons yesterday when fire destroyed the home of Mrs. Alma Worack, west of Waukegan. Mrs. Worack's adopted daughter, Mrs. Adolph Jerdee, the latter's husband, their three young sons, and Josephine Worack, 12 years old, daughter of Mrs. Worack, were asleep in the house when the fire started, apparently from an overheated furnace. The dog aroused Jerdee, who awakened the others. The loss was estimated at $20,000.

CUSTER ENTERS RACE; SILENT ON STATE DRY LAW

Would Limit Cook Votes at Springfield.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

The announcement of Omer N. Custer of Galesburg as a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor seemed to stir up mixed emotions yesterday among Chicago Republican battlers on the issue of reapportionment.

In his formal avowal of candidacy, which was issued at Springfield and at Galesburg, Mr. Custer, twice state treasurer and two times Illinois manager of Col. Frank O. Lowden's presidential campaigns, was silent on the two questions of prohibition and redistricting, which were major issues in the last regular legislative session, reserving them for later discussion.

Favors Limitation on Chicago.

In an informal comment, however, he indicated that he favors limitation of Cook county in the general assembly on a basis which would give control of one house to the downstate and of the other house to Cook. He said:

"I favor reapportionment of the state in a manner which would give Cook county control of one branch of the general assembly and leave the other in control of the other 101 counties. I have not decided whether I would prefer that the downstate counties have control of the senate or of the house."

See Split of Ward Chiefs.

Possibilities of a split were apparent last night among the 33 ward committeemen who on Saturday signed up a round robin pledging fealty to Gov. Emmerson as leader. Most of the committeemen are on pay rolls controlled by the administration. One group tentatively spoke of renewing the search for a Cook county man, and the name of Thomas O. Wallace, Circuit court clerk and a Brundage chief, was tentatively mentioned in this connection.

All told, the reapportionment problem bids fair to precipitate dissonance at the harmony meeting Monday of the Cook county Republican committee. County Chairman B. W. Snow called it at the request of the 33 committeemen present at Saturday's luncheon party which was thrown by promoters of Emmerson leadership. Monday's meeting was called to start slatemaking on a basis of factional harmony.

Chairman Snow before departing for Washington yesterday said he was against any downstate candidate who has a downstate slant on Chicago affairs.

"A voter in Chicago," said Mr. Snow, "should have as much voice in government as a voter downstate. It is unconstitutional, un-American and at variance with the principles of democracy to penalize a citizen because he lives in a large community.

"Chicago is entitled to at least two things. It should be able to have the will of the majority carried out on reapportionment and on prohibition by responsible elected officials."

Custer Stresses Economy.

The Custer announcement occasioned no surprise, as it had been discounted for more than a week by the reports of an Emmerson-Custer entente at the statehouse. It followed the day after Gov. Emmerson's formal avowal that he would not run again, and it was given out at the statehouse by the governor's publicity man.

Mr. Custer, who started as a printer's "devil" and became a publisher, banker, political leader and one of Knox county's leading citizens, stresses economy in government.

He has been in politics a quarter of a century, was postmaster of Galesburg under Roosevelt, and member of the state industrial commission under Gov. Lowden. He was twice elected state treasurer, and a year ago he was appointed chairman of the state tax commission by Gov. Emmerson to succeed William H. Malone, who is a candidate for governor in the primaries.

Bases Appeal on Record.

In his statement he says: "My appeal to the people will be based upon my experience and record, both in business and political life, and upon my belief in the reorganization of government on business principles with a view to the reduction of its cost to the people and a better distribution of that cost among all classes of taxpayers.

"The economic depression has taught business that it can survive only by lowering its operating costs and every sound business institution today is revamping its organization, eliminating all waste and unnecessary expenditures, and applying the strictest efficiency and economy to all of its functions. Government must do the same thing.

Mr. Custer declared he would discuss all other leading issues during the campaign in a way to leave no doubt as to his attitude.

Gov. Emmerson accepted the resignation of Charles W. Hadley of Wheaton as chairman of the Illinois commerce commission, and appointed as a new member Paul Samuell of Jacksonville, former Supreme court justice. Mr. Hadley is expected to announce himself as a candidate for attorney general.

Also Gov. Emmerson sent to the senate the appointment of A. C. Margrave of Cairo as member of the state tax commission to succeed the late A. D. Rodenberg. Margrave was head of the corporation department of the secretary of state's office, while Mr. Emmerson was in that position.

Democrats likewise began to stir a bit over the governorship. A meeting of the state committee was called for Friday morning at the Sherman hotel following the Victory fund dinner Thursday at the Stevens hotel.

JOHN F. ARCHBOLD'S ESTATE $14,097,597 BY TAX APPRAISAL

New York, Jan. 12.—[Special.]—John F. Archbold, son of the late former head of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, left a gross estate of $15,176,761 and a net estate of $14,097,597, a tax appraisal filed here today releaved.

Mr. Archbold died Jan. 5, 1930, at Thomasville, Ga. He was 52.

Except for one minor bequest, the entire estate was left to the widow and three children. Mrs. Archbold, the former Miss May Barron of New York, was left $4,689,546 outright and also was given household and personal effects value at $23,957.

Mr. Archbold's sons, Richard and Adrian, and his daughter, Miss Frances May Archbold, were each left a life estate of $250,000 and a temporary life estate in $2,876,364, payable in three equal installments at the ages of 21, 25, and 30.

The chief assets of the estate were stocks and bonds valued at $14,925,301.

27 NORTH DAKOTA COUNTIES SOLID FOR ROOSEVELT

Valley City, N. D., Jan. 12.—(AP)—Endorsement of Franklin D. Roosevelt by the North Dakota Democratic state convention as the party's candidate for President was regarded as almost certain here tonight by party officials.

H. H. Perry of Ellendale, chairman of the state Democratic committee, said reports of county Democratic conventions from 27 of the state's 53 counties showed unanimous endorsement of Roosevelt.

The state central committee will meet tomorrow to prepare for the state convention Thursday when the party's candidate will be selected to be entered in the North Dakota presidential preference primary March 15.

AUTO MEN CHEER PLEA FOR BRAKES ON BUREAUCRACY

Business Editor Cites Mounting Cost.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 12.—[Special.]—Governmental bureaucracy, with its mounting cost to the taxpayers, was denounced tonight in an address before the annual banquet of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce by Merle Thorpe, editor of Nation's Business Magazine. There was applause from 1,200 leaders in the motor car industry, assembled for the national automobile show.

"The growing paternalism," said the speaker, "is surely whittling away all freedom of action of individuals and of business. We are following progressively under the shadow of political administration. It is a real danger.

"The mounting cost of government is rising with increased and alarming speed. Each year more activities are being turned over to bureaus, boards, and commissions."

To Demand Pledges.

Mr. Thorpe declared that the emergency justifies a demand upon officials to take the following three pledges:

1. All government property now being used for nongovernmental purposes be sold to the highest bidder.

2. The various multitudinous and multifarious services that the paternal government is now wishing upon its citizens be "cut to the bone."

3. Regulatory bodies be returned to their proper sphere of activity, eliminating the needless and duplicated efforts of bureaus—state, local, and federal.

In connection with the first demand Mr. Thorpe said this would turn back to private initiative activities in more than 250 different fields, such as the operation of hotels, slaughter houses, ice cream plants, and homesite promotion.

Relative to the danger of federal administration of unemployment relief, the speaker reminded his audience that the downfall of Rome was not [illegible]ted when that city began [illegible] grain free to its inhabit[illegible] long before, when the [illegible]nment first began selling [illegible]ther commodities below [illegible]market price. England [illegible]another example of ex[illegible]ucracy.

Hopeful Signs.

[illegible]cauley, president of the [illegible] Automobile Chamber of C[illegible] and toastmaster at the ba[illegible]aid the attendance and sales at [illegible]annual motor car show are hopeful signs of an improvement in general business conditions this year.

"When the log jam of timidity and uncertainty breaks finally," he said, "there will be a sweet reward for those who have been watchfully waiting and industriously working for the harvest."

The automobile show will be held in Chicago from Jan. 30 to Feb. 6.

State Auditor Nelson Shows Cost of Bank Receivership

State Auditor Oscar Nelson yesterday made public statements of the condition of 20 closed banks as of Dec. 31. The statements show the gross cost of liquidation of the 20 banks has been less than 6 per cent and the net cost seven-tenths of one per cent of the total money collected by receivers.

The 20 banks, which were selected at random, represent a fair cross section of the liquidating costs in approximately 90 closed banks in Cook county, Auditor Nelson said. He pointed out that in all other classes of receiverships the receiver alone generally gets 5 per cent of the money collected exclusive of other charges.

Net Cost Put at $54,157.

The receivers of the 20 banks spent $278,858 in collecting $4,714,152. Against this they earned $224,701 in interest, salvage of legal costs and other items. The actual net cost of the receiverships was $54,157. Eight of the 20 closed banks showed an operating profit during the receiverships of $23,009.

The largest loss to the depositors thus far has been in the conversion of assets to cash. Auditor Nelson said that practically all of this loss has been due to the forced sale of bonds and other securities deposited in other banks as collateral for loans. In almost all cases, he said, the borrowing bank defaults on the loan and the bank holding the collateral sells at will.

Liquidation Costs Shown.

Bank—	Collections.	Expenses.	Receiver's earnings.

The costs in some cases are much heavier than in others and the cost in all banks is higher in the first six months after liquidation begins than at any other time, said Mr. Nelson. He added that the costs will average in the long run with little difference between the various banks on a ratio with funds collected.

At the same time Auditor Nelson gave out a report on the average holdings of depositors in 19 of the 20 banks. This follows:

Two Elgin Banks Close.

The Home National and the Home Trust and Savings banks of Elgin voluntarily closed yesterday afternoon. Both banks are housed in the same building. H. M. Blackburn is president and J. M. Hockett cashier of the Home National, and M. M. Cloudman is president and Charles E. Fairchild cashier of the Home Trust and Savings. In reports of last Sept. 29 the national bank showed deposits of $1,608,660 and the state bank $1,646,506.

Depositors of the Bank of Harvey and the First National Bank of Harvey, which closed on Monday, met in the Harvey theater at the call of Mayor Frank Bruggeman. More than 1,000 depositors of both banks pledged themselves to maintain their balances for a year if the banks reorganize or consolidate.

The Sheridan Trust Hearing.

Before Circuit Judge Michael Feinberg, who is seeking to uncover assets for the receiver of the defunct Sheridan Trust and Savings bank, Gerard W. Moore, 341 Sheridan road, Winnetka, turned over 400 shares in the 1064 Lawrence Avenue Building corporation to satisfy an indebtedness of $5,500. Moore said his interest in the building is valued at more than $15,000.

Israel Carr, owner of penny vending machines, said he will turn over his equity in a garage at 1800 Winnemac avenue against his indebtedness of $5,000. During the afternoon the judge questioned Mrs. Flora A. Rotert, 1033 Loyola avenue, who is being paid $200 a month by Victor J. Curto, a former director of the bank, and is the beneficiary of a $50,000 insurance policy taken out by him. She maintained Curto owes her $74,000.

HELD ON CHARGE OF EXTORTION IN MURDER CASE

Jack Hicks, 69 years old, who served two years on the police force in 1888 and 1889, was arrested last night and locked up at the detective bureau, charged with impersonating a prosecutor in an attempt to extort money from the father of a girl held in a murder case.

Last Friday Hicks went to John Royce, 4356 West Adams street, whose daughter, Marcella, is one of those held in connection with the slaying of Detective James Caplis in a holdup three weeks ago. He told Royce that he was an assistant state's attorney, and promised to free his daughter for $1,950, provided she left the city.

He visited Royce again on Saturday and arranged a third meeting for yesterday. Royce then went to Chief of Detectives Schoemaker and told him the story and Hicks was arrested.

Appeal to U. S. Engineers in Goose Island Caveins

The North Branch Industrial association, composed of owners of property along the north branch of the river, particularly in the vicinity of Goose island, has appealed to the army engineers' office because of cave-ins along the bank of the river. Lieut. Col. W. G. Caples of the engineers' office said yesterday that the last time the river was dredged at that point was in January and February of last year, and that all precautions had been taken. The Great Lakes Dredging company did the work, dredging to a depth of 21 feet.

FARMERS ASSAIL DAIRY COMPANIES AND MILK DRIVERS

Cost of Labor Blamed for High Price.

Chicago dairy companies and the milk wagon drivers' union were criticized by producers and consumers yesterday before the city council subcommittee headed by Ald. David L. Sutton [8th], which is investigating the price of milk in the city.

ALD. SUTTON.

W. C. McQueen, president of the pure Milk association, the organization of farmer milk producers in the Chicago area, submitted a long statement to the committee on the activities of the organization. He quoted figures on the prices paid farmers for milk and the retail price in Chicago, showing that while the price paid the producers has been cut 24.8 per cent since 1930—from $2.67 to $2.01 per hundred pounds of milk—the consumers have benefited by only a 14.3 per cent reduction, the retail price having been cut from 14 to 12 cents a quart.

"The fact that two successive reductions in the price of milk have almost entirely been passed on to the dairy farmers should be given serious consideration by your committee in any conclusions as to the right retail price of milk," Mr. McQueen said.

Blames High Labor Cost.

"The excess price paid for labor is the main cause of high prices," the committee was told by William A. Hamilton, 1019 Ainslie street, who classified himself as a consumer and said he had taken part in investigations of milk prices by various universities.

"The drivers' union dues were recently raised from $6 to $10 a month. The union has 7,200 members, of whom 6,700 are working, so the consumers are paying $67,000 a month into the union treasury. In 1918, when producers were paid $3.50 a hundred pounds for milk, the price to the consumer was the same as it is now, 12 cents a quart, but the producer gets only $2.01 a hundred pounds today."

Elmer E. Stevens of Aurora, a statistician, testified that a survey of cities in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, and Wisconsin, made by himself, showed that in 77 of 110 cities covered, milk costs at least 2 cents a quart less than it does in Chicago.

Company Profit 2 Mills.

F. H. Kullman, vice president of the Bowman Dairy company, told Ald. Sutton that the company's profit on a quart of milk at present is approximately 2 mills.

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the board of health, told the committee that while health department requirements for milk delivered in Chicago may have increased the price somewhat, the city's safe milk supply must be given part of the credit for the fact that Chicago has the lowest typhoid death rate in the country.

James C. Kennedy, head of the milk wagon drivers' union, defended the present wages paid the drivers.

"Sure, you can get cheaper drivers," he said. "You can also elect aldermen in overalls, but you won't get the same service."

Fifteen hundred general chairmen representing the union railway workers of the country met yesterday in the Palmer house in 21 groups to prepare for the conference opening tomorrow between the union leaders and a committee of railroad presidents.

The 21 railway brotherhoods in their separate meetings received reports from the general chairmen showing to what extent they have received authority from the rank and file to negotiate with the railway presidents on questions involving a proposed wage cut and improvements in working conditions.

Reports from some of the meetings indicated that except in some minor instances the authority given will extend over practically all of the union forces, and that whatever decision is reached in the plenary conference opening tomorrow will be binding upon railway labor forces generally.

Others Must Follow, View.

Even in the few cases where authority has not been given it is considered certain that the men concerned will be compelled to bow to the will of the large majority, for the railroads are certain to apply the results of the conference generally.

George M. Harrison, grand president of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express and Station employés, announced that he had been delegated with full authority from all of his local lodges, and he will be acting in the conference for 226,000 employés.

Firemen Grant Authority.

David B. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, said that two-thirds of his chairmen had been canvassed and that the authority delegated was "practically unanimous." M. S. Warfield, president of the Order of Sleeping Car Conductors, said he had unanimous authority from 3,000 members of his union.

Mr. Robertson, who is chairman of the Railway Labor Executives' association, said that the results of yesterday's tabulations would be combined at a meeting of the association this morning, when the full strength of the union leaders in their negotiations will be made public.

Mine Employing 400 Men Resumes on Part Time

Marion, Ill., Jan. 12.—(AP)—Franco mine No. 1 of the Cosgrove Bameehan Coal company has resumed operations after a shutdown since last June. Four hundred employés will be given part time work.

BAPTISTS GIVEN USE OF CITY HALL OVER WRESTLERS

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 12.—(AP)—Judge E. E. Pomeroy of Fulton county Superior court today granted delegates to the convention of the Southeastern Baptist Young People's union convention preference over the promoter of a wrestling match in the use of the city auditorium.

Henry Weber, promoter of a match between "Blue Sun" Jennings and Floyd Marshall, claimed he had hired the hall and paid for it and pointed out that the Baptists would suffer no financial loss if they were unable to use the auditorium while he stood to lose a large sum of money if unable to carry on with his show.

"What . . . my LIPS Look PAINTED!"

"I COULD have killed Tom for saying that . . . but afterward . . . I saw just what he meant by painted lips . . ."

Don't be too sure that you yourself don't offend by over make-up! Colors that look pretty by themselves may be cheap—garish—tawdry on your lips. And that painted look is one thing no man can stand.

Be safe. Stop using ordinary lipstick—begin now to Tangee your lips. Tangee can't make you look painted. It isn't paint. It changes on your lips—matches your own individual complexion. It brings you new loveliness and charm.

9 YEAR OLD BOY PICKET IN INDIA SENT TO PRISON

Britain Threatens Lash if He Disobeys Orders.

BOMBAY, India, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Krishna Kant, 9 years old, was sentenced to four years in the state reformatory today as a Nationalist picket. He stood outside a store which sells British goods and asked shoppers to buy only Indian articles.

"If you disobey orders in the reformatory you'll be whipped," the magistrate told him.

"I'm ready to die for Gandhi," the boy replied.

Mob Burns Foreign Cloth.

A bonfire of foreign cloth burned tonight in Bombay as a symbol of the Indian Nationalists' boycott campaign for the country's independence.

For the first time since resumption of the civil disobedience movement volunteers of the Congress party made a house to house collection of the cloth in the Mandvi area and set fire to it in front of a large crowd which shouted boycott slogans.

Police dispersed the crowd and arrested five persons, but it was a considerable time before the fire died down.

Murder Trial Collapses.

In another quarter of Bombay two policemen and 16 civilians were injured when police dispersed a meeting of Nationalists at Chowpatti Sands, along the seashore. Forty men and women were arrested.

At Calcutta a government case against Bimal Das Gupta, Bengal youth on trial for the alleged murder of James Peddie, district magistrate at Midnapur last April, collapsed.

The advocate general at Calcutta expressed confidence as to the outcome of the trial before lunch, but when court reconvened his three supposed eyewitnesses of the crime—boys aged 12, 15 and 17 years—testified they were not present at the time the magistrate was shot and did not even know the accused youth.

50 Injured by Police Charge.

There was a widespread belief that the witnesses' surprising statements were a direct consequence of the recent slaying of the only witness for the prosecution in another case against a Nationalist sympathizer.

Fifty persons were hurt and 30 women arrested at Ahmadabad when mounted police charged a meeting of several hundred Nationalists in the dry bed of the Sabarmati river.

The demonstrations there and in Bombay, where howling natives fought back when police charged in with their long sticks and later paraded past the police station shouting taunts, indicating that the Nationalists were in a mood to force the hand of the police.

Dr. C. B. Plattenburg, 87 years old, the only one of the members of the famous Columbia post, G. A. R., who attended yesterday's meeting in the Capitol building, pinning badge upon Mrs. Elsie F. Graham, president elect of the woman's auxiliary of the post. Mrs. Mary M. Petersen, president of the auxiliary, is the third person in the picture. Two of the three surviving members of the post—Frank Steiskal, commander, and W. H. Davis—were unable to attend because of illness.

Three Other Survivors

Back in the days when Columbia post 706 of the G. A. R. had a crack drill team Dr. Cyrus B. Plattenburg was lieutenant and drill master. Yesterday Dr. Plattenburg, 87 years old, who lives at 360 East Garfield boulevard, sat alone at the annual meeting of his post in Oriental hall of the Capitol building while members of the Women's Relief Corps carried on the business of the post.

But Plattenburg stoutly maintained that it was not the final meeting. For there are three surviving members of the post besides himself, even though one of those is among the missing. No one can be found who knows the whereabouts of L. C. Mitchell. W. H. Davis, 89 years old, suffered a broken hip lately and is recuperating at his home at 1121 East 42d place, and Frank Steiskal, 90 years old, was not able to attend yesterday's gathering.

BRITAIN PLEDGES BURMA "LIBERTY" BY EVOLUTION

And She Must Separate from India First.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 12.—The Burmese round table conference closed today and Prime Minister MacDonald in his final statement told the Burmese what they will get—if they behave themselves.

Mr. MacDonald pledged Burma a responsible government by the evolutionary process, but warned the delegates they must not expect too much at once.

Separation from India.

Then he read a statement of the British government, the gist of which was that Burma will be granted separation from India if she wants it, and that Burma could have everything that India will get when the time comes, or e on before.

The statement, however, stressed that Burma must ask for it. It was suggested that the national Burmese election, scheduled for next year, be held earlier with the separation of Burma from India and a new constitution as the main issues. The details of the plan for a new Burmese constitution are considered too technical for even the Burmese to understand at present, but so far as can be summarized it grants them self-government in the ordinary details of administration, but retains the veto power for the governor. He is nominated by the crown. The veto power will be used in such matters as finance, defense, law and order, and in protecting the rights of the minorities.

When MacDonald had finished, U Ba Pe, a leader of the Burmese liberals, said that he could not criticize the statement until after he had made a detailed study of it. But he strongly protested against the implication in the prime minister's speech that the Burmese were not yet ready for self-government. The fitness for self-government, he said, is a matter of opinion, and he pointed out that the Burmese were a great power in the east until 46 years ago when they were conquered by Great Britain.

Note the Right Note.

"Why, then, should Burma not be able to run her own affairs again if she were allowed to do so?" he asked.

Evidently this was not considered as the right note to end the conference with, so Sir Oscar de Glanville, representing the British officials of Burma, arose and offered thanks to the British government and promised coöperation.

Tharawaddy U. Pu, the enfant terrible at the conference, who represents the extreme independence party, attempted to get to his feet at this point, but his neighbors pulled him down and the conference closed on a note of harmony.

Irish to Dicker with British for Trade Monopoly Today

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 12.—The first step in the campaign to make the British empire a self-contained economic unit takes place in London tomorrow.

Patrick McGilligan, Irish minister of external affairs and commerce, and Patrick Hogan, minister of agriculture, will meet Walter Runciman, president of the British board of trade, to discuss reciprocal tariff arrangements between the Irish Free State and England.

The Free State is one of England's best customers and England is the Free State's best. Last year the Irish Free State sent to England about $182,000,000 worth of goods and took $197,500,000 worth of goods in return.

The Irish ministers believe that if a worthwhile preference is granted, Ireland can increase the production of food destined for Great Britain 50 per cent, which, it is said, would mean a high standard of prosperity for the Irish peasant. They contend that if the Irish farmer prospers he will buy more British goods.

At the present time there is the usual empire preference of 5 per cent between Ireland and England, but both sides are willing to increase it so as to give each a practical monopoly of the other's trade.

Figures of the board of trade released today show a drop of about $905,000,000 in both imports and exports last year below those of 1930, while steep declines are reported in comparison with last month's figures and those of December, 1930. The only upward trend is a slight lift in December's exports over those of last November.

Imports last year were valued at $4,310,773,545. It is a decrease of about $905,000,000 in comparison with 1930. Exports for the same period were valued at $1,945,819,000, a slump of $907,950,000 below the previous year. Although the declines in the two classes are almost identical in comparison, the December figures show the imports fell faster than exports at the close of the year.

The imports showed a decrease of $63,150,000 and exports a decrease of $31,400,000 in comparison with December, 1930.

The chief items showing decreases in imports during the year were raw cotton, nearly $90,000,000 in meat, and about the same sum in flour. The decrease in grain imports was $85,000,000. Imports of timber also dropped.

Every item on the export list showed a decrease for the year. Cotton yard products shrank $154,000,950; vehicles, including locomotives, ships, and aircraft, $112,870,000; iron and steel products, more than $100,000,000, and coal, $55,000,000.

East Indian Isle Almost Destroyed by 54 Quakes

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

THE HAGUE, Jan. 12.—A dispatch from Batavia, Java, states that the Dutch East Indian island of Sumba, known also as Sandalwood island, was almost entirely destroyed by 54 earthquakes. Raging floods followed, tearing out bridges and roads and cutting off telegraphic communications. Hundreds of natives were believed to have been drowned.

HOTEL CLERK IS ROBBED.

A robber forced Clifford Rogers, night clerk of the Gaylord apartment hotel at 5316 Dorchester avenue, to hand over $100 from the cash drawer early yesterday.

Free Chemist in Killing of Wife and Daughter

William R. Gibson Jr., Gary chemist, was freed yesterday after the Lake county, Indiana, grand jury had voted no bills on charges of murder against him in connection with the death of his wife and 7 year old daughter. Gibson returned from a party early on Jan. 3 and found his daughter, Margaret, shot to death, and his wife dying. A maid told police that Mrs. Gibson had told her, "You won't see me again," when she left the house the evening before.

BRITISH SET UP RECORD IN RUSH TO PAY TAXES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 12.—The British taxpayers' rush to pay taxes due since New Year's day has set up a record for January. The total revenue for the first nine days of the month amounts to £39,553,155 sterling against £30,776,503 sterling for the first ten days of 1930. (Before Great Britain went off the gold standard the par value of the pound sterling was $4.86. Today the pound sterling is quoted at $3.42.)

The bulk of the January revenue is accounted for by income tax payments, totaling £21,353,000, compared to £11,770,000 last year. The receipts from the surtax to Jan. 9 were £7,670,000 against £5,590,000 in 1930. Thus nearly ten million pounds more were received than in the corresponding period a year ago, according to the treasury returns. The rush in payments made the total exchequer receipts on Jan. 9 £3,708,000 greater than the same date last year.

The income tax now being collected is three-fourths of the total assessment for the year, instead of the customary half, and includes an increase of six pence in the pound. By the reduction of the exemption limit under former Chancellor Snowden's budget, the number of citizens liable to the income tax was also greatly increased.

Commerce Body Reopens Hearings on Gas Rates

The Illinois commerce commission yesterday reopened its hearing on the rate schedule for a mixture of natural and manufactured gas filed by the People's Gas, Light and Coke company. R. W. Gallagher, president of the East Ohio company and a director of the Natural Gas Pipe Line company of America, testified for the gas company. He was questioned by Assistant Corporation Counsel Joseph F. Crossman as to the amount of gas lost through leakage.

ORDER ENTERED HOLDING FACTOR FOR EXTRADITION

United States Commissioner Walker metered the formal order yesterday holding John [Jake the Barber] Factor for extradition to England for trial on charges of selling worthless African mining stocks. The amount of his alleged swindle of British investors has been placed as high as $7,000,000.

At the same time Factor was ordered committed to the De Kalb county jail at Sycamore. His attorney, G. Gale Gilbert, went before Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward, however, with a petition for a writ of habeas corpus. Then, by agreement of counsel, it was arranged that Factor will remain in the custody of deputy marshals, free to come and go as he pleases as long as the government men are at his side. He will thus escape jail at least until Friday when Judge Woodward will hear arguments on the defense petition.

The defense contends that no evidence was presented before Commissioner Walker to prove that Factor received money, and that the offense charged against him in England is not punishable by imprisonment in the state of Illinois.

WARN CLEANERS TERRORISM IS PERILING TRADE

Two Capone Men Sought in Racket Murder.

Alpert, who owned the building in which the work was done.

"I was called and told," Alpert said, "that unless I got out they would see that I was damaged $2 for every dollar I took in."

Neither Rosenberg nor Alpert chose to be intimidated by the hoodlums and as a result they were the victims of several attacks in which acid was sprayed on garments and damage running into thousands of dollars was done.

The International concern entered the Cleaners and Dyers' institute last summer, but withdrew a few months later. The institute, through Dr. Squires, issued a statement to the effect that this concern was a notorious price cutter and that no efforts would be made to retain it as a member.

Also the institute disavowed all connection with or approval of the vandalism that has been directed against independent cleaners—scores of them—in the last six months.

Two reports which reached the state's attorney's office about the institute were denied yesterday. One was that Becker, who introduced Capone and his gang to the industry, had been a director of the institute for a time and had withdrawn. Another was that the members were growing dissatisfied because independents managed to get a large share of the business.

Harscher Denies Reports.

Frank Harscher, executive director of the institute, said that Becker had never been a member and that no members were dropping out. They are all paying their dues, he declared. The members are required to pay to the central body 2 per cent of their gross receipts.

Meanwhile Dr. Squires, Harscher's chief, is in Florida. Prosecutor Dufficy said that efforts to communicate with him had failed.

"I hope that Dr. Squires will return," Mr. Dufficy said, "and aid in restoring order in the industry. Certainly it needs leadership."

Rosenberg, in his pamphlet, had attacked the leadership of Dr. Squires and Harscher, asserting that the industry needed no dictation or price fixing, but just simple horse sense and efficiency.

Story of the Institute.

There were hopes, widespread, that when the institute was formed with Dr. Squires as its head, the chaos that had prevailed would be ended, instead of growing worse, as it has in the last few months. He had been called in to succeed Clayton Patterson, who was brought here by the Association of Commerce, but who had failed to get coöperation of union officials and members of the Master Cleaners and Dyers.

There was a lockout when Patterson retired and Dr. Squires stepped in. He settled the lockout and formed the institute. This was in December, 1930. He drew up a contract by which the cleaners each agreed, in the event of violation, to permit Dr. Squires, virtually the czar of their industry in Chicago, to appoint submanagers and carry on the affairs of such concerns without interference. Pay scales and prices were agreed on.

Start with High Hopes.

This promised to clean up the industry. Seemingly it did for a time. It is even possible, it was aid by observers, that the institute would have continued to function smoothly and keep down all disorders had not the Capone hoodlums bored into concerns outside the big organization and used their characteristic methods to handle recalcitrant cleaners.

Dr. Squires is 41 years old, married, and the father of three children. His home is at 7315 South Shore drive. During the war he was a federal employé with the title of commissioner of conciliation. In 1921 he became chairman of the trade board of the Chicago men's clothing industry and was credited with formulating the employment policy now followed by the needlework trades.

He became associated with the University of Chicago as a lecturer in 1924 and was made executive secretary of the governor's commission on unemployment relief in 1930.

Assails Entry of Lawless.

Gordon L. Hostetter, executive director of the Employers association, who has made many studies of vandalism in the cleaning business, strongly condemned the industry for letting lawless elements creep in.

"This Frankenstein set up by business men and labor leaders," he said, "this use of hoodlums to destroy competitors' business, now threatens to take over the industry. Officials should realize that this is a menace to the future of the city and should act accordingly."

Prosecutor Dufficy promised a determined effort to run down the killers of Rosenberg, and will question three union officials today. One of these is James Gorman, head of three unions of inside employés of the cleaning plants.

BARBERS DEBATE PRICES SET BY DR. B. M. SQUIRES

Master barbers of Chicago met last night at the Sherman hotel to consider the new scale of prices for barber service recently set by Dr. B. M. Squires as arbitrator. A majority of the barbers said they would adopt the minimum price of 50 cents for haircuts for men and women set by the arbitrator. The minimum price for children's haircuts under the new scale is 25 cents and for shaves 25 cents.

Since no maximum price was mentioned in the new scale, the barbers may set any price they want. Two south side locals of the Association of Master Barbers, representing about 300 barbers, said they would retain the old price of 60 cents for men and women's haircuts and 35 cents for children's haircuts and shaves.

Evanston barbers met last night and agreed not to reduce prices until they see what effect upon business the slashing of prices by barbers on the north side of Chicago may have.

NAVY WILL TURN MASSIE OVER TO HAWAIIAN COURT

lulu have reached a stage where it is no longer safe for women to appear unescorted in public or for United States naval officers and enlisted men to mingle with the population because of alleged intensity of hostile feelings towards the service on the part of a large element of the Honolulu population. These charges the governor declared to be false, and he is ready, he said, to prove his case by documentary and other evidence.

URGE SPECIAL SESSION

BY CLIFFORD GESSLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HONOLULU, Jan. 12.—Gov. Lawrence Judd announced late today that he will decide on calling a special session of the Hawaiian legislature to "act in matters to be brought to the attention" of the lawmakers next Tuesday. He indicated that he is almost certain to call the meeting.

The governor made this statement after a special territorial legislative committee had recommended the legislators meet to remedy the crime situation in Honolulu by reorganizing the police administration.

Will Act on Police Bill.

If the session is called it is expected that its first business will be to act on a bill for the creation of a federal police commission and an appointive chief of police to replace the present elective sheriff.

Added incentive for a special legislative session was furnished later in the day by the Honolulu chamber of commerce, which appointed a committee, headed by Walter Willingham, president of the Oahu railway, to call on Gov. Judd to demand that the police administration be divorced from politics.

Meanwhile civil authorities speeded plans for the prosecution of Lieut. Thomas H. Massie, his mother-in-law, Mrs. Granville Fortescue, society matron, and two sailors for the abduction and killing of Joseph Kahahawai, a young Hawaiian, accused of raping the naval officer's wife.

"We will be ready for trial within a week after the indictment is returned," Montgomery Winn, one of the defense counsel said. "The only delay we urge is that a reasonable time be allowed for Maj. Fortescue, who is ill in New York, to recover and reach Hawaii to be with his wife during the trial. Mrs. Fortescue is continually in tears. She is worrying over the condition of her husband."

The grand jury is expected to return an indictment against the quartet on Friday.

Gobs Behave in Honolulu.

With shore liberty restored to enlisted men of the army and navy, last night passed without a single disturbance and Honolulu today was quieter than it has been since last Friday's abduction and murder. The only disorderly incident occurred when sailors in civilian clothes appeared at the territorial prison arm in arm, singing "Sweet Adeline" and demanding admittance.

Shore patrols of military and naval police coöperated with civilian police to insure order. They rode in police patrol cars with the city's officers. Most of the soldiers who visited the city were dressed in civilian clothes.

In one taxi-dance hall about twenty sailors were dancing with Filipino and other brown skinned girls. The streets were almost deserted.

EVANSTON CHIEF WARNS GARAGE MEN OF ABLIN

Police Chief W. O. Freeman of Evanston called forty-five owners of garages in the suburb to the police station yesterday, following reports that Dave [Cockeye Mulligan] Ablin was trying to organize them as members of the Chicago Public Garage Owners' association.

Chief Freeman assured the garage men that any of them who refuse to join the association will be given police protection against intimidation or hoodlumism. He introduced Walter Walker, attorney for the Employers' association of Chicago, who told the group of Ablin's previous record as a racketeer.

WITNESS LINKS CAPONE HOODLUM TO BOOZE RING

Tony Cinquinna, one of Al Capone's loyal alcohol cookers, was linked in the alleged middle west booze conspiracy on trial before Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley yesterday. The conspiracy is said to have stretched out over four states, with the alleged ring manufacturing and distributing 4,000,000 gallons of alcohol, on which, government agents say, Al Capone levied tribute.

Cinquinna, one of the 49 individual defendants [there are two corporations on trial] was identified by Lord Agnew, a railway clerk from Agnew, Ill., as the leader of a gang which trucked three carloads of sugar away from the station. Art Cooper, who has been identified as one of the operators of a huge still in Whiteside county, paid the freight charges on the sugar, which had come from Chicago, according to Agnew, and gave instructions for it to be stored until Cinquinna should call for it.

The government yesterday sought for the first time to place Thomas J. Harrigan Jr., Oak Park and Chicago automobile dealer, in the picture of the conspiracy. Jack Marties, former employé in the Harrigan sales establishment at 4631 West Madison street, told of seeing Harrigan confer with Cooper after the raid on the Whiteside county still, after which Cooper is alleged to have come to Chicago.

Marties said Harrigan later told him the repair section of the establishment on the second floor was rented and that his services as a mechanic would no longer be required. A huge still was found on the second floor, and after the raid in July of last year Harrigan gave Marties $20 with which to "get out of town," the witness said.

Youth Confesses $30,000 Threat Letter to Banker

Dominic Zito, 18 years old, was seized by police yesterday and confessed that he had written a letter to Henry W. Austin, 1022 Lake street, Oak Park, chairman of the board of the Oak Park Trust and Savings bank, threatening the banker with death unless he paid $30,000. Zito signed his own name to the letter and wrote the address of the barber shop in which he works at 3210 Sheffield avenue.

SWEDEN TO CUT LAWMAKERS' PAY AND BOOST TAXES

Parliament Opened with Disarm Plea.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Members of the Swedish parliament were asked to take a pay cut of seven kroner ($1.34) a day under the budget submitted at the opening session today. The present rate of pay is 32 kroner ($6.12) and for members of the lower house 24 kroner ($4.59) up to a certain stipulated maximum.

In a speech from the throne, King Gustav said Sweden would work for general reduction of armaments at the Geneva conference next month. The budget, he said, showed a considerable reduction from last year. He also foreshadowed important economic negotiations with other countries.

Taxes to Be Increased.

The budget was reduced from 873,000,000 kroner [$167,179,500] to 822,000,000 kroner [$157,413,000] and a deficit of 74,000,000 kroner [$14,171,000] remained to be met by new revenue.

A slight increase in the income tax, increases in the duties on tobacco, gasoline, alcohol and malt, and new import duties on luxury goods were expected to make up most of the deficit. It was expected that imported automobiles would be included in the luxury category.

Other than the request that members of the Riksdag take a pay cut of seven kronor a day, no general cuts in wages or state salaries was contemplated.

The minister of finance commented upon what he called the great resistance that Swedish economic life had shown against the depression and the fact that the interior purchasing power of the Swedish krona had not decreased since Sweden went off the gold standard.

No New Taxes in Norway.

OSLO, Norway, Jan. 12.—(AP)—King Haakon opened the Norwegian parliament today with an address in which he emphasized the increase in the number of unemployed in this country and the consequences of international economic conditions.

A bill for further relief of unemployment and an international agreement to further measures for the prevention of war, signed by Norway, will be introduced. The government's budget proposals include no new taxation except a slight increase in the tax on petrol and rubber tires.

Village Treasurer Held on U. S. Dry Charge

Duluth, Minn., Jan. 12.—(AP)—Joseph Kervina, 22, village treasurer of Oliver, Wis., was held in jail at Duluth today on a charge of manufacturing liquor. He was ordered held in default of $2,000 bail.

COMFORT for COLICKY BABIES

with Castoria's gentle regulation

"The best way to cure colic," says a famous doctor, "is to prevent it." And the best way to prevent it is to avoid gas in stomach and bowels by keeping the entire intestinal tract open, free from waste.

But there's one thing to remember here. A tiny baby's tender organs cannot stand harsh treatment. They must be gently urged.

This is just the place Castoria comes to a mother's aid. Castoria, you know, is made specially for the delicate needs of babies and children. It is a pure vegetable preparation which is absolutely harmless. It contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics.

Children never fight Castoria. They like its taste and the relaxed comfort its gentle regulation brings.

For many years it has helped mothers through trying ordeals with colicky babies, with children suffering from digestive upsets, colds and other little ailments. Keep it on hand for your children. You can always tell genuine Castoria by the name Chas. H. Fletcher.

◆ Vitality Gone? ◆ Doctors Advise Fresh Yeast ◆

© 1932, Standard Brands Incorporated

What's become of your "PEP"?

Gone stale? Man, snap out of it!

If you're feeling under par, just stop to ask yourself a question your own doctor would ask. Are you as "regular" as you should be?

Now as it happens, very few of us can answer that question satisfactorily. We lack exercise, overindulge, neglect important body habits. And as a result, our intestines grow weak. We suffer from Intestinal Fatigue.

A food, Fleischmann's Yeast possesses certain astonishing properties. It mingles with the waste masses that clog the intestines, softening them. At the same time it actually strengthens the muscles that control evacuation.

Thus poison-breeding accumulations in the system are promptly passed off. Digestive secretion revives. And when that happens we soon get back our old "pep."

Just eat Fleischmann's Yeast following the directions on the label—3 cakes a day. It's rich in three vitamins, B, G and D. At grocers, restaurants, and soda fountains.

IMPORTANT—Fleischmann's Yeast for health comes only in the foil-wrapped cake with the yellow label. It's yeast in its fresh, effective form—the kind famous doctors advise!

FOLLOW THESE SIMPLE RULES:

1. Each day for 36 consecutive days (except Sundays) the Chicago Daily Tribune will print a Washington Bi-Centennial Crossword Puzzle. In each puzzle an historic event in Washington's life will be named. You are invited to solve the puzzle and name the event.

2. The Chicago Tribune will pay $5,000.00 in Cash Prizes to the persons who send in the nearest correctly solved complete sets of puzzles in accordance with these rules. Note: This means that you do not necessarily have to solve each of the 36 puzzles correctly to win. The prizes will be paid to the persons whose entries rank highest.

3. This offer is open to everyone—men, women, boys and girls—except employes of the Chicago Tribune and their families. You pay nothing. Just prove your skill.

4. Puzzles are to be submitted only in complete sets. Do NOT send in each puzzle separately. Hold all puzzles until you have the complete set of 36. Then send them to "Crosswords," Chicago Tribune, Postoffice Box 1539, Chicago, Illinois. All entries must be in by midnight 15 days after Puzzle No. 36 has been printed.

5. Each entry must be sent by First Class Mail, postage prepaid. Entries with insufficient postage will be returned by the Postoffice Department. Make your entry simple and neat. Neatness will count.

6. You need not buy the Chicago Tribune. You may copy or trace the puzzles and send them in. The Chicago Tribune may be examined at any of its offices or at Public Libraries free of charge.

7. Judges will be appointed by the Chicago Tribune. Their decision will be final. In case of ties a duplicate award will be paid to each tying contestant.

8. The prizes are as follows:

TAX TO GET CROP SURPLUS, THEN TO GET RID OF IT

Another Paternalistic Feat of Government.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—If the claims of accomplishment of the department of agriculture are not greatly exaggerated, it would appear that one important result of Uncle Sam's paternalistic activities has been those crop surpluses which are now said to be ruining the farmer.

How they are ruining the taxpayer is only beginning to be perceived. The taxpayers shell out 333 millions of dollars a year, at the present rate of expenditure, for the operations of the department of agriculture, which result in crop surpluses so ruinous to the farmers that the taxpayers must shell out 500 millions more to enable the new two million dollar farm board to remove the surpluses from the market.

Whether the farm board can dispose of the surpluses as fast as the department of agriculture produces them is a matter that will be tested exhaustively—that is, provided the taxpayers' money holds out.

Plant Industry Fostered.

The bureau of plant industry, with 2,300 scientists and other employés, costing $5,620,000 this year, is largely responsible, according to its own account, for enhancing the quality and quantity of almost every product of the soil. Every year for decades the bureau has reported the successful issue of experiments in increasing the yield of the soil.

To go back no farther than the last fiscal year one learns that the bureau's corn breeding program produced varieties yielding an additional 8.7 bushels an acre. New high yielding spring and winter wheat hybrids also have been produced. A cross of varieties of oats "has outyielded practically all other early varieties." New rice hybrids "are producing higher average yields than the standard early maturing varieties now grown in California."

Barberry Rust an Example.

The bureau reports that progress made in eliminating the common barberry which spread stem rust has resulted in reducing the average annual wheat loss from this cause from 57 million bushels between 1916 and 1920 to 10 millions between 1926 and 1930. In the central states, 18,300,000 barberry bushes have been destroyed under supervision of the central government. There is a growing demand that the government retire from this activty, one senator asserting "there is no longer any need for Washington to wet nurse the states in this work."

One problem that has pretty nearly stumped the bureau is that of saving the mushroom industry now that automobiles have supplanted horses. According to its annual report, although the bureau's "experiments have already indicated a way to grow mushrooms on a commercial scale without horse manure, thus insuring the perpetuation of the mushroom industry even if the supply of horse manure should disappear, the artificial manure on the average does not yield so many mushrooms as well composted horse manure. This line of investigation is being continued to develop more satisfactory composts."

Improving Color of Oranges.

The bureau is also endeavoring to develop a better method of coloring oranges artificially than that resorted to in Florida for making green colored oranges red. It thinks the most satisfactory method is to gas the oranges by the "trickle" instead of the "shot" system.

Various ways have been found by the bureau specialists to enhance the quality or increase the yield of sugar beets, cotton, timothy, alfalfa, flax, tomatoes, potatoes, cabbage, lettuce, pecans, peaches, dates, apples, citrus fruits and a multitude of other products. It sent scientists to Japan and China to study the soy bean. It is striving to stop the downy mildew which threatens the destruction of the hop crop of the Pacific northwest.

One branch of activity is devoted to the development of crocus, daffodil, narcissus and other bulb culture.

The bureau also expends much time and money on the solution of the problem of growing crops in the dry farming regions and on irrigated lands, the products of which have increased surpluses to such an extent that secretaries of agriculture for some time have been advocating a curtailment of reclamation.

Remapping the Soils.

The bureau of chemistry and soils, costing two millions a year, investigates questions bearing on the fertility of the soil. It mapped and described last year 28,530 square miles of soils in thirty states, Porto Rico and the Virgin islands, bringing its total mapping to 1,49,792 of the 3,026,789 square miles in the United States. At this rate, the bureau has 50 years' work ahead of it.

Use of the soil survey, says the bureau, has added "many millions of dollars to farm income in recent years." As examples, it cites the growth of the tobacco industry in Georgia, and the benefits derived from phosphatic fertilizers on western sugar beet soils, both of which increased yields. Bureau scientists are instructing sugar cane planters in the use of fertilizers. The strawberry growing districts of the south "have been enabled to increased their receipts by approximately $75 an acre by adopting new fertilizer practices recommended by the bureau."

The entire expense of all of these paternalistic activities of the central government is borne by the taxpayers. In no case is any part of the cost assessed upon the interests benefited.

For years the state of Illinois at Champaign-Urbana has been examining soils for Illinoisans. Other states have done likewise. This affords an example of duplication of effort, but Uncle Sam is going right ahead with it at the expense of the taxpayers.

Going Into the Kitchen.

The bureau reports important progress in the production of cane sirup of higher quality, more uniformly colored maple sirup, more brilliant honey, and more perfect sweet potatoes. It experimented in preserving fruit juices and pulps, in utilizing grapefruit by-products, in baking cakes with wheat germ, and making cookies of fish flour, in preserving eggs, in tanning hides, in preventing the deterioration of paper, in utilizing cornstalks, and in a bewildering variety of other acitivities.

To tell all about it the bureau added 74 new publications last year. "These," says the bureau, "included 52 soil survey reports, 7 technical bulletins, 3 circulars, 3 leaflets, 1 farmers' bulletin, and 8 articles in the journal of agricultural research.

WILL TEST DRY LAW ON BASIS WOMEN'S VOTE IS ILLEGAL

Cleveland, O., Jan. 12.—(AP)—The woman's vote on the eighteenth amendment will be grounds for an attack on its constitutionality in the federal court of appeals at Cincinnati.

William C. Klyne of Lorain, an attorney, charged in a demurrer filed in federal court today that 28 of the 36 states which ratified the amendment had universal suffrage. He contended the women had been authorized to vote under amendments to their state constitutions but not under federal amendment, and therefore could legally vote only on local or state issues.

The attorney will test his contentions in an appeal of the conviction of Frank Smith of Lorain in federal court today on a charge of selling liquor.

The case was not contested in open court, and Smith was sentenced to six months in the Stark county workhouse and fined $800 by Judge Samuel West.

LEGALIZE BEER, 3 CONGRESSMEN OF MIDWEST ASK

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—Three middle west representatives, one from Illinois, one from Michigan, and one from Ohio, today told a senate subcommittee that the return of 4 per cent (by volume) beer, which the bill of Senator Hiram Bingham [Rep., Conn.] seeks to legalize, is O. K. with them.

CHAS. F. KARCH.

Then they told why. Illinois stressed refinement and revenue; Michigan wanted to "smack down the ecclesiastical racketeers" on this side of the Canadian boundary; and Ohio lamented the American tourist trek to Canadian refreshment booths.

Representative Charles G. Karch, new Democrat from East St. Louis, Ill., identified Belleville, in his district as the wettest town in the United States in pre-prohibition days, with one saloon for every 200 people. But 90 per cent of these saloons, he explained, dispensed merely wine and beer.

Law Abiding Before Volstead.

"As a result," Representative Karch maintained, "it was a 100 per cent law abiding community. Ninety per cent of the male school teachers drank their beer, but Belleville had some of the best schools in the country. There was no gambling, no protitution, no young girl ever drank even beer."

The bootlegger's profit in his district, Representative Karch estimated, is about $500,000 a year. If the government would legalize the sale of beer through retail stores, he believes his district would raise between $30,000 and $400,000 a year in licenses.

Representative Robert Clancy [Rep., Mich.] looked over at Bishop James Cannon Jr. as he flung out these words:

"The Canadians don't understand how men like Bishop Cannon and Scott McBride can dictate to the President and government of the United States. We ought to smack down these ecclesiastical racketeers the way they do in England and in Sweden. Why, over in England they think so much of brewers they make them into barons."

Representative Wilbur White [Rep., O.] urged senate consideration of the fact that American tourists spend millions of dollars a year quenching their thirst in Canada when that money might be used advantageously in this country if beer were made legal.

Metcalf Defends Newspapers.

At the conclusion of the hearing Senator Jesse H. Metcalf [Rep., R. I.], chairman of the subcommittee, defended the press of the country against the charges made yesterday by Senator Smith W. Brookhart [Rep., Ia.] that it gave "outlandish and unreasonable publicity" to the wet side of prohibition.

"It should be thoroughly understood," Senator Metcalf announced, "that the witnesses presented thus far have been called by the proponents of this bill and the direct testimony has naturally all been in favor of it.

"It, therefore, is obvious that press reports largely must carry the side favoring legalization of beer. At a later date the opponents of this bill will be allotted time equal to that given the proponents."

Furnishes Club with Liquor.

Charges that Fred A. Bradley, collector of customs at Buffalo, N. Y., had furnished the Puritan club of Buffalo with liquor seized from rum runners and had stocked his own farm with such liquor, were made today by John W. Slacer before the senate finance subcommittee, which had met to hear protests against Bradley's reappointment.

Slacer, a former New York state assemblyman, declared that Bradley had "made himself a delivery boy to deliver liquor to the Puritan club," and asserted the club was the headquarters of "so-called alleged smugglers."

Bradley, he charged, "personally dumped seized liquor into the Niagara river, back of the Puritan club." Later Slacer said Bradley's friends in the club "would come out and reclaim the liquor."

"That in itself, if proven," Slacer declared, "should disqualify Bradley."

Slacer charged that "liquor which had been seized had been taken to Bradley's farm adjacent to Buffalo, instead of being destroyed." Slacer claimed he had several affidavits with him to support his charges.

Senator James E. Watson [Rep., Ind.], chairman of the subcommittee, asked Slacer if he had any personal animosity toward Bradley. Slacer replied that he had not, but added that Bradley had "double crossed" him after inducing him to run for the state assembly and for city commissioner.

Senator James Couzens [Rep., Mich.] and Walter F. George [Dem., Ga.] were the other members of the subcommittee.

New Jersey Senate Asks Convention to Kill Dry Act

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 12.—(AP)—The New Jersey senate, opening its 156th session today, adopted by a 14 to 5 vote a resolution requesting congress to call a constitutional convention for repeal of the eighteenth amendment and the return of liquor control to the states.

TRIAL OF GROCER IN LEAVITT RUM CASE AGAIN IS POSTPONED

Santa Monica, Cal., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—Trial of Cliff Dailey, grocer, jointly accused with Cornelius Leavitt, President Hoover's brother-in-law, on liquor possession charges here, was postponed for the third time today, trial being set for Feb. 11. The trial was postponed because of the illness of Police Judge Charles Spencer. Leavitt has already been tried and acquitted. Dailey demanded a separate trial. Leavitt was scheduled to testify against Dailey, his former friend, today and probably will be summoned as prosecution witness next month.

Leavitt and Dailey quarreled after the President's kinsman was arrested holding a burlap bag which contained 19 pints of liquor and told the arresting officers that Dailey had handed it to him. Dailey denied ever having seen the bag of liquor and said that he was not even in the store when Leavitt was arrested.

Your Customers wrote these 7 tests of advertising value

1 City and Suburban Circulation
2 Coverage of Purchasing Power
3 Home Delivered Circulation
4 Total Circulation
5 Retail Advertising Volume
6 General Advertising Volume
7 Classified Advertising Volume

SEVEN basic tests. Conclusive and reliable. Advertisers and consumers have recorded them for your guidance. You can safely apply them to get greatest value out of every dollar you spend in newspapers to cover the Chicago market.

It is of immediate importance to you that the Tribune sells more copies in Chicago and suburbs than does any other Chicago newspaper. 150,000 copies more.

Unless you are in the Tribune you are not selling your best in this great market; you are not meeting your competition adequately.

Secondary media won't give you the results which the Tribune produces. It won't get you the 32% more metropolitan readers which the Tribune gives.

It won't get you the kind of reader interest that carries over from Tribune news columns to Tribune advertising columns.

Interest that accounts for a Tribune home-delivered circulation far greater than that of all other Chicago newspapers combined.

That sells 128,000 more copies of the Tribune than any other Chicago newspaper in the city's 25 better residential districts. And 67% more in the rich suburban communities.

That has given the Tribune the most influential and responsive circulation in the entire Chicago territory.

Apply these four circulation tests—and the Tribune is first on your list.

Apply the three tests of advertising results. Again overwhelming evidence that the Tribune is the first newspaper in Chicago.

Retail advertisers placed 1,790,000 more lines of advertising in the Tribune in 1931 than in any other Chicago newspaper.

Classified advertisers placed 1,779,000 more lines in the Tribune than in any other Chicago newspaper.

The Tribune in 1931 carried 5,064,000 more lines of total advertising than any other Chicago paper carried.

No matter how much or how little you plan to spend in Chicago in 1932, you expect every dollar to do a job. Spend it, then, where you will get greatest value.

Seven basic checkpoints, set up by your customers, used by publishers themselves to appraise newspapers. The Tribune by this seven-point test gives you greater value than any other Chicago newspaper.

A Tribune representative will be glad to present further details if you wish. Ask to have him call.

Nine Communists Are Arraigned.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pineville, Ky., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—Kentucky's miners, all who could crowd into Judge George Van Beber's courtroom and hundreds outside, were fed with oratory today and pictures of a new world of peace and plenty under communism.

The stage was the preliminary hearing under the Kentucky criminal syndicalism law of the nine strike leaders and agitators sent here from New York by the National Miners' union, the International Labor Defense, and the Young Communist league to enlist the discontented miners under the red banner of social revolution. The defendants in today's proceedings upon whom the radical literature was found are Ann Barton, Margaret Fontaine, Clarina Michelson, Vincent Kamenavich, Vern Smith, Julia Parker, John Harvey, and Norma Martin, all well known in radical circles in New York and Chicago. There was another defendant, Mrs. Joe Weber, but she probably will be discharged, as the only evidence against her is that she was "hanging around with that crowd." Her husband jumped out of a second story window to evade the officers.

Attorney Allen Taub, the New York radical lawyer who was arrested on a technicality of the criminal syndicalism law soon after his arrival here, was not included in today's hearing. The state announced it would dispose of his case later. Taub took an active part on the defense side in today's procedings.

The hearing proceeded all day with no disorder, except for the wrangling of attorneys, five of whom appeared for the defendants. One of these was Attorney David Bentall of Chicago, a rosy cheeked, evangelistic type of speaker, who closed the proceedings this afternoon with a speech that could be heard from the open windows all over the courthouse square. More evidence and more speeches are on the program for tomorrow, but when the last word is said the little group of eastern radicals will in all probability go back to their stone cells in the jail here to await the action of the grand jury in February.

State Presents Evidence.

The young prosecutor, Walter B. Smith, presented all his evidence today and will have something to say tomorrow that will be more to Kentucky's liking than the defense pleas for communism today.

The defendants took the ground that while they had a perfect right to advocate revolution they were not doing so, but were here merely to feed the miners and help them. This is the very thing that the people here resent, this and the fomenting of strike trouble that is causing the merchants and mine owners to lose money.

Mr. Smith elected to leave Attorney Allen Taub out of the prosecution today, but said his case would be disposed of later.

Attorney N. R. Patterson, who represents the utilities, coal and other corporation, entered the case on the side of the prosecution today and had a tilt or two with the radicals.

He was asked the direct question by Mr. Bentall if he favored the right of labor to organize.

"Yes, I believe in their rights to organize, but I think the United Mine Workers ought to do it," was the reply.

J. A. Fluckey, district director of immigration, testified from the Fish committee report that the National Miners' union is affiliated with the communist party.

Hunt for Warrants in Vain.

There was a delay of an hour in the case when it was found that the warrants had been lost. They had last been seen in the hands of the defense, Judge Van Beber said, while he rummaged around his desk. New warrants were finally drawn.

Attorney Bentall started the proceedings by moving to quash the warrants on the ground that they had been drawn under an invalid law. Mr. Smith said it had been rumored that the criminal syndicalism law had been held invalid, but he had investigated and had found that section 7 only had been passed upon, and that the rest of the law was good.

"Read article 4 of the Kentucky constitution," said Mr. Bentall. This is entitled "rights inherent in the people—right of revolution."

Mr. Smith read it. It states that all power is inherent in the people and that they have an inalienable and indefeasible right to alter, reform or abolish their government in any form that they deem proper.

Attorney Stone argued that the criminal syndicalism law had been unconstitutional because its title was bad.

Taub Argues for Free Speech.

Attorney Taub came back to the bill of rights and invoked the same cause of the "right to write and comment freely" that was presented before the Court of Appeals last week by Newton D. Baker in the argument for a writ of prohibition in the News-Sentinel case.

"The right of revolution does not come from distant counties, or from New York, or even terrible Chicago," said Mr. Taub. "It is a right on which this government was founded. We respect the original revolutionists, Washington and Jefferson of Virginia. However, these defendants did not come here with guns, seeking revolution. They came with open hands, seeking to feed the starving miners of this county and in Harlan and to help them get a living wage. We come to give relief."

Mr. Smith went back a little further into history and told of the beginning of an international movement in Germany, about the time of the American revolution, which had for its aims the abolition of private property, the abolition of religion, patriotism, and the family. This, he said, was a social philosophy which found no root in this country, and the struggle of Washington was to found the present system.

An Answering Argument.

Attorney Patterson said:

"To tell me that the courts of Kentucky and the constitution intend that outsiders shall come in here for purpose of revolution is absurd. There is no law giving a group of men the right to get guns and destroy the government. Why don't you meet the issue?"

Attorney Taub objected to a conference which Attorney Patterson was having with the judge and wanted to know whether Patterson represented the prosecution. Mr. Patterson thereby appointed himself a member of the prosecution and took an active part in the case.

The agitators, it was shown by the evidence, had had two cars in which they had taken literature out among the mining camps. It was shown they had not received any food for the miners, but had received money every day by telegraph.

Radical Booklet Read.

One of the pamphlets put in evidence was an instruction sheet of the workers' self-defense committee, issued by the International Labor Defense. In this it is stated:

"The increasing militancy on the part of the working class will not be calmly viewed by the capitalistic class and by the agencies of the government which reflect and serve the interests of the exploiting class. On the contrary, the master class of America, calling to its aid the government and its various agencies and departments, executive, legislative, judicial, will use every means within its powers to stem the rising tide of struggle and militancy of the workers and by terror and oppression seek to crush it.

"The savage terror now raging all over the land in which workers are murdered, maimed, and jailed, and the wholesale application of criminal syndicalism laws, anti-alien laws, and other anti-labor legislation, proves this conclusively.

"It places an ever growing burden on the International Labor Defense, whose purpose is to mobilize mass protest in defense of class struggle victims. The workers must understand that courts are not impartial tribunals any more than any other agency of a capitalistic government is impartial. The worker has been dragged into court. Those who have dragged him into court have done so because they know that institution will serve the bosses, not the worker."

Urges Violent Revolution.

"As in past history, so at present, the masses of workers will be fully justified, historically and socially, in using all means, including force and violence, in defense against capitalist force and violence and in a revolutionary situation to dislodge capitalism and replace it with a classless social order that will have neither oppressors nor oppressed.

"The militant workers have contended in defending themselves in capitalist courts, upon being questioned as to the 'overthrow of the government by force and violence,' and the I. L. D. defends the right of workers to hold and advocate such views."

Jefferson, Lincoln, and Washington are quoted in support of such rights. Many application cards for membership in the union and in the I. L. D. were found, and many copies of a booklet which tells in pictures the story of a young worker. This was published by the Young Communist League of New York. It tells of 10,000,000 unemployed in the United States and says "this is the price we pay for the privilege of living under a capitalist system."

FLEEING PRISONER KILLED.

Youngstown, O., Jan. 12.—(AP)—An alleged auto thief, Roland Grey, 27, shot by a policeman as he tried to escape, died early today in a hospital.

KENTUCKY BANKER IS FREED OF ONE CHARGE; HE FACES THREE MORE

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 12.—(AP)—James B. Brown, former president of the National Bank of Kentucky, was acquitted today on the first of four indictments growing out of the closing of the bank. The charge on which the former bank president won acquittal involved the misapplication of $46,000 of the bank's fund. Judge Charles I. Dawson ruled in federal court here that the government had failed to make a case against him, and directed a verdict.

BROTHERS GIVEN 25 YEARS IN PRISON FOR INDIANA BANK HOLDUP

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—Two young brothers, manacled together with handcuffs, were sentenced to 25 year prison terms today after they stood before Judge Dan Pyle, in Circuit court and smilingly told of the $2,800 holdup of the Farmers and Merchants State bank at North Liberty Dec. 14. Their share of the loot was squandered in a two week orgy of "high life" in Detroit, they said, and they had no money left with which to hire an attorney.

"We don't need any attorney; that is not necessary," said the younger brother, Robert Tyler, 22.

"We want to plead guilty now," added Willis Tyler, 23.

HOW SMART WOMEN LOSE FAT

Gain Glorious Health

Every year thousands are sent by their physicians to the famous Carlsbad Springs in Europe to regain glorious health and to lose unhealthy fat.

Many smart women who cannot make the trip obtain the same healthful benefits and lose pounds of unwanted, unhealthy fat by taking one teaspoonful of Imported CARLSBAD SPRUDEL SALT in a glass of warm water each morning. It is pleasant and there is no need for rigid dieting—simply avoid fat meats and starches.

Leading physicians look favorably upon the Carlsbad treatment—why not ask your own physician. Insist upon the IMPORTED CARLSBAD SPRUDEL SALT—containing 30 treatments which cost less than 4 cents a treatment. At leading druggists. Avoid substitutes.

MEDICAL SOCIETY EXPELS SIX MORE IN 'ETHICS' FIGHT

Six physicians, charged with "unethical" advertising of a low cost health clinic, were expelled from membership in the Chicago Medical society by a vote of the executive council last night.

They are A. M. Lazar, Francis Tenczar, John Tenczar, M. L. Krupinski, Leon P. Kozakiewicz, and Edward F. Dombrowski. Dr. Lazar is head of the Wicker Park Medical center at 1530 North Damen avenue, with which all of the expelled were connected. Dr. Dombrowski is a newly appointed member of the city board of health.

After the decision of the council was announced Dr. Lazar declared that he and his associates would demand that all doctors on the staffs of low cost clinics be thrust out of the medical society's membership.

Defends Advertising Plan.

He had defended his action in advertising low prices, asserting that unless physicians organized to compete with medical centers financed by laymen there would soon be no general practice left.

In his plea against being put out of the society Dr. Dombrowski pointed out that he was the last member of the board of health in the membership. Dr. Louis E. Schmidt was expelled some time ago because of his connection with the Public Health institute, which advertises, and Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the board of health, then resigned from the society as a protest against the ouster of Dr. Schmidt.

The reply to the Wicker Park doctors was made by Dr. Edward H. Ochsner.

"We must throw these men out," he said, "or resign from the state medical association and the American Medical association. If we countenance advertising we are all done for and membership in the society means nothing."

Ousted Six to Appeal.

The ousted six plan to appeal their case to the American Medical association. They demand that thirty-two physicians on the staff of the Lewis Memorial institute, connected with Loyola university, also be expelled from the medical society because their names had been printed in a broadside.

Charges of unethical conduct made against members of the ethical relations committee of the society were expunged from the records by the executive council. Dr. W. L. Harris had alleged the committee had wrongfully named the Henrotin hospital as one of the low cost clinics under investigation. The council held that the committee members could not be held accountable for performing duties assigned them by officers of the society.

LAWYER TO SEEK SEPARATE TRIAL FOR WOODRUFF

Attorney George T. Buckingham, representing George Woodruff, Chicago banker, notified State's Attorney A. V. Smith of Lake county yesterday that he would appear today before Circuit Judge E. D. Shurtleff in Woodstock and ask a separate trial for his client.

Woodruff is under indictment with State Auditor Oscar Nelson and Norman O. Geyer, president of the defunct Waukegan State bank, on conspiracy charges in connection with the failure of the Waukegan bank. Judge Shurtleff will rule at the same time on a motion for a separate trial made on Monday on behalf of Auditor Nelson.

Woodruff was ill at the time the acts charged in the indictment took place, and the severance is sought for him on grounds that for that reason his defense will differ from that of the other defendants, Attorney Buckingham said.

COLD MEANS NOTHING TO OLD "SEA DOG"

Men of the sea can't coddle their colds. They catch them, but get rid of them in a jiffy. So can you—and without "doping"—with a simple compound that just knocks out all that achy, feverish feeling or that watery-eyed, sore-nosed condition that always makes a person feel so thoroughly miserable.

Next time exposure to wet and cold has set you to sniffling, take Pape's Cold Compound. Simple little tablets, but how they kill a cold! Pape's Cold Compound is only 35c.

"The newspaper is an institution developed by modern civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, to inform and mold public opinion, and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide."

JUSTICE TRIUMPHANT.

What this community regards as the processes of justice finally caught up with Benjamin Rosenberg on Monday evening. Rosenberg for months had led a charmed life. He had been brazen in his defiance of the public authority, but when his punishment came it was swift and complete. Now he will no longer disturb the even tenor of life in Chicago. It is to be hoped that the lesson will not soon be forgotten.

Rosenberg was manager of International Cleaners and Dyers, Inc., a company which has stubbornly refused to join the cleaners and dyers' association. He refused to join the organization because he wished to sell his services at less than the prices fixed by the organization. This is obviously an offense of the utmost seriousness. Had he been permitted to do business in that way his action would have forced a reduction in the charges for cleaning and dyeing to the people of Chicago. He would have taken business from other companies unless they, too, had reduced their prices, and to that extent he would have reduced their profits. He might even have driven the less efficient companies out of business.

Any such free competition is, of course, unthinkable; but it cannot be said that the forces of righteousness in the community acted precipitately. Efforts were made to reason with Rosenberg. Among those who presented the case for higher prices were Mr. Philip Mangano and Mr. Louis Clementi, gentlemen skilled in the arts of persuasion which they learned at the feet of that master of dialectic, Mr. Alphonse Capone. They pleaded with Rosenberg to change his mind. By way of encouraging him to do the right thing of his own accord they poured acid on a truckload of garments in Mr. Rosenberg's garage. We have this on the authority of Rosenberg, himself, who mentioned it in an unguarded moment.

But Rosenberg was as callous to this as to all other arguments. As if he had not already offended the public conscience sufficiently, he had the temerity to turn to the constituted authorities of the state as if they could or would protect him in his outrageous proposal to reduce the cost of living. He told the state's attorney that he, Rosenberg, did not want to listen to what Mr. Clementi and Mr. Mangano had to say, no matter how gracefully they put their argument. He did not even regard as a courtesy the pouring of acid on the garments in his keeping.

At this point Rosenberg took advantage of a legal technicality to embarrass the forces of righteousness. He deliberately misconceived the generous mediation of Mr. Clementi and Mr. Mangano and accused them of some such offense as malicious mischief. The case was to come up for trial within the next few weeks. To a layman it would seem incredible that the courts would give so much as a moment's attention to such a trumped up charge, but the law is peculiar and the outcome of any action at law is never entirely certain until the jury has given its verdict.

Accordingly, Rosenberg was shot dead. The conscience of the community thus asserted itself, but, though the feeling against Rosenberg was strong and no doubt merited, the death sentence was executed without any show of rancor or cruelty. Rosenberg's sufferings were of the briefest. He was walking to his home in Maywood in the gathering dusk when a number of men leaped from an automobile, knocked him senseless with the butts of their pistols, and then gave him the merciful coup de grace, a volley of bullets in the brain. The circumstances will, no doubt, prove of comfort to Mrs. Rosenberg and their three children.

A DIFFERENT ROOSEVELT.

The appointment as governor general of the Philippines of Theodore Roosevelt is one of the few clever political moves to be credited to Mr. Hoover. Without disparaging the ability or political strength of Gov. Franklin Roosevelt, it can hardly be denied that the Roosevelt name he bears has been a substantial factor in his popular appeal and has had much to do with making him the leading candidate for the Democratic nomination for President. The very name of Roosevelt, associated as it is with stalwart Americanism and unflinching defense of American rights, presents a striking contrast, in this time of trial, of foreign criticism and aggression, to the confused and feeble conduct of our foreign relations under the present administration.

With the younger Teddy in the conspicuous and difficult post of the Philippines, one of the high places in the administration, recalling the virile and momentous days of '98, a much needed note has been sounded in the politics of Mr. Hoover. As one of the chief speakers in the coming campaign, the T. R. of today, with his brilliant fighting record in the war and his honorable scars won in battle, brother of Quentin, the fearless airman whose grave in Flanders is a national shrine, would prove Franklin Roosevelt about the weakest candidate the Democrats could have chosen.

Whether the politicians recognize it or not, and they are showing little perception of the realities, the American people know that what they need is a restoration of the virile Americanism which built in days good and bad, in trial and triumph, the greatness of their country.

JIMMY WALKER WANTS MORE.

Mayor Jimmy Walker's appeal to Washington for a dole for New York brings out an important fact which the New York policy of hush-hush would have concealed a little longer—namely: that the richest of our cities is broke. Her credit is about exhausted, and her financial condition is so desperate that even the powerful New York banks, with their enormous resources, hesitate to freeze themselves with any more New York paper.

Chicago takes no satisfaction in the predicament into which New York has run over the same route Chicago has traveled. But we hope it will bring home even to its purblind holders of office the accumulating mass of evidence that the present rate of extravagant public expenditure can no longer be borne.

Throughout the nation the people have made and are making the better sacrifices essential to readjustment and recovery. Only in politics a stubborn resistance to economy and reform is blindly maintained. There the effort is still to find new ways of taking money from the taxpayer, new excuses for piling up the burden upon the backs of the people and the productive enterprise by which they live. Jimmy Walker running down to Washington with his hat in his hand offers to New York and the nation an example of the unappeased appetite of politics.

LEGISLATIVE TERRORISM.

A somewhat casual canvass of a good many people in Wisconsin shows that a state resembling a panic prevails over the possible action of their legislature. The condition is not confined to persons of large means, but extends everywhere among salaried workers who by diligence and thrift have been able to acquire an income better than a bare livelihood, whether directly from their daily toil or augmented by interest on their savings.

The feeling prevails that anything is likely to happen. It is a feeling existing for like reasons in other states and in the country generally when we read of some proposals in congress.

Gov. La Follette's demand in the name of poor relief for a sum ranging above $17,000,000 to be raised on a surtax on incomes was defeated in the senate by a single vote after having been joyously passed by the assembly. With the senate so evenly divided that the defection of a single vote would enable the governor's program to become a law, the margin of safety is so small that until the legislature adjourns the feeling of panic is apt to continue.

The seventeen votes which have stood against the radical program are by 14 conservative Republican senators and three independents. Fifteen senators are progressives, and a change of vote by one of the independents would create a tie to be broken by the lieutenant governor, a stanch member of the La Follette camp.

Although the governor's program would impose a tax almost confiscatory on the large fortunes of the state there are relatively few of these and the bulk of the millions would come from pocketbooks never much more than adequate to provide the home comforts which an American standard of living has set as desirable. These pockets have been opened wide during the last two years. Their owners have given and are giving with the utmost generosity to care for the needy in their own localities.

The radicals have shown the quality of their economic and political thought by whooping a bill through the assembly providing an eight hour day for all workers, including farmers, and guaranteeing time and a half for overtime. Economists have calculated the probable cost to the state from $10,000,000 to $215,000,000 should the bill become a law and an effort made to apply it.

It is that type of lawmaking which has spread terror among the people who form the backbone of the commonwealth, the people who work and save and who expect to work and pay their bills and try to save a little so there will be some money coming in after their most productive work days are over.

There is a feeling that the legislature is a constant threat to these citizens; that their homes and savings are likely to be destroyed to provide huge and unnecessary sums to be dispensed in the name of charity, and for the benefit of a political clique.

Most of these citizens have been too interested in their personal affairs heretofore to give the proper and necessary attention to the politics of the state. A talk with any little group now in any part of the state shows a very different state of mind. There is no fear that taxes will not be the subject of the greatest concern in the next campaign, nor that folks who have not voted in recent elections will go to the polls with pronounced convictions on the candidates.

The seventeen men in the Wisconsin senate who have stood between the state administration and a destructive raid upon the taxpayers in the name of charity have done good service for their state and earned the loyal support of their constituents. They have also set an example for responsible legislators elsewhere, including Washington.

Editorial of the Day

LONDON PAPER LOOKS AT CHICAGO.

[St. Louis Post-Dispatch.]

Looking across the Atlantic until its eye finally lights on Chicago, a London paper observes that "while Big Bill Thompson was insulting King George and burning British classics the important citizens of Chicago enjoyed the joke."

Perhaps. It all depends on what the London paper means by "the important citizens." If it means intelligent citizens, the paper is wrong. Intelligent citizens in Chicago and elsewhere were humiliated by the buffoonery and vulgarity of Big Bill Thompson. Intelligent citizens in Chicago and everywhere else in the United States knew that Chicago would have to pay for the folly and stupidity of Big Bill Thompson. The day of reckoning is here, but a London paper might take note of the fact without jubilation and without getting down to the level, or pretty close to the level, of Big Bill's style.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

THE HUNDRED PERCENTERS have risen up in New York and in a fine outburst of patriotic fury have made the Metropolitan museum hang the large chromo "Washington Crossing the Delaware" back on the wall again. The picture has been rolled up and stuck away down in the cellar of the Metropolitan for three years, and the one hundred percenters never even missed it until there was some talk by the directors as to whether they ought to bury the thing back of somebody's farm up in Connecticut or tie a brick to its tail and throw it into the East river. In the first place, the directors said the picture wasn't art. Besides that, nobody believes that George was one of those morons who stand up in a rowboat. And, again, the American flag which flaps proudly in the painting was not designed and given shape and form until several years after Washington crossed the said Delaware. Also the boat is a German model of a kind never known in this country and was painted by a German in Germany from something his Uncle Heinrich, who had been a corporal in the Hessian army, told the artist's cousin Lena.

MARE INCUBUS.

Down the busy street I saw a woman walking;
She had two rosy apples, one in either hand;
Both of them were bitten and I couldn't find the reason;
I couldn't understand it, and I want to understand.

For till I know the cause of it I cannot eat my dinner;
I cannot take my exercise, I cannot mend my clothes;
My shoulders bend beneath it and my hair is growing thinner;

A sublimated yearning? An unrequited passion?
I wish I knew, I wish I knew, I wish I could forget;

A few days longer and I shan't write poetry;
I few days longer and I shan't write prose;
A few days longer and I shan't write anything—
I'll lay me down to sleep between a lily and a rose.

Woman, woman, woman, with your apple and your apple,
And your meditative, ruminative, tranquil equipoise,
Do you know what you are doing, do you know what you are doing,
Do you know what you are doing to a fellow-pilgrim's joys?

Why, why, why, with all the world to choose from,
Bridge players, golf slaves, and all the other blind,
Why bite your apples before a harmless stranger
Of solitary habits and an analytic mind?

I never harmed you; I never saw your face before
I never hurt you, I never wished you ill.
Yet you pursue me, chewing, chewing;

Seven hungry buzzards with greasy eyes.

THERE WAS a pathetic ending to the story published in all the news sheets regarding the election for United States senator in Arkansas yesterday: "The Republicans did not put out a candidate." It sounds like a theme song or a swan song or something.

THIS IS THE SEASON, pupils of the class in journalism, when a candidate for office "tosses his hat in the ring." If and when you ever get to be a reporter bear this well in mind. We don't know what would happen to you if you said that so-and-so announced his candidacy for governor or dog pelter instead of saying he had "tossed his hat in the ring," but it would be something horrible, such as being hurled down the elevator shaft and carried out by the janitor in a waste basket.

THE EASTERN SHORE of Maryland has got such a mad on at Baltimore that down there they're proposing to form a new state out of the eastern shore of Maryland, the eastern shore of Virginia, and the present state of Delaware. It's a perfectly sound proposition, as the two eastern shores are entirely separate entities from their states, but are closely akin to Delaware. But the crime of crimes comes in over the suggested name of the new state, "Delmarvia." Oh, horrors, such a hybrid name should be booted right into the Chesapeake bay. Why not perpetuate the grand old name of Delaware by applying it to the new state? But if they insist on Delmarvia then they oughtn't to have a new state. Delmarvia sounds like a kitchenette apartment house or the latest Los Angeles subdivision. Anyway, it's lousy.

SHE was a sweet young thing and smiled exuberantly at the traffic cop who yelled sweetly at her and asked where the fire was. She was very sorry and the traffic cop melted and told her to drive something less than a million miles a minute after that or he'd give her a ticket. "Okey dokey," sang out the lady as she sailed away. "Okey dokey!" When they get her in Speeders' court we hope they fine her nine thousand dollars. Not for speeding; for the "okey dokey."

"MY FOOT'S ASLEEP."

WHEN a man's foot "goes to sleep" some one may explain the phenomenon by saying that pressure has emptied the capillaries. When sensation returns, and that queer, tingling, pinpricking feeling sets in, the forthcoming explanation is that the blood is returning to the capillaries.

Dr. Thomas Lewis does not agree with this opinion. It is a matter of a nerve and not of the capillaries. The foot goes to sleep because a nerve of sensation, some part of the tactile sense apparatus, has been thrown out of commission. This is generally because of pressure on a nerve, or part of a nerve, that lies on bone and is being pinched by weight or force of some kind. The tingling and pinpricking features are due to release of pressure and return of power to function to the nerve. There is no change in the blood supply or, if there is any, it is not a part of what causes the peculiar sensations.

He has proved this by several kinds of experiments. Applying a binder that decreases circulation but does not compress a nerve does not cause the foot to go to sleep nor to cause tingling. Releasing the pressure so as to flood the skin with blood does not cause the pinpricking sensation.

If we can reason from resemblances it is not a return of circulation to a frozen foot that causes the pain and tingling therein. That, too, is a result of interference with the nerves.

While Dr. Lewis did not cover frostbite, he did investigate cramps. The cause of cramps may be exposure to chilling. Usually that is the direct cause. But the cramping is not the result of withdrawal of blood from the capillaries. It, too, is a nervous process. It is the nerves that are acting up in cramps due to chilling. The explanation of heat cramps may be somewhat different.

When a man's muscles have been driven until they are exhausted and have used up their reserves, they are liable to cramp if they are driven further. More particularly, if they are driven after they have used up their salt supply, there is a rebellion which takes the form of cramping. Even that explanation, however, does not exclude the nerves or the muscles from the charge of having caused the cramp or, at least, of having participated in it.

As a rule, such sensations as "feet going to sleep," tingling in the feet, and feeling of pinpricks are not significant. They are due to causes that are easily recognized and removed. But there are cases where these sensations point to diseases in the spinal cord or brain.

OF NO GREAT IMPORTANCE.

Mrs. M. H. writes: My 10 months old twins urinate about every ten or fifteen minutes and their diapers are yellow. Does this denote some type of kidney trouble? I feed them cereal, orange juice, strained vegetables, milk, and try to give them water at irregular intervals. I nurse them at 5 a. m., breakfast at 9 a. m., dinner at 1 p. m., supper at 5:15 p. m. They sleep good at night and take regular naps.

REPLY.

Since they are growing, thriving, comfortable, and happy, the symptom is not of much importance. It may be you are giving them too much water. A baby's food supplies almost as much water as he needs.

SHE PROBABLY WILL NOT.

Mrs. J. J. asks if a woman is 50 years old can she bear another child. Her youngest is now 25 years old.

REPLY.

Probably not.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

HOME BREW.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I am contemplating making a gallon of wine from dried fruits in my apartment for my own consumption. Please advise whether this is held to be in violation of the law, and if so, what are the chances of getting into trouble by doing this? What is the usual penalty? F. R.

The prohibition enforcement officers have ruled that a householder who manufactures in his home for home consumption ciders and fruit juices which acquire by fermentation ½ of 1 per cent or more of alcohol by volume, but which are not intoxicating in fact, does not violate the law; but that the law is violated if the fermentation process is allowed to proceed to the point where the beverages become intoxicating in fact.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

TRACING ESTATE.

Chicago, Jan. 9.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I am writing to ask where I can find out anything about some property left after my mother's first cousin died in Dunning April 10, 1931. The man in charge will give no information as to whom the property was left to. There is only one first cousin left and one second cousin. Will they notify those two parties when the year is up? R. F. R.

If there are assets the estate will presumably be probated and you will receive notice in the course of such probate proceedings. If the property is real estate you can check up the present state of the title by examining the tract indexes in the recorder's office.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

NO VIOLATION HERE.

Chicago, Jan. 9.—[Friend of the People.]—What can be done about the rubbish, tin cans, glass and leaves that are dumped behind our apartment building? The containers that are furnished are insufficient and the alley is half blocked with broken glass and nails. We automobile owners would like to see something done, as we are having an epidemic of punctures. A. P. W.

Report is made that investigation of this complaint found alley in good condition; no broken glass anywhere. Proper receptacles were in general use with the exception of a stove heated flat building on the corner which did not have a sufficient number. Notice was served to provide additional cans and assurance was given that this would be done at once.

JOSEPH J. BUTLER,
Superintendent of Streets.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

This nation has had other serious financial depressions, as the following excerpts from The Tribune files reveal. Each of these periods of hard times has been followed by periods of great prosperity.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 12. — The monetary stringency still continues and employers had hard work today getting greenbacks to pay employés. The rates were firm and higher, ranging from 15 to 20 per cent discount. Quite a number of manufacturers, because of lack of funds, have closed entirely. The cotton mills at Manayunk stopped work in their principal mill because of the strike of their employés caused by a slash of 15 per cent in wages. The men earned from $10 to $20 a week, the women from $4 to $11, and the boys and girls from $4 to $7. Several cotton mills have been forced to put their employés on half time.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 12.—Whisky redistillation is checked here in consequence of the financial panic.

Cripple Creek, Colo., March 13.—Miners in the Cripple Creek district are defiant and desperate. Telephone and telegraph wires have been cut between Altman and Cripple Creek. Striking miners at Altman, one of the towns near the clouds in the new gold mining district, drew a line of pickets around the town and arrested or fired upon all who approached. An appeal for troops was made to the state and five companies of militia were started toward Cripple Creek on orders of Gov. Waite at Denver. The miners say they will fight the militia and every gun, pistol and other weapon in the town is ready for use. The streets are thronged with people among whom are many idle and hungry men.

Chicago, Dec. 24.—The South Chicago plant of the Illinois Steel company, employing 7,000 men, will be shut down today. The employés understood that their services would not be required until March 1.

1921.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 1.—Net earnings of the Pennsylvania railroad system last year were $11,222,972 less than they were the year before, representing an average monthly decrease of nearly $1,000,000, according to the annual report just issued.

1921.

Chicago, March 12.—If further evidence of dullness in the steel industry were needed, it was offered yesterday in the United States Steel corporation's monthly statement on unfilled orders. These amounted to 6,930,867 tons on Feb. 28, a decrease of 639,297 tons from Jan. 31 and of 2,568,214 tons from Feb. 29, 1920.

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

JANUARY 13, 1916.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The senate exploded on the Mexican situation. The bomb was touched off when Senator Sherman of Illinois introduced a resolution directing President Wilson to intervene in Mexico to bring about the restoration of law and order. The resolution recited the facts concerning the killing of Americans yesterday and the previous slaughtering of Americans by all factions. It directed the President to intervene in the event of his failure to obtain assurances from Carranza that adequate measures would be taken immediately to protect Americans. Advices from El Paso now place the number killed on Jan. 10 at nineteen. It was authoritatively stated that Gen. Pablo Lopez, a Yaqui chieftain closely allied with Gen. Francisco Villa, and a Gen. Reyna, also a Villa man, commanded the massacre.

SALONIKI.—Cavalry forces of the allies destroyed the bridge over the Struma river at Demirhissar, thus cutting the railroad line from Constantinople to the Bulgarian border. A large force of Teutons and Turks is understood to be concentrating at Xanthi. By this action one corps of the Greek army is isolated, its line of communication being cut. Radical action by the Greek government is regarded as likely.

PARIS.—The Germans lost more than 25,000 men in the onslaught of Jan. 9 against the French lines in Champagne, according to Chalons dispatches. Great numbers of wounded German prisoners have reached Chalons. They confirm the report that Gen. von Eimen planned to break through the French line and bend back the whole front from Reims to Verdun.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

CHICAGO.—Halted by a block signal, which is supposed to insure reasonable safety in railroad operation, the first section of a Panhandle passenger train was run into by the second section at 51st street and Western avenue. Two men were injured, one of them seriously, and the property damage was about $15,000.

CHICAGO.—Chicago society wore a smile of amusement after it had read in THE TRIBUNE the pronunciamento of the Rev. Dr. Charles Wilbur De Lyon Nichols of Nichols, Conn., the clergyman who undertook the task of listing the persons who might properly be considered to be in fashionable society in the United States. "Most foolish," "perfectly absurd," "silly beyond words," were a few of the comments made by some of the prominent women of this city. It seemed to them that there ought to be more than two families in Chicago society without detracting in the least from the recognized claims of Mr. and Mrs. Potter Palmer and Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Chatfield-Taylor, whose names led Dr. Nichols' list for Chicago.

CHICAGO.—What is perhaps the most accurate account of the events leading up to the battle of Santiago and the battle itself will soon be published in Chicago under the title of "Schley and Santiago." It is the work of George Edmund Graham, who as a newspaper correspondent spent five months on the United States cruiser Brooklyn during the most exciting part of the Spanish-American war. The book has the indorsement of Rear Admiral Schley.

A CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

Chicago, Jan. 6.—As the movement for a constitutional convention for settlement of the prohibtion question seems to be crystallizing through efforts of many prominent and unquestionably sincere prohibitionists, both individuals and organizations, in and out of congress, may I call attention to their oversight of the great danger therein involved to our cause which would entrap them and which must be the very reason that such prominent and fanatical prohibitionists as Senators Borah and Watson and also Dr. Clarence True Wilson are agreeable to a convention?

While the people in each state would vote for delegates to the constitutional convention, the trap and joker is that the delegates would, in turn, vote as state units, either wet or dry, as the case might be, thereby creating exactly the same situation that now exists in congress because only thirteen states could prevent ratification, which requires three-fourths or thirty-six states and it is a certainty that there are many more than thirteen dry states; furthermore, it would require several years to call the various constitutional conventions necessarily through their legislatures, as they do not meet every year and it is a question whether this delay is not being deliberately played for by certain politicians on both sides in hopes of getting by the approaching presidential election.

If we cannot have a national mass vote, which is the only true way to obtain the actual expression of the voters, which, no doubt, would be wet in the majority, I am reliably informed that a mere majority of congress can modify the Volstead act by resolution and could also allow each state to vote as it wished to remain, either wet or dry, and while unquestionably conditions could be more thoroughly corrected through the repeal of the eighteenth amendment, nevertheless, it is not a question of what shouid be done but of what can now be done. Therefore the most practical procedure would be modification as a first step towards ultimate repeal, as the latter at present, a great number of people fear, would permit the saloon. Leading professional drys constantly emphasize this very point.

With all due respect to different opinions, many of those in the most populous states, and especially the east, seem to fail to fully realize the actual feeling on this subject still existing in most rural states which are in the great majority as state units. After twenty-five years' connection with the malting industry, bringing me in close contact with the situation from coast to coast, it is my humble opinion that there are not more than twenty states at the utmost that would vote wet through constitutional convention. Then the drys would say, "There, you have had your vote," and while it would not be a true mass vote, their false claim would kill our cause indefinitely and thereby discourage the present upheaval of public sentiment. WILLIAM T. O'DONNELL.

TUITION.

Chicago, Jan. 8.—For the present sorry condition of our Chicago public schools is it reasonable to suggest that those who can afford to pay for their children's tuition and help over the present bad situation?

We Catholics build our own schools, pay for tuition, books, and all other expenses in the schools. We also do our share, through taxation, to maintain our public schools, pay double, in fact, and do so cheerfully as we are thankful to our great American government for the privilege of educating our children in our own way.

It seems to me if there is any civic pride in these parents of public school children they would pay a dollar a month for tuition and buy their own books for a time at least until things are better and so the hard working teachers can get at least a part of their earnings. WM. P. BUCKLEY.

TAX INJUSTICES.

Chicago, Jan. 8.—Only the other day I was asked by a schoolboy to sign a petition in order to keep the Chicago public schools open and I asked him if his father and mother were paying anything toward the upkeep of the public schools and the salaries of the teachers which he wanted me to sign for. He said "No," and it developed that there were six children in this particular family who were actually being supported and given free schools by the very small minority of our population who happen to own houses.

Is there any reason on God's earth why a street car man who buys a five room bungalow which is of absolutely no use to him except as a home for his wife and children, pays $10,000 to $12,000 for same, and afterward has to pay between $200 and $300 annually to the city of Chicago for taxes, while another street car man working out of the same barn, getting the same salary, refuses to buy a home, but spends his money, pays not one penny in taxes, and still expects his brother who has done the proper thing by purchasing a home, to provide school, parks, museums, etc., for the benefit of him and his children free of charge? This angle of the tax situation is so rotten and so unjust that it is just simply plain dishonesty.

In the Kenwood district there are hundreds of party wall homes which are now about forty years of age with less than seventeen feet of frontage and which have to be rented all the way from about $30 to $60 per month, and yet the board of assessors and Mr. Bell are stupid enough to think that the owners of these houses should pay from $200 to $300 per annum in taxes, which is just the same as sending a bill for $250 to a man who has just gone into bankruptcy. When the powers that be begin to realize that they are only kidding themselves and that they might as well get down to plain, simple honesty, then and only then will the owners of Chicago real estate begin to pay their taxes and they will be paid to the extent of 95 per cent without the least quibble when this time arrives.

JOHN M. THOMSON.

THE REMEDY.

Pasadena, Cal., Jan. 7.—I see by the papers that Mayor Cermak admits that there are 2,000 more city employés than necessary to carry on the work efficiently. In the last twenty years, spent largely about the courthouse and city hall, it has seemed to me that 90 per cent of the clerical force could be dispensed with advantageously.

As to the deplorable financial situation of our city [Chicago] I know the remedy: Stop stealing the public funds; make the grafters pay back or go to jail, or both; give us a few honest prosecutions and convictions of grafting politicians, as well as bankers.

Then Chicago will be a good place to live and taxes be reasonable.

CLARK MCINTOSH.

HER FRIENDS DO NOT READ THE TRIBUNE.

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 8.—Will you kindly put a notice in your paper to the effect that the postage rate on letters from the United States to Canada was advanced on Sept. 1, 1931, from two cents to three cents? The people in America do not seem to know this, as most of the letters coming here from the United States have only two cents on them and we have to pay an additional two cents. During Christmas week the postmen were delayed two or three hours a day collecting this postage. I am visiting here and almost every day I have had additional postage to pay on my mail from the United States.

Chicago, Jan. 8.—I can't agree with Mr. Rubanek that the use of long skirts would end the depression, but I do believe that the use of woolen socks would help with a lot of people.

Science Finds Its Own Pace Bewildering

As Experts Leap from Theory to Theory.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

"The Scientific Outlook," by Bertrand Russell [Norton].

BERTRAND RUSSELL, English philosopher and mathematician, has scanned the whole world of modern science for us in his latest book, "The Scientific Outlook." It is, however, easy reading, a conversational sort of book, valuable for its summarizations of scientific trends and discoveries, lit with rich humor and touchedwith wisdom. It must be classified according to his own characterization of all such writings today as a "fugitive paper," for science is moving too fast for any finalities in its own fields and cannot, therefore, be expected to provide us with a lasting picture of the universe.

BERTRAND RUSSELL.

Dr. Russell deals chiefly with pure rather than applied science, and the reader, according to the laws of psychology and his own bias toward idealism or materialism, will find in it support for the religious point of view or much to the contrary. Dr. Russell is supposed to be a skeptic and admits that he is "lacking in religious feeling," and yet there are moods and phrases in the book which would not sound strange in the writings of Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick.

Dr. Russell calls for "a new moral outlook in which submission to the powers of nature is replaced by respect for what is best in man." He declares that the human will alone "cannot make a good life." He interprets the beauty of the physical world in much the same vein that the religionist does. With these concessions, however, the scientist-philosopher departs from this meeting place with modernist preachers and enters a new and unexplored country of the mind, where one must feel at home with relativity, quantum and all the implications of the new physics in order to follow him. Yet follow him the preachers must, some day, if modern youth is to follow the preachers. Religion must take every new fact and every new truth that science finds and meet it intelligently, or that form of religion is doomed.

There is one thing that religious apologists and expounders have laid great stress upon, and that is the universe of order which science is supposed to have revealed. While this remains true for practical, common sense science, it is becoming increasingly untrue as regards the observed motions of suns and stars and electrons.

"The world according to men of science is a more higgedly-piggedly and haphazard affair than it was thought to be," writes Dr. Russell. "I think that the universe is all spots and jumps, without unity, without continuity, without coherence or orderliness, or any of the other properties that governesses love."

Dr. Russell finds that modern physics has become metaphysics and that we are led to the position of Bishop Berkeley, according to which only thoughts exist.

"Every day some new physicist publishes a new, pious volume to conceal from himself and others the fact that in his scientific capacity he has plunged the world into unreason and unreality.

"One of the most remarkable developments in religious apologetics in recent times is the attempt to rescue free will in man by ignorance as to the behavior of atoms. It is very rash to erect a theological superstructure upon a piece of ignorance which may be only momentary."

Dr. Russell declares that Sir Arthur Eddington deduces religion from the fact that atoms do not obey the laws of mathematics and that Sir James Jeans deduces it from the fact that they do.

There is another English scientist, however, Dr. J. S. Haldane, who, in a recent book on "The Philosophical Basis of Biology," reaches conclusions which accord in part with Dr. Russell, in greater part with Dr. Fosdick, as follows:

"The world of physical realism is only an imperfectly perceived world. It is not through causal conceptions of any sort that God is revealed to us, but through realization of what is implied in the highest values which are presented to us in our conscious behavior. These highest values are comprized under what we call truth, goodness, beauty. In recognizing them we pass beyond the mere individual experience, and realize the presence within us of God as the ultimately real. The existence of God must be the central feature in the future development of philosophy. Whether those engaged in scientific work know it or not, God is present, it seems to me, in their pursuit of knowledge."

"When I come to die," writes Dr. Russell, "I shall not feel that I have lived in vain. I have seen the earth turn red at evening, the dew sparkling in the morning, and the snow shining under a frosty sun; I have smelt rain after drought, and have heard the stormy Atlantic beat upon the shores of Cornwall."

All these men, it seems, are traveling toward the same goal by different roads.

Movie Gossip from Hollywood

BY GEORGE SHAFFER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 12.—Christmas is supposed to bring good cheer to everybody. It nearly brought a breakup to the famous and well paying movie comedy team of Bert Wheeler and Bob Woolsey. And all because each wanted to do something nice for the other.

When Christmas came each decided to send the other some present that would be suitable. Wheeler went to a Hollywood boulevard store and bought Woolsey an expensive fitted gladstone bag. Woolsey went to a store on Wilshire boulevard and, in seeking something to give friend Wheeler, finally picked out a gladstone bag, similarly fitted out.

On Christmas day the presents were exchanged.

Wheeler thought his own bag had been brought back to his house by mistake and flew into a rage at the supposed mixup.

Woolsey thought Wheeler had become sore at something and had returned the bag Woolsey sent him. Neither tumbled to the idea that each thought of the same present.

After a few sharp remarks each man discovered the mistake, but it took more than a week to clear up the misunderstanding. As it now stands neither man is sure which bag is the one he intended for his pal, or the one the pal intended for him, but they're going to take them on the boat together when they finish "Hold 'Em Jail" at Radio studio.

Her husband, Marquis Henri de la Falaise, has no part in Constance Bennett's adoption of her 3 year old cousin, Peter Dennis Arthur Louis Armstrong, as her son, the actress explains, so the little English boy is in the odd position of a child having a legal American mother, but a French foster father. The child is the son of Miss Bennett's maternal aunt, the late Mrs. Louis Armstrong of England. Mrs. Armstrong was a sister of Miss Bennett's mother, Adrienne Morrison. Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong were killed in an automobile accident in England two years ago.

Rachmaninoff Given Fanfare by Orchestra

Audience Rises to Greet Famous Pianist.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

THERE can be no exaggeration in calling Sergei Rachmaninoff the Chicago Symphony orchestra's guest of honor this week. Enthusiastically applauded by an audience risen to its feet when he appeared on the stage yesterday afternoon, equally enthusiastically fanfared by the orchestra when he left it, the program consisted entirely of his own compositions and he was the soloist in his second piano concerto.

And with one change, the same thing is due to happen to him tomorrow night and again Friday afternoon. The only difference is that on those occasions he will play his third instead of his second concerto.

That is the happy fate that awaits a man who happens to be a widely known virtuoso of the piano and a widely known composer at the same time. In the view of his past and present exploits, it would seem to be a well deserved tribute.

One hardly wonders that although Mr. Rachmaninoff has been a highly fertile composer, writing much music in all known forms, he is frequently the most effective when he has the piano in mind. It is not alone that all his brilliant virtuosity was employed to make his second concerto a great show yesterday afternoon. It is a great show in itself.

And there was another work, built on smaller dimensions, but also effective. It was the orchestral arrangement by Ottorino Respighi of five of the Picture Studies, which generally appear on piano recital programs under the name of Etudes-Tableaux. In their orchestral dress they had their first Chicago performance under Mr. Stock's potent baton. They are concise, colorful, and entirely to the point.

The program began with another first performance, "Aria [Vocalise]" it is called, an agreeable if not entirely overwhelming melody for a choir of violins with lightly scored accompaniment for the rest of the orchestra. Then came "The Island of the Dead," the piece with which Mr. Rachmaninoff introduced himself to Chicago back in 1909.

It would seem to have been written for those with a passion for graveyards. Like the Arnold Boecklin picture, which was its inspiration, it rejoices in pessimistic gloom. As such, it is a striking bit of tone painting, and Mr. Stock gave it a marvelous performance. But those who have a temperamental preference for the Smiley Gladds over the Lugubrious Blues of music will probably prefer to pass on to the Picture Studies and the concerto.

The double bill of "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Pagliacci" at the Civic Opera house last night had two changes of cast which, added to the eminent performances of Raisa, Muzio, Cortis, and Marshall, made the twin operas even more brilliant than they were before. The first was Coe Glade, who sang the rôle of Lola in place of Louise Bernhardt, indisposed. The part is brief, but it has a good solo, and the splendor and color of Miss Glade's voice made it not only a musical number of note but a real impersonation.

Next came Cesare Formichi, clad like an animated ragbag, to sing the part of Tonio in the second work. His is another glorious voice, and it bombed through the measures of the prologue in stunning fashion. It was a case of a voice and an aria perfectly made for each other.

The mid-winter board meeting of the Illinois Federation of Music clubs will be held in the Century of Progress headquarters of the national and Illinois federation, room 523 Stevens hotel, on Friday and Saturday of this week. Mrs. William S. Ridgly of Decatur, president of the federation, will preside and state-wide promotion and support of musical interests will be discussed.

Meteors' Speed Is 100 Miles Per Second, It's Said

Cornell Expert Reports on Arizona Observations.

Ithaca, N. Y., Jan. 12.—(AP)—A form of meteoric hail flying 100 miles a second has been observed by Cornell university astronomers in Arizona.

The "hail stones" are meteors, presumably tiny, and have been seen through telescopes set up at Lowell observatory at Flagstaff as part of a joint study by Harvard university and Cornell to learn more about what is going on in space.

The speeds of these particles indicate they are visitors from interstellar [outside the gravitational field] space, according to a report by Dr. S. L. Boothroyd, professor of astronomy at Cornell in charge of the meteoric work.

The hail means that at least a little of the earth's surface is made of substances coming from vast distances in "outer" space, as meteors are known to turn to dust in the atmosphere and settle slowly to the ground.

The hail also is something to worry planners of moon rockets. To be as numerous as observed at Flagstaff indicates, the astronomers believe, that the little stones may be flying in storm formations.

Dr. Boothroyd, in his significant report on the 500th specimen observed in one month, incidentally a cloudy one, writes: "I find that fully half of the telescopic meteors are interstellar wanderers, and there are some having exceedingly high velocities. Velocities of 100 miles per second are by no means rare."

Harvard has four astronomers watching "visual" meteors—those which can be seen with the unaided eye. Dressed almost as heavily as arctic explorers, they spend nights in half opened shelters in deep snow. In three months the four have observed the peculiarities of some 6,000 meteors.

DEBUTANTE TELLS WHY GIRLS SEEK JOBS THIS YEAR

New York, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Manhattan's 300 debutantes are looking for "nice jobs," charity work, or a quiet spot to rest.

Betty Schuster, daughter of Mrs. Roland Douglas, and one of the season's popular debutantes, complained today the debutante was one of the most misjudged individuals of society.

"They say we're self-centered, high hat and inconsiderate," she explained. "Is it any wonder we seem so, with all the attention and compliments we receive? It takes strength of character and sanity to pull us through a season unspoiled."

The New York season opens officially Dec. 18 and closes about Jan. 2. Each debutante receives from 90 to more than 100 invitations to debutante affairs. Leading hotels were the scenes of this year's largest parties. The "coming out" cost is from $1,000 up.

Four New York women help to solve the problem of male attendance at debutante parties. On record with each is a list of some 2,000 young men who are "available" for these affairs. They are drafted at the age of 18, each receiving a questionnaire asking his full name, name of parents, age, college and nickname.

"Virtually the entire freshman class at Yale is on the list, we noticed," Betty said, "though Harvard and Princeton are also represented.

"At the good parties there are six stags to every girl and during one dance, a girl averages only six steps with the same boy." She explained that the stags "cut in" incessantly.

Three Reel Talkie Shows Student Life at Chicago University

A three reel talking picture entitled "Life on the Quadrangles," depicting activities on the University of Chicago campus, has been completed, according to an announcement yesterday. The picture will be shown to alumni and high schools as a means of presenting information concerning life at the university.

The film, produced by the Vataglo corporation, shows student life in the lecture room, the conference room and the laboratory. President Robert Maynard Hutchins is heard explaining the new educational plan of the universities. Among others appearing in the picture are Thornton Wilder, the novelist, and Director of Athletics A. A. Stagg addressing his football team before it takes the field.

Scenes showing women's athletics, archery, hockey and swimming, dramatic rehearsals and informal views of dormitory and fraternity life are presented. Quin Ryan, director of W-G-N, furnishes running comment on various features.

Young Men's Jewish Charities Praises Rosenwald's Career

The late Julius Rosenwald, was called "one of the truly great personalities of the age," in memorial resolutions adopted last night at the annual meeting of the Young Men's Jewish Charities at the Covenant club.

"The Young Men's Jewish Charities, of which Julius Rosenwald was a member, benefactor and friend, joins the community, city and nation and world in hororing his memory," the resolution stated. "He was one of the truly great personalities of the age."

Philip A. Lieber was elected president during the business session. The following were named vice presidents: Ben E. Jaffe, Jay Kraus, Henry S. Moser, Philip E. Ringer, Herbert T. Schaffner, and Adrian J. Eichberg, secretary, and Edmund K. Eichengreen, treasurer.

The organization, with its 4,200 members conducts the American Boys' Commonwealth, a boys' club given by the Jacob Franks estate in memory of Robert Franks. The last year 1,100 boys attended the club each week. The Y. M. J. C. also supports the Deborah Boys' club, attended by 500 boys weekly, and a camp at Long Lake, Ill., where 1,145 boys spent vacations last summer. Nearly $65,000 was spent on these projects during the year, according to the report of the treasurer.

Work for Minors in Illinois Factories Decreases Since 1924

Employment of children by Chicago factories has steadily decreased since 1924, according to a statement issued yesterday by the Illinois Manufacturers' association. The figures for the statement were taken from the vocational guidance bureau of the Chicago board of education.

The number of full time permanent certificates issued in Chicago for minors between 14 and 16 years old for employment in manufacturing and mechanical lines for the year ending May 31, 1931, numbered 143, as compared with 1,529 for the same period in 1925.

In transportation groups, figures showed, children employed for the year ending last May 31 was 187, as compared with 746 in 1925. This group includes telegraph messenger boys.

In trade groups the decrease was smaller. Children employed in 1925 on a full time certificate numbered 387, as compared with 155 in 1931. In the office and clerical groups, while there were 1,973 full time permanent certificates issued in Chicago to children in 1925, the number had fallen to 254 in 1931.

Ask 15 Million Public Funds in Cook County

Relief Needs Put High as $25,000,000.

At least $15,000,000 must be provided from public funds for emergency relief in Cook county during 1932. A major portion of that sum must be promised before Feb. 15 or more than 100,000 families will be left without adequate relief, according to a formal statement yesterday by the governor's commission.

According to the relief agencies between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000 will be needed for charity relief in Cook county during 1932 and at least half of that amount must come from county and state public funds.

Following a meeting at the Union League club yesterday, a resolution, proposed by President Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago, was adopted unanimously. The resolution calls on the governor and the Cook county members of the legislators to sponsor all bills calculated to afford relief to Chicago and Cook county.

The burden of relief was found to be so enormous, the statement said in part, that it was found impossible for the regular relief agencies to handle the care of the families calling for aid. Fourteen special relief stations, under the fiscal control of the Red Cross, were established throughout the city. Arrangements have been made to finance these stations, now caring for 35,000 families, to Feb. 15, but unless public aid is given before that time these stations will be closed. In addition, the statement says, all other relief will be cut to a figure approximating that of normal years. As a result more than 100,000 families, now receiving help from the joint fund, will be left practically without aid.

According to Franklin D. Loomis, executive secretary of the Joint Emergency Relief fund, only $5,300,000 of the $10,500,000 pledged, has been actually paid in cash. Approximately $6,000,000 had been expended by Jan. 1, the balance being borrowed in anticipation of pledges.

The relief fund is being expended at the average rate of $2,500,000 a month. Officials of the relief organization state that unless outside aid is given all special activity must cease on March 1 and charity will be handled by the normal relief agencies. Throughout the state, Mr. Loomis said, 70 per cent of relief money has been produced by county relief and 30 per cent by private donations. In Cook county the percentage is more than reversed with the public funds producing less than 30 per cent of the total.

$3,000 Needed Weekly to Provide Food for Hungry Students

From doctors, business firms, from employés, from a charitable organization come contributions for THE TRIBUNE'S Hungry School Children's fund.

They realize the need that exists in the public schools for free lunches for needy children and their total yesterday, $64.05, will be added to the fund which is administered by the board of education. Approximately $3,000 is needed weekly to provide free lunches in the 211 schools now receiving aid from the fund.

$15.90—The Bookhouse for Children.
$10—Anonymous.
$7.15—Infants' Aid, 5035 Greenwood avenue.
$6—Dr. Albert Zrunek.
$5—Nellie E. Ball, A Friend.
$1—Ruth Knox.

Total	$ 64.05
Previously acknowledged	31,602.04
Grand total	$31,666.09

Contributions may be sent to the cashier of THE TRIBUNE, Tribune tower. The fund is then turned over to the board of education for distribution.

Lions Club Does Honor to Founders at Luncheon

Founder's day was observed at the weekly luncheon of the Central Lions club yesterday in the La Salle hotel. The club also observed the birthday of Melvin Jones, Chicago business man, who founded the association in 1917, and who has served as secretary-general of the Lions since their beginning.

This week 26,000 Lions clubs throughout the United States and Canada, of which there are now more than 31,000 members, will conduct similar programs.

Mr. Jones conceived the idea of an association of business men, organized on the basis of service, while a member of the Business circle, founded in 1914 by Frank Frye. The latter was one of the speakers at the luncheon yesterday. Lions clubs carried on relief for the blind, boys' work and civic improvements last year.

Jane Addams at Home of Friends in Baltimore

Miss Jane Addams has been removed from Johns Hopkins hospital at Baltimore to the home of friends in that city. This was learned yesterday. After some further convalescence there from the operation for which she entered the hospital, she plans to go south to remain until April, and is not expected back at Hull House until some time during that month. Her physicians have advised her that Chicago weather will not be propitious for her until that time.

Methodists to Instruct the Delegates to Atlantic City

Plans for a meeting of the laymen of 300 churches to be held about March 20, probably at the Lawson Y. M. C. A., were made at a meeting of the executive committee of the Methodist Rock River laymen's conference at the Hotel Sherman last night. The seven lay delegates to the general conference of the Methodist church at Atlantic City will be instructed on their vote on disarmament and world peace, as well as other questions.

WHEN IS MUSICIAN CONTRACT LABORER? CONGRESSMEN DEBATE

Washington, D. C., Jan. 12.—(AP)—When a musician should be considered a "contract laborer" and when an "artist" was argued today before the house immigration committee.

The bill before the committee purposes to put instrumental musicians under the contract labor clause and to construe the word "artist" to mean "only instrumental musicians of distinguished merit and ability."

A. D. Hayden of the American Musicians' union complained "all kinds, all characters of foreign musicians are admitted under the word 'artist.'"

"Even to organ grinders," he added.

Dr. R. W. Blumenthal Heads Medicine Academy

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—Dr. Robert W. Blumenthal was installed as president of the Milwaukee Academy of Medicine at the regular monthly meeting tonight at the University club. Dr. D. E. Wendstrand was elected president for 1933, in accordance with the organization's custom of naming its president a year in advance. Other officers elected to serve this year are Dr. Charles H. Stoddard, vice president; Dr. N. Warren Bourne, secretary; Dr. Ralph P. Sproule, treasurer.

Small Wardrobe Can Be Clever if Wisdom Is Used in Getting It

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

I was talking the other afternoon with a young matron who has a reputation as one of the best dressed women on a comparatively small allowance per month. She travels about with a set, the members of which could easily spend a thousand on clothes to her ten. Yet she is the one they applaud as the well dressed one.

"She dresses cleverly," is what they say. And that word cleverly is one to reckon with and draw upon for future guidance, because it involves so much more than being just a woman with a wardrobe. It means, in my friend's case, anyway, watching for bargains in good clothes. It means having a frock and knowing just exactly what coat, hat, what shoes, what accessories, if any, are to be bought for wear with it.

Apropos, she's had her eye on a certain coat for three weeks now and one more markdown in price and it will be hers, unless it just happens to be her hard luck to have it grabbed up in the meantime. But it is the planning of the wardrobe and refusing to compromise with something just as good, with another color, with another kind of accessory, that makes this particular woman the smart young matron she is.

But this was the point of my introducing her. She says: "The trouble I find is to get the simple thing. They say now that simple dressing in public is the best of taste on account of the depression. But it always is the best and only taste. If you once get a reputation for dress on the simplicity formula you do not have to have diamonds, emeralds and rubies."

However, the search for the simple is a career in itself, it would seem. The rick recommended by my friend is never to put the money down on a thing until you have it "set" in its proper surroundings. Go home and think it over, if necessary.

And if you are making a fetish of black, which many well dresesd women on smaller incomes do, you have to be more cautious with your buying than if you're a color fan. You have to have just a little better hat, just a little better pair of shoes, just a little smarter bag and gloves. For black can be frightfully dowdy, as well as frightfully chic.

School Janitors Have an Influence Over Young Pupils

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

He's one of the finest men with children that I know of, that school janitor. He's intelligent and comradely. When you go over to the school he's in charge of it gives you such a nice feeling to know that the children—young and older—have so many contacts with that kind of man.

Not like another janitor I know of. He told one child—who told another—that he'd put any child in the furnace who caused trouble! And the second child almost had hysterics in the mornings when it was time to go to school.

School janitors! Does that sound like a subject remote from the point of this column? It isn't, really, because janitors of school buildings, like everything and everybody that touches a child, have their effect upon him.

The school janitor is one more influence in a school child's life. He plays a big part in the work of a school. If you think perhaps that's just my personal opinion, let me quote to you from the Journal of the National Education association in Washington, D. C.:

"The janitor is the only representative of American manhood with whom the children come in contact during the entire day in most six year elementary schools.

"He has much to do with their conduct in corridors, basements, and lavatories, as he shares in school supervision."

Dr. Ganders says that the service of janitor-engineer justifies a rating on the highest possible scale of skilled labor, if not a semi-professional plane. He is advocating that these men be trained for their positions because of the fine educational influence they can exert. In Minneapolis and Los Angeles janitor-engineers are receiving training in some of the higher institutions of learning to educate them for their contacts with children.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

A Last Minute Flippancy.

I am employed as private secretary to a dignified old gentleman of about 65. He always locks the door to his private office evenings before he leaves, but the other evening he neglected to do so. A few minutes after he had left the telephone rang. I answered and the voice—a gentleman's—said:

"Hello, will you turn out the light and lock the office?"

I thought it was one of the men trying to kid me, so I retorted in a not very respectful manner:

"And who says so?"

That voice again—this time very much amused: "This is Mr. Smith. Will you do that for me?"

Embarrassed? Yes, positively mortified! M. L.

Mrs. E. E. Gann Luncheon Guest Here on Feb. 4

WE wondered for a moment who Mrs. Edward Everett Gann is when we received an invitation yesterday to a luncheon to be given by the Women's National Republican club of Chicago for Mrs. Gann, but quickly we remembered that that is "Dolly" Gann's formal nomenclature and we immediately were quite thrilled at the prospect of meeting Vice President Curtis' sister and hearing her speak, which she no doubt will do at the luncheon.

Mrs. Gann will be Mrs. Jacob Baur's house guest while she is in Chicago, but unless she changes her plans—which Mrs. Baur is hoping she will do—her stay will be rather brief, for she will be on her way from Washington to California. The luncheon will be on Thursday, Feb. 4, in the gold room of the Congress, and it is expected that it will be the largest of the club's many interesting affairs of this season. Mrs. Baur is president of the club, and some of the directors are Mrs. Waller Borden, Mrs. Charles S. Dewey, Mrs. Albert S. Gardner, Mrs. Townsend McKeever, Mrs. James R. Offield, and Mrs. George W. Reinecke. Mrs. Clyde L. Day is chairman of the committee on arrangements for the luncheon.

Chicagoans Will Attend Junior League Session in St. Louis.

Miss Dorothy Schmidt, president; Mrs. Willard Boyden, first vice president; Miss Margot Atkin, chairman of the Welfare Volunteers, and Miss Florence Higinbotham, business manager of the Theater for Children, will represent the Chicago Junior league at the regional conference in St. Louis next Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday. Miss Helen Tieken, director of the theater, will not be there for she has gone east to put on "Treasure Island" in Hartford and Reading for the Junior leagues of those two cities.

"Treasure Island," one of last year's "hits" here, is the league's national production this year and is being given in about ten cities of the east and south with a different cast in each place, but the Chicago scenery and costumes are used in each production. Vladimir Rosing is to work with Miss Tieken in Hartford.

Dr. Arthur Upham Pope will give an illustrated lecture on "The Persian Exhibition in London" this morning at 11:30 o'clock at the Arts club, after which there will be a small luncheon for Dr. Pope. Mrs. William H. Hubbard, Miss Emily Larned, Mrs. Frederick T. Vaux, Mrs. Wallace Wakem, and Miss Agnes Foreman will be among those having luncheon parties after the lecture.

Annie Laurie Jaques and Jo Mielziner to Wed Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Jaques are leaving today for the east to be present at the marriage of their daughter, Annie Laurie, to Jo Mielziner, well known designer of stage sets, which will take place at noon Sunday at the residence of Miss Jaques' sister, Mrs. George Schrieber Jr., in Port Washington, L. I.

Miss Jaques was prominent in amateur theatrical work here after she finished school and since going to New York a year or so ago to do serious work in her chosen profession, has been in "Five Star Final" and "The House Beautiful," but she never has gone on the road, so her Chicago friends have not had a chance to see her playact, unless they did so while they were in New York.

Only the families, including the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Mielziner of New York, will attend the ceremony Sunday. Mr. Mielziner and his bride will fly to Palm Beach for a week's honeymoon—he is too busy just now to take a longer vacation—but they will go abroad about April 1st for three or four months.

Comings and goings—Miss Helen Gurley leaves Sunday for a brief stay in New York—Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed is back from a New York visit—Mrs. Charles H. Chadwick left last night for Palm Beach to get settled in her new house [we hear from Palm Beach that it is lovely, all in Directoire modern style] on the shore of Lake Worth, before Mr. Chadwick joins her.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Matthias, Chicagoans who only spend a bit of each year here now that they do not keep a "pied a terre" in this part of the country, are spending this winter in Indio in southwestern California, a lovely sunny place in the heart of the Imperial valley. Mrs. George F. Porter, an ex-Chicagoan, has a house in the Ojai valley for the winter months.

Alliance Francaise to Receive Hungarian Pianist Tomorrow.

L'Alliance Française, of which Mrs. James Hamilton Lewis is president, will hold a reception tomorrow afternoon in the clubrooms in the Fine Arts building for Janos Kurucz, the Hungarian composer and pianist.

The woman's board of Grant hospital will hold its annual meeting tomorrow following a luncheon at the Woman's Athletic club. Mrs. Henry Bartholomay is president.

The Drama league is planning a lecture-tea for Jan. 21 in the ballroom of the Drake for Sylvia Thompson, English novelist, who will talk on "The English Theater of Today." This should be an interesting affair for the novelist is both young and personable—Miss Butcher is better qualified to write of her literary ability—and we are told she is a delightful speaker.

The Cordon is entertaining the members of "The House Beautiful" company at tea Friday from 4 to 6 o'clock. Miss Gladys Thornton will present scenes from the play. The regular quarterly business meeting of the club will be held tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Americus F. Callahan will open her residence at 1325 Astor street Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for a benefit musical for the extension department of the Musicians' Club of Women. The Amy Neill String quartet, assisted by Dorothy Bowen, soprano, and Agnes Conover, pianist, will give the program.

Arthur Bissell is issuing invitations to a musical Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the Ambassador East at which the Brahms Ensemble will sing Brahms' waltz songs.

Muriel McCormick's Theater Reopens at Palm Beach.

Word from Palm Beach was that the opening of the Palm Beach Playhouse, Inc., last night for its second season, with the first of a répertoire of twelve plays to be presented on Tuesday evenings, was the most brilliant event of the season thus far. Mrs. Elisha Dyer Hubbard [Muriel McCormick], president and managing director, received an ovation from the subscribers and their guests, as did her acting and executive staff, which includes her husband, Maj. Hubbard, first vice president, and Mrs. Harry H. Shearson of Chicago, second vice president. The little blue and gold theater, seating under 300 persons, was an intimate setting which brings the audience into closer contact with the players than usual.

Many smart dinners preceded the première, among them one for twelve guests given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Le Grand Bouton Cannon of Tuxedo, guests of his mother, Mrs. Theodore Frelinghuysen, by Mr. and Mrs. George Alexander McKinlock at Villa Alejandro. Maj. and Mrs. Hubbard had a small dinner at home in honor of their guests, Dr. and Mrs. E. Terry Smith of Hartford, Conn. Mr. and Mrs. John Francis Harris, who have many social affiliations in Chicago, gave a dinner, taking their guests to the play. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shearson, relatives of Mrs. Harry H. Shearson; also Mr. and Mrs. William Gray Warden and their guest, Nelson Warden of Philadelphia. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Herenden of Chicago are supporting subscribers attending.

HER MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED

MRS. GEORGE FREDERICK SHEPHERD.

[Carlos Photo.]

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Banning Jr. of Wilmette announce the marriage of their daughter, Margery, to George Frederick Shepherd. The ceremony was performed on Christmas day at the residence of the bride's parents, with the groom's father, the Rev. Dr. G. F. Shepherd of New York City, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd are to reside at 5140 Woodlawn avenue.

Official Contract

By Charles True Adams

(International bridge authority; author of "Official Contract at Sight.")

"And what, Mr. Smith, was the secret of your success?" And the answer always comes back, "Hard work, young man. Early to bed and early to rise. Never looking at the clock. Work before pleasure," and so on for several pages of copy. And, of course, Mr. Smith is at least half right. The fact that he was lucky enough to inherit his uncle's money and made a fortunate guess in the stock market is the other half that Mr. Smith seldom talks about. All due respect to diligence and ability and at the same time let us pay homage to Lady Luck.

In yesterday's play-a-problem West played the hand with consummate skill. He not only made his contract but made an extra trick. Yet, in spite of his skill, if it had not been for two lucky breaks this hand would not be in this morning's TRIBUNE. This was the hand:

NORTH
♥—8,7,2
♦—Q,5,3
♣—Q,J,10,9,3

WEST (Dealer)	EAST
♠—K,J,7,4	♠—A,9,6,3
♥—5	♥—K,Q,10,9,4
♦—K,J,4	♦—6,2
♣—A,K,7,4,2	♣—8,5

SOUTH
♠—Q,8,2
♥—A,J,6,3
♦—A,10,9,8,7

West dealt and bid a club. North passed. East took out with one heart. South bid two diamonds and West two spades.

This two spade bid of West's was not so good. Few good players like to bid a four card suit without stronger tops than West held. Many tournament players, however (of which the original West was one), show second suits that are of this type. This, of course, does no harm, provided your partner knows that you have this habit.

North passed and East went to four spades, which closed the bidding.

North opened the ♣ Q, dummy played the 5, South the 6, and West took the trick with the K. West led back the ♥ 5, North played the 2, dummy the Q, and South took with the ♥ A. South now led the ♦ 10, which declarer captured with his K. He then led the ♠ K and followed with the ♠ 4, which dummy took with the A. Dummy then led the ♥ K, on which West discarded the ♦ 4. Next dummy led the ♥ 10, on which West discarded the ♦ J. West now led the ♥ 4 from his dummy, which he trumped in his own hand with the ♠ 7, North discarding the ♣ 3. West then led the ♣ A, on which South discarded the ♦ 8. To the next trick West led the ♣ 2, North played the ♣ 10, dummy trumped with the ♠ 6, and South overtrumped with the ♠ Q. South returned the ♦ A, which West trumped with the ♠ J. Then West led the ♣ 7, which dummy trumped with the ♠ 9, and led his good ♥ 9 to the last trick. Thus East and West brought in their game and one extra.

West had two real opportunities to show his card knowledge in this hand. At trick three he put up the ♦ K. It was merely a guess as to who held the Q and West guessed correctly. At trick 7 he again guessed properly, taking the finesse of the ♥ 10 and discarding a losing diamond. Even if this finesse had failed, West was in the clear because if North had had the ♥ J west could have made every other trick except that ♥ J and the Q of trumps.

PLAY-A-PROBLEM: SOLITAIRE OR PARTNERS

Play this hand tonight at your bridge game. Keep a record of the bid and play in the spaces provided. Numbers in the bidding squares are for successive rounds. Check your results with tomorrow's answer.

To play "Solitaire": Record the bids you think each hand would make in the bidding squares. After the final declaration has been made start the play, leading from the hand at declarer's left. As you play each card cross it off of the diagram and record it in the proper square, as S. 3. H. K, etc. In the last column indicate the hand which won the round and lead from that hand on the next round.

Mayfair Going Kitchenette; Mansions Close

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 12.—London's exclusive west end residential district, where the great town houses of the nobility stand—many of them now with shutters locked—is undergoing a constant change, likely to become more pronounced during the new year.

For their owners can no longer afford to keep them up. The modern apartment house is rooting the old mansions out to provide more up to date, smaller and, incidentally, cheaper quarters for the aristocracy. Hereditary ownership is giving way to taxation and death duties. Mayfair, comparatively, is going kitchenette.

One large real estate firm declares that 300 old houses in the west end passed through their hands during the year. Many more were sold through other concerns or by private negotiation. All, or most of them, are being converted into flats.

"The fact is that under the present rate of taxation and the high cost of service, few of the old families can afford to keep up a town house," this agent said.

"Those who have large country houses, also, certainly cannot find the cash to run them. There is the case of Lord Derby, for instance, and hundreds of people who are less wealthy than he are finding it impossible to live in their own homes in London.

"Many of them are going into flats at a rental of anywhere from $1,500 to $3,000 yearly. In this way they save a great part of their income, and are relieved of the rates assessed against their property. Some thousands of flats have been built in the west end during the last five years, and there is still a demand for them if the rentals are not too high. Estate agents have done a fairly good business with building syndicates in recent months.'

Patterns by Clotilde

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

WOMAN'S AND MISSES' OVERBLOUSE.

This Vionnet blouse is smart and wearable, and is suitable for satin, plain, or patterned crêpes. The sharp diagonal closing is bound to be becoming, running up as it does to meet the softly falling revers that help in detracting from breadth. The sleeves are finished with modish, deep flaring cuffs. Lyonnaise pink crêpe satin, crêpe silk and metal lamé are suitable materials.

The pattern, 3167, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years and 36, 38, 40, and 42 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 2⅞ yards of 39 inch material.

How to Order Clotilde Patterns.

Pin Striped Suit Has Trimming of Ermine

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—Mannish woolens with fine pin stripes and checks are in vogue in Paris. They are not, however, made in a severe, masculine manner, for fashion abhors the once smart boyish silhouette, and insists that even the simple tailored suit be feminine in aspect.

Suits made of pin striped worsteds are usually worked with the stripes running vertically to heighten the silhouette, and the Worth suit in our sketch is made of black and white striped material with the stripes running up and down, which makes the fitted and flared jacket suitable even for the woman with a mature rotundity because of the slenderizing illusion supplied by the tiny stripes of white on the black wool.

A pretty pattern is achieved by working the small pie-piece godets that flare the jacket below the waistline in chevron pattern. The skirt is one of the new narrow line skirts of the midseason and is flared at the knees by the introduction of small godets made of the material with the striped pattern also worked into chevrons.

The sleeves of the jacket of this suit are flared slightly from the elbows and are banded at the wrists with ermine. A wide shawl collar of ermine replaces the usual cloth collar of the suit, and three cut steel buttons that fasten the jacket complete its elegant and formal character.

Carol Proctor's Paintings Make One Feel Young

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

THE most fascinating exhibit which the All-Illinois Society of Fine Arts has ever sponsored in the Revell alcove-gallery is that of water colors by Carol Proctor, which opened yesterday afternoon. You will easily shed thirty or forty years as you circle this row of delightful fantasies. You will slip easily back into that distant period when the White Rabbit was as real as the little boy next door, and Jack Horner, Red Riding Hood, Peter Rabbit, and Mother Goose almost came alive as you pored over picture books on the nursery floor.

Carol Proctor, who is a Chicago artist and received some training in the Art institute school, has a definite flair for adorable childish adventuring. Eugene Field wove no more romantic creatures in his poem of the calico cat and the gingham dog than does Mrs. Proctor in her picture, "'Fraidy Cat," where a plump velvet dog behind the bulwark of a stout book throws glances of challenging contempt from his black bead eyes at a velveteen kitten beyond the book who looks despairingly upon the charms of a saucer of milk.

"Story Book People," where all our favorites come alive, is another charming painting for children. So, too, are the paintings of elephants, clowns, birds, butterflies, and ducks charming. Mrs. Proctor can paint for grownups as exquisitely as for children, as her delightful "Rhythm" and "Still Life" attest. These water colors are not expensive and they merit your closest attention, particularly those of you who have children's rooms to make gay.

Former 50c package now 35c

Enormous popularity of rayon-cellulose tissues for handkerchiefs—for beauty—for a thousand uses—results in nation-wide price reduction!

The regular price of that big box—formerly 50c—is now but 35c. A third less! The same smart, sparkling package. The same number of tissues. The soft, cloth-like quality. Only the price has changed!

The reason

The great price slash is due to the enormous increase in Kleenex users. Twice as many people are using Kleenex as a year ago! So the price goes down for all!

At this new low price you'll find Kleenex more useful than ever. Let the whole family use it for handkerchiefs.

Use Kleenex for removing face creams. For applying make-up.

Kleenex makes the care of infants so much easier. Doctors recommend it.

Buy several packages at this new low price. Every drug, dry goods and department store sells Kleenex.

FOR COLDS . . . Kleenex always, in place of handkerchiefs! It costs so little that you use and destroy, thus avoiding self-infection. No laundering.

FOR BEAUTY . . . Use Kleenex for removing cleansing cream. You need the remarkable absorbency of Kleenex to assure complete removal of all dirt. Saves ruining towels.

KLEENEX disposable TISSUES

LAST YEAR'S WIFE

By ALICE M. WILLIAMSON

SYNOPSIS.

Lorne Carlton and Dick Farrow, popular moving picture stars of Hollywood, sail for Europe on a delayed honeymoon after a year's happy marriage. Lorne is sad about leaving, as she has an undefinable presentment of trouble, but Dick is anxious for the adventure. Dick's parents are famous on the stage. Lorne, who fought her way through poverty to the heights, feels that she is not approved by the elder Farrows. Dolores, the Duchess of Crowninshield, a friend of Dick's parents, has invited the young couple to be her guests in London. She is divorced from the duke, but is one of England's most important hostesses. From the first moment of their meeting Dick is a willing captive of the beautiful and charming duchess. Dolores has a busy program arranged for their entertainment. Lorne carries on a silent tug-of-war to hold her husband.

INSTALLMENT IX.

CHILLED LOVE.

"Thanks!" responded Lorne. "Much obliged for the enthusiasm. The same to you and more of it."

"You think I look all right?" Dick asked boyishly. "I want to live up to everything here."

"You are living up to it," Lorne assured him.

"Well, it'll take some doing for us both," he said. "Dolores is so much more wonderful even than we expected, and——"

"We?" echoed Lorne. "And are 'we' calling her Dolores already?"

"You heard her ask us to."

"Must have gone in at one ear and out at the other," said Lorne, though she knew it hadn't for the simple reason that she had not been present when the request was made. The duchess and Dick had walked through the picture gallery together, while Lorne was supposed to rest. Perhaps they had gone into the secret Spanish room!

Lorne had never seen him so handsome. He was a modern version, in evening dress, of the young Lord Byron in that portrait frontispiece of a first edition they'd bought. Lorne reminded herself; the romantic portrait with the blowing necktie. Though far be it from Dick Farrow ever to let a necktie blow! . . . Lorne feared that the duchess would feel the same: that he was the handsomest young man who had ever come her way to be gobbled up.

knew that she couldn't possibly have danced with a heart that at the first movement might flop down below the natural waistline. Not one word from Dick about the new and alluring gown! It hadn't allured. That was all.

She contrived to absorb the tears back into her burning eyes, which now saw so clearly "the faerylands forlorn." She paused before the mirror, and with the rose-red tip of a slender finger, shaped her full lips with a new coral pink cream bought in Paris.

"Shall we go down?" she suggested. (Not that she was impatient. On the contrary! But one had better get the next item on the program over and proceed to the item after that.)

Dick might almost have fallen asleep standing up; he was so far away from her in dreams. He roused himself, however, at the sound of Lorne's voice.

"Yes," he said. "Let's go down. It must be late. But, listen first. How's this for an impromptu?

'Helen's face a thousand ships did launch.
Helen was a queen.
Dolores is a duchess.
Her face might people all the seas with ships,
And there could be no counting.'"

Lorne had always sympathized with Dick in the throes of producing vers libres and other literary efforts. She resisted a sharp temptation, and nobly refrained from dashing his spirits, conscious though she was that most girls would snap at the chance to blight him as he deserved.

"I like it," she lied. "But, maybe you'll improve and round it out a little. For instance, the word 'people'——"

"Ah! That's what I was thinking myself," Dick cut in. "I'm glad you noticed."

"And I should have been glad if you'd noticed my new dress," Lorne longed to retort, but didn't. Instead, she asked if Dick meant to recite his poem to the duchess, and he barked back, quite sharply:

"No, certainly not! Don't, on your life, mention it to her. I may get a verse more and a different slant. Then . . . well, we'll see whether it's worthy."

"Does she make me look like a dressed up mannequin?" Lorne worried as she and her too, too handsome husband walked together (together in body, if not in spirit) into the big, softly lighted Queen Anne drawing room and saw the duchess.

Dolores had put on the simplest and most expensive tulle frock imaginable for a dinner of three. It was a ruffled, gauzy wisp of pale pink with bunches of forget-me-nots embroidered on it here and there, and it had a high sash of turquoise blue velvet. She wore blue shoes to match the sash, and diamond buckles glinted under the billowy tulle; but she was so utterly jewelless that Lorne felt uncomfortable about her pearls.

"How lovely you are in white!" exclaimed the hostess. "You make me feel that pink is a silly color."

Lorne had no need to invent a polite reply. Dick spoke up quickly:

"As if a color could be 'silly' on you! Whatever color you wear would make a man wonder why every other woman didn't choose it." (He had made this remark in almost the same words to Lorne on their third meeting, when she had had on a rather unbecoming green sports frock.)

Dolores laughed deliciously. "I'm glad that all the others don't run after my colors, like sheep!"

She smiled apologetically (or in some other way) at Lorne, took in the Molyneux gown and mentally condemned it as far too grand for so quiet an occasion. In words, however, she admired it extravagantly, and Lorne's faultless figure, too.

"How proud you must be of her!" she said to Dick.

"I am," he promptly answered.

But he was gazing at Dolores as he spoke, and she was gazing up at him. Yes, up! Dolores was three inches shorter than Dick and Lorne, his wife; and her voluptuous, yet delicate body gave her the air of extreme femininity expressed in paintings by Greuze. The pink and blue frock was the frock for a young girl, but it didn't seem too youthful for the duchess. She appeared in it to be less than nineteen, and Lorne envied her bitterly.

Dick was in a friendly mood after they came up to bed. They could talk freely for Lorne had refused further aid from Celeste, and her example had been followed by Dick with his James.

The two kept the door open between their rooms and called to each other or passed back and forth. Lorne was the first one ready for bed and Dick gaily "tucked her up" under the pink coverlet in the adorable little four-poster. He laughed at the narrowness of the couch but made no complaint concerning the separation.

The girl bit back the words: "Our first night in separate rooms since we were married!" For she felt that Dick—perhaps subconsciously—was relieved at being parted from her in his present mood. She didn't want to goad him into a protective network of fibs.

"You look tired, dear," Dick remarked, not knowing how—girl or woman—anything female, up to the age of seventy, hates to be told that it looks tired.

He kissed her very kindly. It was a warm, close enough kiss, but some quality had gone out of it that had always been in Dick's kisses before. It was a tiny difference in the physical pressure of his lips; but there was all the difference in the world in their ardor. Even the most inexperienced girl, after once knowing a true lover's kisses, would instinctively realize what the difference meant—loss of passion. Dick's passion had wandered elsewhere, like a questing night moth, and he wasn't a good enough actor off the screen to simulate it. That was why his manner was so markedly kind. He felt guilty towards Lorne. He loved her, but with a chilled, moonlight sort of love.

Lorne let the black pajama clad figure go to the adjoining room. She waited until, through the open door (would he have liked to shut it tonight? Lorne felt that he would) she saw Dick's light snapped out. There was no fear, the girl told herself, of disturbing a first, quick falling sleep. She knew that the boy (he seemed to her like a boy, swept by a sudden heart storm) must be keyed up to a tense excitement. He would lie and toss in waking dreams for hours.

Lorne counted a hundred and twenty very slowly. Two full minutes. Then she slid out of bed and slipped her bare feet into silver mules.

"Dickie," she called on the threshold. "Can I come into your bed and talk for a little while?"

There was just enough pause before his answer for Lorne to know that he had hesitated, seeking some excuse but finding none. Then he said:

"Of course you can, dear. I'd love it. Come along."

Awful to creep into the bed of a boy who doesn't want you there because he is being loyal to a brand new love!

Food Talk

Before this cook forgets, there was an omission in last week's recipe for date torte. The rule given called for crackers, and neglected to specify graham crackers. We are sorry for any confusion that may have resulted from this omission. Incidentally, the date torte is worth bearing in mind. It was passed on to me by a celebrated Milwaukee chef, and I have yet to discover it given in any of the current cook books.

Today I want to finish the discussion of leftover egg whites referred to yesterday, particularly in their relation to meringues. Not that you need wait until you have them left over, but they do make an inexpensive and pretty dessert.

A standard meringue recipe is as follows: One-half pint of egg whites [one cup], one-eighth ounce of cream of tartar, and three-quarters of a pound of granulated sugar. Beat the egg whites, cream of tartar and granulated sugar together until they are stiff and dry. Then add to them the powdered sugar and continue the beating until the mixture is dry. This will give about two quarts of substance. Put this mixture in a pastry bag and mold it around wooden meringue molds which have been moistened with cold water. If you have no meringue molds, use the bottom of muffin tins, that is, the reverse side of the tins. Bake the shells in a slow oven [275 degrees Fahrenheit] until the shells are a light brown and dry.

Meringues may be made in smaller proportions, of course. A good proportion is a recipe which calls for the whites of three eggs to one cup of powdered sugar. Beat the eggs stiff and dry before incorporating the sugar, and then drop by the teaspoon or tablespoon, depending on the size you wish, about an inch and one-half apart on buttered cookie sheets. This recipe does not provide quite the same meringue as the larger recipe just given, but is equally delicious.

Variations of meringues may be fillings and sauces, or plain whipped cream. Ice cream stuffing with a complementary sauce, such as chocolate, is enjoyed by every one. Other variations may be achieved by adding two cups of cocoanut [the shredded kind] to the egg whites before baking, or one cup of ground nut meats, or, again, two tablespoons of rich cocoa.

Meringues are not limited to cookies and desserts alone. The beating and baking of a meringue for a pie is important. As with the other kinds, have the eggs cold and fresh. Use, in pie making, only one tablespoon of powdered sugar for each egg white, and beat the two together until they are so stiff the mixture can be cut with a knife. Spread on the pie and bake with the oven door open, until the meringue is the proverbial golden brown. Too much sugar in this meringue will cause it to liquefy, and if it is not baked long enough the same disaster will result.

SALLY LUNN.

½ cup of butter, or substitute.
½ cup of sugar.
2 eggs.
1 cup of milk.
2 cups of flour.
4 teaspoons of baking powder.
¾ teaspoon of salt.

Cream the butter and sugar together; add the well beaten eggs. Add the milk, a little at a time, alternately with the sifted dry ingredients. Bake in a greased shallow pan. The Sally Lunn should be about one and three-fourths inches thick when baked. Use a hot oven [about 425 degrees Fahrenheit], and bake for twenty to twenty-five minutes. Cut in squares and serve at once. Butter it while hot.

Doris Advises Boy Not to Pin Wings on Young Girls of 19

BY DORIS BLAKE.

In the evolution of a young man's ideals about women, do they start a down grade at 21, and by 23 and 24 are completely dissipated?

"Robert" would have us believe so. At 18 and 19, The girl is perfect. She is an angel. She is inspiration. She is everything noble, fine and good, so good she is incapable of considering wrong, much less committing it.

"A young man at 18," Robert submits, "who has met the perfect one is of the mind that she has been planned by the All High for his and her especial benefit. The minor affairs of mice and men outside of this heaven-blessed relationship are merely side issues, excepting 'his' job out in the world, of course.

"But this job of his he regards as the first stepping stone to the great things all for HER. Nothing is impossible with such a divine being as his inspiration. Nothing. He can lick the world without half trying, for her."

That is 19, according to "Robert."

At 21, alas, the angel wings have drooped. The boy has heard and even seen things. He may have changed the perfect one a couple of times. Anyway, disappointment mounts upon disappointment until at 23 and 24, "if," as Robert advances, "he is not tied up with one of his perfect girls, he has seen and heard enough to begin to realize that he has been a fool—worse, that he has been a 'tool.' Yes, no more nor less than a tool. In the delicate hands of designing females."

"Robert" weighs the girl-attitude against the boys toward the opposite sex. While the young man is basking in the sun of a girl's favor, telling himself what a lucky devil he is to have lived on earth at the same time as she, and miracle of miracles, at the same place on this earth—she is taking in every eligible male, making comparisons, grading them, speculating on them as gilt edged investments, or otherwise.

There may be some truth in what Robert says. Boys may be the sentimentalists, the idealists. But by now that myth about our sex at any age being flesh and blood kin to the angelic beings should be exploded. Women never wanted that angel job. Your male disillusion, Robert, is woman's gain. At least, it permits girls to be what they are—nice, comfortable human little sinners, even as you and I, Robert.

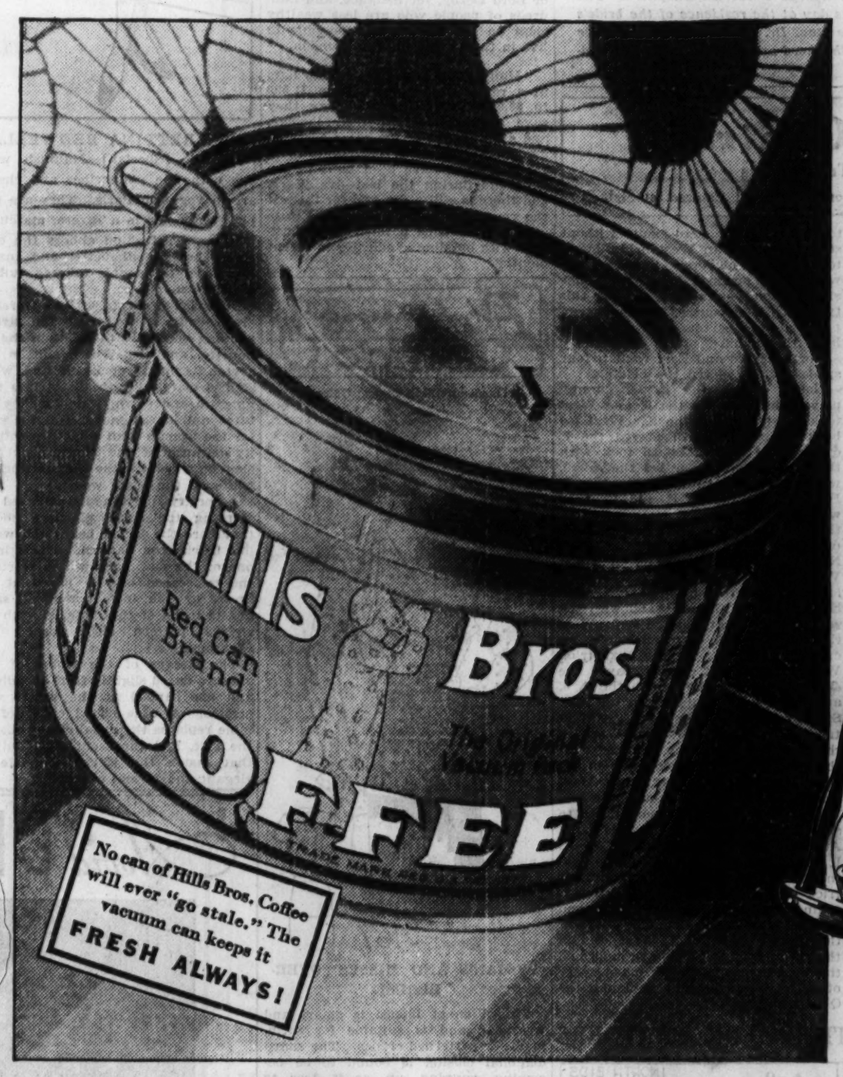
Bright Sayings of the Children

My little son, aged 3, and I were sitting in a parked car waiting for his daddy. I didn't notice the bill posters alongside of us till little Bobby called my attention to them. One poster advertised a refrigerator with wide open doors, showing a lot of nice food in it. The other poster advertised a big car with people riding in it. Buddy said, "Mother, isn't that funny? Those people leave their ice box open and go bye-bye in their car." M. E. P.

Louise who is 3 years old was called by her mother to see a small turtle. After viewing it for a few minutes, she said, "Mother, take its cover off so I can see it." L. M. D.

YOU CAN BANK ON THE SAME EXQUISITE FLAVOR IN EVERY POUND OF HILLS BROS COFFEE



Variation prevented by Controlled Roasting—Hills Bros' patented process

"A little at a time"—instead of in bulk—permits uniform roasting all the time

As the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow . . .

a little at a time

. . . so the uniform flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee is produced by Controlled Roasting—the patented process that roasts evenly, continuously . . . "a little at a time."

MEAL after meal—day after day—even year after year, you'll get the same pleasure from Hills Bros. Coffee. It never varies in flavor! Here is the reason:

Instead of roasting in bulk—the common practice—Hills Bros. use an exclusive, patented process, Controlled Roasting. The blend of choice coffees flows through the roasters in an even, continuous stream . . . a little at a time.

Accurate roasting of the famous blend is assured—accuracy equalled by no other process. No berry is underroasted nor over-roasted. All are done to the same perfect degree. Marvelous, unvarying flavor results. It is a flavor no other coffee has, because the process is patented!

Hills Bros. Coffee is packed in vacuum cans, and can't go stale. The vacuum process of packing coffee is the only method that fully preserves coffee freshness—the air is removed from the can and kept out. It was originated by Hills Bros. over thirty years ago. There is no magic about a vacuum can—it will not make poor coffee good, but it will keep good coffee fresh.

Make some Hills Bros. Coffee. Inhale that wonderful fragrance which rises from the cup in curling steam. Then sip—and see for yourself what a finer flavor comes from Controlled Roasting. Order Hills Bros. Coffee today. Ask for it by name, and look for the Arab trade-mark on the can.

NOTRE DAME ROUTS MARQUETTE FIVE, 43-31

TILDEN BEATS NUSSLEIN, BUT NEEDS 5 SETS

Big Bill Still Net Master, Showman.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Bill Tilden, the old showman of the tennis business, came back for a return engagement at the Chicago Stadium last night with the same lines and props and a new stooge, Herr Hans Nusslein of Nuremberg, Germany. The latter came near stealing the show from William, but the script for the lanky Philadelphian's act never has read this way, no more than it has for Walter Hagen in golf, and he finally subdued Hans in five sets, 2-6, 6-4, 9-7, 3-6, 6-3.

The attendance for the occasion was restricted to some 1,500 by the Londonish climate last evening, but that number saw enough tennis to last them until the outdoor season opens again.

First Meeting of Tour.

Last night's match was the first meeting between Tilden and Nusslein since last year, when the young German twice ran him to five sets in Europe, after having defeated Karel Kozeluh, who will be remembered as Tilden's stooge in his last appearance at the Stadium.

Hans arrived in the United States on Jan. 4 on the same boat with Max Schmeling, and the Stadium match was his first in this country. It was also the first of a series of five matches for the world's professional championship, now held by Tilden.

Other one night stands under the direction of that versatile impresario, Mons. Jacques Curley, will be played in St. Paul, Boston, and two other stops as yet unnamed.

The boy from Nuremberg, who is 22, nearly 17 years Tilden's junior, may have read in the papers that Tilden was a pretty good kind of tennis player, but apparently didn't place much faith in such stories, for last night he started out as if he wished to have the matter over with in straight sets.

Tilden Sheds Sweater.

He won the first set with almost no difficulty at all, 6-2, and this finally irked Tilden into shedding the sweater with which he made his entrance. Nusslein then won the first game of the second set, and the artist of the evening was disturbed into doffing his wrist watch. This left him with his trousers and shirt, but general embarrassment was averted when Bill finally won the set, 6-4.

During the third set it again was apparent that Nusslein did not think so highly of Tilden, for they deuced it three times before Bill finally won, 9-7.

An intermission during which Tilden equipped himself with a fresh shirt was followed by the fourth set, and here it was that Big Bill evinced a bit of temperament, and at the same time showed that those 38 year old legs are really 38 years old. He chided the ball boys a couple of times for the manner in which they were relaying spare ammunition to the opposite ends of the court. He dismissed several of Nusslein's shots, which landed within ten and fifteen feet of him, with a sigh and an "O, yes, good."

Nusslein was still very earnest and by dint of chasing Bill from one side of the court to the other won the set, 6-3 to square the match.

Tilden Digs Into Répertoire.

Tilden then went into his répertoire in the final set and came up with enough to win the set and match, 6-3, the while causing Herr Nusslein to converse with himself in German when he realized that Tilden was really a champion, withal an elderly one.

A home town boy, Emmett Pare, who once played basketball and such over at St. Mel's High school, won some kind of victory over Albert Burke, an Irishman who has lived in France for a number of years. They preceded the Tilden-Nusslein match, and after Emmett had won the first set, 6-4, the second was called at 7-7 to allow the principals to enter.

The program was somewhat lengthy, continuing into the morning, and just before the first call for breakfast a one set exhibition doubles match was presented, in which Tilden and Burke defeated Nusslein and Roman Najuh, the German's Polish tutor, 7-5.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

JOE CITIZEN'S PLAINT.

THE Wake is a column primarily for sports topics and sports discussions. Therefore it was with some misgiving that we allowed a contributor writing under the pseudonym of "Joe Citizen" to voice last week his indignation at affairs political and economic. Joe called our lawmakers at Washington and Springfield "a bunch of fatheads." He also called them morons which we deleted—because whatever one thinks, it's difficult to prove. Joe threatened at the next election to vote against every present office holder.

Naturally, one might not expect much reaction from such an article in a sports column. The exact reverse was true. Either many sports followers are aghast at the waste and extravagance of government with its exorbitant taxes, or many persons aghast at the waste and extravagance of government with its exorbitant taxes are sports followers.

Here is a letter to Joe Citizen from G. O. B., of Beardstown, Ill.:

"My Dear Real American Citizen: I absolutely agree with everything you say in The Wake today and you can count on me going to the polls next election and following out your suggestion. Hoping that every real American feels th same."

P. E. D. of Lafayette, Ind., writes: "My vote and also my wife's vote goes against any one in office. We need new blood to solve our problems. Seeking new ways to raise taxes is not one of them. I agree with Joe Citizen in detail, but surprised when he says the farm relief board did not relieve the farmer. It not only relieved him of everything he had but mortgaged his future for the next 50 years. Do not sign my real name either. I do not have any home brew in my basement, but some prohib snooper might plant some there."

From F. P. comes: "You are out of your sphere on sports. You should be transferred to the political desk. Believe it or not, the old Wake this morning [Jan. 6] teemed with a lot of good old sound sense. We would all be a whole lot better off if more missionary work of that kind were done. Every word of it is true and a hellofalot more."

Along Political Lines.

Dear Wake: I was a dry before prohibition, but am decidedly wet now. The triumvirate [Anti-Saloon league, politicians, and bootleggers] is keeping a big majority of the American public from paying taxes to city, state, and national governments on two articles, at least, on which they would consider it a privilege to pay taxes, namely beer and wine. The politicians and hoodlums never before had such opportunity for graft as they have had since prohibition. They want prohibition.

Therefore, instead of refusing to vote for any present officeholder, as Joe Citizen suggests, I say not to vote for any one in office who voted dry because they either are honest drys or crooked drys. In this way we would at least eliminate the crooked drys. Yours in principle for Joe Citizen's ideas. I. W. W.

RANGERS WIN IN OVERTIME, 5 TO 3; END BOSTON JINX

First Victory on Bruins' Ice in 3 Seasons.

Hockey Results

NATIONAL LEAGUE.
New York Rangers, 5; Boston, 3 [overtime].
New York Americans, 2; Montreal Maroons, 0.
Toronto, 7; Detroit, 4.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.
St. Louis, 3; Duluth, 2.
Buffalo, 4; Tulsa, 1.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 12.—(AP)—The New York Rangers broke their Boston Garden jinx tonight and defeated the Bruins, 5 to 3, in an overtime National Hockey league contest. The game, the first the Rangers have won in this city in three seasons, was the Bruins' fifth consecutive extra period battle.

Cecil Dillon, Ranger spare, was the deciding factor in defeating the Bruins. He broke a 3 to 3 tie early in the overtime by caging a pass from Frank Boucher, and, during the final minute when Goalie Tiny Thompson left the game so that Boston could send six forwards into action, Dillon hooked the rubber near his goal, beat every Bruin down the ice and drove home the final score.

With a two goal lead, the Bruins tried to play defensive hockey in the third period, but their safety first tactics were smashed by the determined Rangers, who tied the score on scores by Artie Somers and Bill Cook.

AMERICANS, 2; MAROONS, 0.

New York, Jan. 12.—(AP)—The New York Americans tightened their hold on second place in the international division tonight as they outroughed the Montreal Maroons and outscored them, 2 to 0.

It was one of the roughest games on Garden ice in some time with the two teams drawing 20 penalties. Nels Stewart, Maroon center ice, got a 10 minute major for abusing Referee Bill Stewart when his goal was disallowed. Stewart shoved the puck into the American's net after the whistle had blown.

The penalty, coming some three or four minutes before the end of the game, destroyed the Maroons last chance of winning.

The Americans scored their first goal near the close of a slow second period when Convey, right winger, lifted the puck over Goalie Walsh as he lay on the ice after blocking a hard drive from Burch.

Joe Lamb and Normie Himes collaborated with McInenly to score the second goal in 4:45 of the third period.

TORONTO, 7; DETROIT, 4.

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 12.—(AP)—Two scoring bursts in the first and third periods gave the Toronto Maple Leafs a 7 to 4 victory over the Detroit Falcons tonight.

Toronto scored three goals in the first period, but had to stage another brilliant offensive in the third period to make the game safe. Detroit, scoring once in the first period and once in the second, trailed by only one goal in the third period, but Toronto drove in four more goals to two for Detroit.

Toronto's scoring, goals and assists, was split up among ten players. Aurie accounted for one goal and an assist for Detroit.

Art Shires Signs with Boston Braves for $11,000

Dallas, Tex., Jan. 12.—(AP)—Art Shires announced today he had signed a one year contract for $11,000 to play with the Boston Braves. Shires said he was well pleased with the figure since it was about $3,000 more than he received last summer at Milwaukee. He led the American association in batting last season.

Harry Dublinsky Loses Decision to Jack King

Big League Holdouts Face Tough Year, Beginning Now

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The gentlemen who play big league ball and occasionally force their transfers to their favorite club by assuming a "holdout" rôle, are going to find 1932 a tough spring.

The magnates accepted the trend of the times by declaring a sweeping reduction in players' salaries, especially those in the upper brackets of $20,000 or more. Then the magnates supplemented the above with an informal agreement not to attempt deals for players who develop resentment after observing the figures in the contracts offered them.

This attitude on the part of the owners was evident in the case of the famous Hack Wilson, who last year drew $33,000 from the Cubs and recently was tendered $7,500 by the Cardinals. As soon as Hack can be coaxed into signing a contract or agreeing to a fair sum, he will be traded, probably to Brooklyn.

Behind the huge salary slice given to Bill Terry by the New York Giants is a bit more than a desire to get the pay roll down to where it belongs. The New York club, of course, didn't have such a good season that it can afford to be wasteful. But in the case of Terry there is just a trace of a feeling that he never has appreciated that baseball has been kind to his bank account.

Terry, according to those who know what goes on in the Giant dugout, never has made a companion of McGraw. He has resented all the ragging of his manager. McGraw, of course, is excellent in that rôle. Terry when "called" makes no attempt to conceal his displeasure.

McGraw, being of a dominant type, dislikes such things. Besides, Terry has been a chronic holdout and, now that players can no longer "go into business," because there is no business, the club is able to balance the scales in its favor.

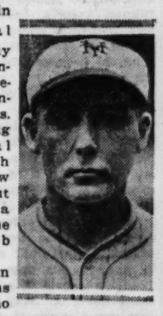
The minor leagues, after floundering around without capable leadership for several years, have among other advances decided to make use of the press. The committee now directing the affairs of all the minor circuits is going to hire a publicity expert. Eventually the committee will finish its work and a president of the National association, which is made up of the minors, will be named. It probably will be Judge W. G. Bramham, who now is chairman of the governing committee.

William Veeck, president of the Cubs, who just now is golfing in the neighborhood of William Wrigley's palatial hotel at Phoenix, Ariz., will start for California shortly, mainly to visit the Cubs' training camp at Catalina island. While in that neighborhood Veeck intends to talk business with those of the Cubs wintering there. Among these is Charley Root, who last season drew in excess of $20,000. Veeck will return to his office here Feb. 1 and by that time the contracts, if any, which are unacceptable to the athletes, will have bounced back to his desk.

Lou Comiskey, the White Sox president, who has been at his northern Wisconsin camp for the last two weeks, is due to return today. William Harridge, the American league president, who, with John Heydler, the National chief, has been arranging the major league schedules for next season, will be back in his office tomorrow.

Roush Refuses Small Salary; Quits Baseball

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—Eddie Roush, once one of the greatest center fielders in the National league, today was given his unconditional release by the Cincinnati Reds. After playing here several years, Roush went to the New York Giants, but again became a member of the Cincinnati club last season.



EDDIE ROUSH.

Rather than accept the terms of the Reds, who offered him a small salary, Roush informed Sidney Weil, president of the Reds, that he had accepted unconditional release.

"What the club needs is younger players," Roush said. "I'll help Manager Dan Howley by getting off the team."

The veteran outfielder, who, according to friends, is financially independent, also said he had no plans of returning to the diamond. Roush, it is reported, received $15,000 from the Reds last year.

OTT ALSO HOLDOUT.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—Melvin Ott became the second New York Giant holdout today. The heavy hitting outfielder said he had returned his contract which carried a "stiff cut" for the 1932 season.

"The Giants made money last year and I don't see how they expect a man to play for such salaries," said Ott. "The slash was not 40 per cent, but it was much bigger than I expected."

HERE'S IDEA FOR TERRY, OTHERS FACING PAY CUT

New York, Jan. 12.—(AP)—The salary differences between Bill Terry and the New York Giants today recalled the case of Benny Meyer and the Brooklyn baseball club.

Meyer, a fair outfielder, received a contract from the late Charles Ebbets in 1913 which he considered too low. Benny lived in a small town near St. Louis. He had the village printer strike off some letterheads, "Meyer's Stock Farm," on which he wrote to Ebbets, returning his contract and declaring he could make much more money there than he could playing ball. The answer was immediate and startling.

"Your letter received," Ebbets wired. "Am on my way to see you. Expect me Thursday."

Benny was up a tree. His stock farm consisted of a tumbledown house, a couple of razorback hogs, a hound dog, and little else. He scurried around, explaining the situation and requesting loans of horses, cows, plows, and other implements. One friend settled the matter by offering to loan Meyer his farm for the day Ebbets was expected.

Ebbets came to town and found Benny sitting on the porch of a fine house, with the stables filled with live stock.

"Why, Benny," said Ebbets, "I had no idea you had done so well. You certainly look prosperous."

"I am," said Benny. "I'd be silly to play ball any more. It would cost me money to go away and leave all this for the summer."

"Well," said Ebbets, "maybe we can fix that part of it up all right," and he signed Benny to a contract calling for more money than he had ever dreamed of getting.

St. Mary's Eleven Will Play Alabama on Coast

PLAYER ACCUSED OF TREACHERY TO SUE TROJANS

Hawkins May Enroll at Marquette U.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—William Hawkins, third string center on the University of Southern California football team, formally withdrew from the school today and served notice he has retained an attorney to file a damage suit against the university.

The suit will demand $1 nominal damages, he said, and "vindication" of asserted charges of unethical conduct which grew out of Hawkins' investigation by a private detective last autumn.

Started Before Irish Game.

The incident occurred about a week prior to the game at South Bend between Notre Dame and Southern California, when Hawkins was informed by an assistant coach that there had been talk that Southern California's football signals were suspected of passing into Notre Dame hands through him.

The accusations against Hawkins were not made public until after the Trojans returned from South Bend, at which time it was reported that the player had been held under guard in a mountain cabin for some time prior to the Notre Dame game. Hawkins' mother demanded an apology from Coach Howard Jones and President Von Kleinschmid of the university and declared their son had been held captive against his will.

Although officials of the university denied that Hawkins had been held against his will and refused to apologize, they exonerated him of any suspicion of treachery. They insisted that the investigation into the affair had been initiated at Hawkins' request.

Call Hawkins "Lieb."

Hawkins was a junior at the university. He said he probably would transfer to Marquette university in Milwaukee and continue studying medicine. He played in no games last season.

Hawkins had attended Loyola High school here and was friendly with football players on the Loyola university team of Los Angeles this fall while attending Southern California. The disloyalty charges were mentioned to him after his Trojan teammates nicknamed Hawkins "Lieb" because Tom Lieb, former Notre Dame player and coach, now is in charge of football at Loyola.

KRAUSE SCORES 17 POINTS; 7TH IRISH VICTORY

Game Close Until Half Time.

Notre Dame, Ind., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—Ed Krause, former Chicago high school star, sank seven field goals and three free throws tonight as Notre Dame scored its eleventh consecutive victory over Marquette. The score was 43 to 31. It was Notre Dame's seventh victory in eight starts this season and Marquette's second defeat of the year.

Notre Dame had a 19 to 15 edge at the half after Krause, De Cooke, and Johnny Baldwin had kept Notre Dame in the lead with timely shots. The score was tied four times in the period.

Close Until Half Time.

Gorychka counted on Newbold's foul to tie the score. Free throws gave the Irish a 7 to 3 lead, but Marquette came back to take an 8 to 7 advantage on baskets by Budrunas and Zummach and a free throw by Ronzani. Newbold's short basket put Notre Dame head again, and Krause added a free throw, but co-Captain Al Shipley dribbled under the net to tie the score at 10-all. Krause and Gorychka made it 12-all. Baldwin and Shipley followed with field goals to tie the count at 14 apiece.

Two field goals by Krause and a free throw by Baldwin, while Shipley was making one point for Marquette, made the half time score 19 to 15.

Reserves Finish Game.

In the first five minutes of the second period, Krause made four baskets while De Cooke was getting three, and Notre Dame's advantage became 31 to 19.

Notre Dame reserves finished the game.

22 Avondale Boys, Girls in Silver Skates

Avondale playground, which has competed in practically every one of the annual Silver Skates derbies sponsored by THE TRIBUNE, has submitted its entry list for the sixteenth series of races which will be held Jan. 23 and 24 at Garfield park.

Avondale will have 22 boys and girls in the races. The list of contestants is confined principally to the boys' lower age classes. However, there are entries for both of the girls' divisions.

While no real skating weather so far has favored the thousands of Chicagoland skaters, more than 1,000 entries have been received for the Silver Skates. A great percentage of these are individual entries. When the teams send in their lists it is likely that more than 3,000 will be registered for the Derbies.

As soon as ice is available, it is advisable for the contestants to practice the distances over which the seven Silver Skates races will be decided. The distances, both of the finals and qualifying races for the seven Silver Skates derbies follow:

Men's senior—Two miles; qualifying, 1 mile.
Boys' junior—Half mile; qualifying quarter mile.
Boys' juvenile—Quarter mile; qualifying, 220 yards.
Boys' midget—220 yards; qualifying, 110 yards.
Girls' senior—One mile; qualifying, one-half mile.
Girls' junior—Half mile; qualifying, quarter mile.

Racing numbers will be issued to contestants on the mornings before the days their qualifying races are scheduled.

The boys' midget, juvenile, and junior qualifying races will be held Saturday afternoon, Jan. 23. Numbers will be issued on Saturday to these contestants.

Mickey Cohen Outpoints Estrada in 10 Rounds

Jacksonville, Fla., Jan. 12.—(AP)—Mickey Cohen, 137, of Denver, won a 10 round decision here tonight from Jose Estrada, 135, of Mexico City. It was a close battle but Cohen had the edge on points.

TILDEN HEAVIES BEAT LINDBLOM IN LAST MINUTE

Novack's Basket Decides 22-20 Battle.

A basket in the final minute gave the Tilden Tech basketball team a 22 to 20 victory over Lindblom yesterday in the opening central section heavyweight game of the Chicago Public High School league.

Tilden led at the half, 11 to 8, but Lindblom tied the score, and after the Techs had gained a two point edge in the last quarter, Lindblom again knotted the score. Then, with a half minute remaining, Novack sank the winning basket. Lineup:

PARKER TRIUMPHS.

With Rumpf scoring seven baskets and one free throw, Parker heavies defeated Morgan Park, 27 to 8, on the Parker floor. Parker led at half time, 12 to 5.

LANE, 16; LAKE VIEW, 14.

Lane lights started their north division season with a 16 to 14 triumph at Lake View. Lane led, 9 to 8, at the half.

SCHURZ, 25; SENN, 15.

Schurz lightweights scored a 25 to 15 victory over Senn at Schurz. Borg and Farbuin featured for the victors.

CALUMET, 41; FENGER, 19.

Earl Keth, lanky center, led the Calumet heavies to their first victory in the south section, defeating Fenger, 41 to 19, at the Fenger gymnasium. Keth sank eight baskets and one penalty shot.

TULEY, 24; AUSTIN, 21.

Tuley's lightweights hung up their first west division victory, defeating Austin, 24 to 21, on the Austin floor. Dire starred for the victors with five baskets.

CARY SKIERS ARE SURE OF SNOW—FROM MICHIGAN

Six carloads of snow were shipped yesterday afternoon from Escanaba, Mich., to Fox River Grove, Ill., where the Norge Ski club will stage its twenty-sixth annual ski jumping championships next Sunday afternoon. The snow will be stored at Cary hill, scene of the competition, as positive insurance against a postponement of the event.

Thus a ski tournament may be held in Illinois on snow scraped from the streets of a town in Michigan!

The Norge club announced yesterday that entries for the contest for the Chicago medal awarded the contestant giving the most meritorious performance in this competition annually, will exceed twenty-five. With each making two jumps in the tournament competition, a liberal afternoon's activity is promised.

Special trains over the Chicago and North Western tracks will carry fans to the scene of the meet. The club has established headquarters in the Morrison hotel. Tickets may be obtained there and at all Olsen & Ebann stores.

LAKE FOREST TO PLAY ELMHURST QUINTET TONIGHT

The Lake Forest college basketball team will play Elmhurst college, a Little Nineteen conference opponent, tonight in the second league game for Lake Forest. Lake Forest won its first conference game from Wheaton, 47 to 21. The Elmhurst game will start at the Lake Forest gymnasium at 8 o'clock.

Butler Quintet Swamps Wabash College, 34-1

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—Butler university tonight defeated Wabash college in the first of their two basketball games of the season, 34 to 11.

SMITTY—LOUDER AND FUNNIER

HELLO, SMITTY! WE SMUGGLED OURSELVES ON BOARD!
'GONG-GONG' AND 'BATTLER'! WHAT A FINE PICKLE YOU GUYS HAVE PUT ME IN!! SOMEBODY'S GONNA GET IN TROUBLE FOR THIS NOW!
GET UNDER QUICK! HERE COMES THE CAPTAIN!
SAY, CAPT. STICKLE, WHAT WOULD YOU DO IF YOU FOUND STOWAWAYS ON YOUR BOAT!
STICK 'EM IN IRONS, AND FEED THEM BLACK BREAD AND WATER!

Other Fighters Keep an Eye on Levinsky Bout

While a majority of the fans who will sit in for the King Levinsky-Paulino Uzcudun battle Friday night at the Chicago Stadium will be there for the antics of the Kingfish, there will be another group present solely for business reasons.

One of these will be Max Baer, California heavyweight, who yesterday telegraphed Matchmaker Nate Lewis that he would arrive Friday. Baer is en route to New York, where on Jan. 29 he faces Levinsky in Madison Square Garden.

Last July 4 at Reno Baer went 20 rounds with Uzcudun. Jack Dempsey promoted and refereed that one and Jack's decision went to Paulino.

Dempsey himself will have a representative here. His manager, Leonard Sacks, who is about to send Jack into the bigger fight centers and against tougher foes, will be at the ring side. It is rumored that Jack and Levinsky may get together. Sacks will examine Levinsky's style and report back to Dempsey.

Jack O'Keefe, whose Tuffy Griffith once beat Levinsky, and who may have to attempt the same feat again, also will watch the proceedings. He will be accompanied by Griffith and his trainer, Whitey Eckert.

A couple of left handed punchers appear in two of the light heavyweight bouts in Dave Maier of Milwaukee and George Nichols of Buffalo. Maier, recent victor over Maxie Rosenbloom, faces Abie Bain of Newark, while Nichols will meet Charley Belanger of Canada. Baxter Calmes tackles Bob Olin of New York in the other elimination series bout. Yale Okun, a Paulino sparboy, will meet Tony Cancela from the Levinsky stable in the opener.

Pep Kerwin canceled his show scheduled for Friday at the Rainbo Fronton. His next card will be held at the Fronton Jan. 22. On that date he expects to have Georgie Nate, South Bend, Ind., featherweight, meet Sammy Levine of Chicago in a six round contest.

Johnny Long, Gary, Ind., and Tony Sutton, Peoria, Ill., fight in the semifinal of the amateur show at Merry Garden arena Friday. Long won the Golden Gloves heavyweight championship last year and Sutton was light heavyweight runnerup in the same tournament. Tony Muscarello, Central A. A. U. champion, and Bill Reardon, Oak Park featherweight, meet in the windup combat. Six other bouts will be announced tomorrow.

Winners of the north side suburban tournament at the Belle Plaine Athletic club on Jan. 20, 21 and 28 will represent the Belle Plaine club in the Golden Gloves tourney. The Belle Plaine Athletic club is sponsoring the north side suburban tournament.

ST. ELIZABETH, ST. AMBROSE TO MEET TONIGHT

Helen Bina Off Today to Seek Olympic Berth

BY BETTY ECKERSALL.

Despite the lack of practice facilities, Helen Bina, 19 year old Illinois indoor skating champion, expects to become one of the six girls selected for the Olympic team when National Outdoor Skating championships are held Saturday and Sunday at Oconomowoc, Wis.

Miss Bina's record for the last six years reflects perseverance and a determination to win that never could be dimmed. Her first goal was a pair of THE TRIBUNE Silver Skates.

In the 1928 Silver Skates Derby, Helen took third place in the junior event, and the next year placed second to Elizabeth Du Bois in the senior race. The following year, after training harder than ever, Miss Bina flashed across the finish line first and realized her ambition to own a pair of Silver Skates. Thus in three years of competition she won a first, second and third place.

Has a New Objective.

And now Miss Bina has another objective, a place on the Olympic team. How can a girl so determined to win be kept off the Olympic list?

Miss Bina, however, is confronted by a big task, for she will compete with the finest feminine skaters in the United States. Besides being splendid skaters, Miss Bina's rivals will have had the benefit of outdoor practice.

"I have been training nightly in indoor rinks," Miss Bina said yesterday, "but the difference in weather conditions, in indoor and outdoor skating, and the lack of cold and ice may prove too big a handicap."

Best on Indoor Rink.

Miss Bina always has made better showings in an indoor rink. She has practiced turns for so long they no longer are a hazard. Due to her inability to start quickly Miss Bina is a better distance skater than sprinter. This is an argument in her favor, for the Oconomowoc races will be at 1,000 and 1,500 meters.

"Skating," Miss Bina said, "has helped to keep me interested in sports and also in my profession, which at the end of this semester will be a teacher of physical education. Of course, training and racing at the time of final examinations are a bit difficult, but so far, neither my skating nor school work has been neglected.

"I have kept strict training all year. During the summer months I kept in trim by roller skating, jumping rope, tennis and swimming. I don't know whether I'll be lucky enough to be one of the six Olympic qualifiers, but if I don't it won't be because I haven't tried."

Illinois Wesleyan Hands Millikin 31 to 18 Setback

CANADIENS AND HAWKS REVIVE RIVALRY TONIGHT

The same two teams that battled last spring for the Stanley cup will clash for the second time this season in Chicago when the champion Canadiens of Montreal meet the Blackhawks at the Stadium tonight. The Canadiens were the only team in modern hockey to win the Stanley cup two seasons in succession.

Joliat Is Good, Too.

Aurel Joliat, who has been performing at left wing beside Morenz for seven years, weighs only 135 pounds. He is one of the game's greatest scorers. Another well known figure is Pit Lepine, who last season made five goals and one assist for a point total of six, the modern major league record for a single game.

The contest marks the meeting of hockey's two shutout kings, Goalies Hainsworth and Gardiner. The Canadien goalie holds the record of twenty shutouts. It was established during the season of 1928-'29. The rule was changed the following season to open the play and permit more scoring. Gardiner shut out his opponents 13 times last season to establish a modern record.

Hawk Lineup Revised.

Because of the shoulder injury which will keep the clever Johnny Gottselig out of the lineup for two weeks, Maj. McLaughlin has changed the forward line formations. Stew Adams will take Gottselig's place beside Vic Ripley and Lolo Couture, while the speedy rookie, Louis Holmes, will work on the line, consisting of himself, Mush March, and Tommy Cook. The Thompson-Lowery-Ingram line will remain unchanged.

ALBION BEATS ALMA.

Shamrocks Seek Byrne, Star Goal Keeper Last Year

The Shamrocks are negotiating for Paddy Byrne, leading goalkeeper of the American Hockey league last year, President T. J. Shaughnessy announced last night.

Byrne is now in Chicoatimi, Canada, where he has been playing in the Eastern Canada league following his suspension by the Kansas City club for failure to report. Before the current hockey season opened Byrne was sold to the Montreal Maroons for $7,500, but the National league refused to approve the deal and it fell through. Byrne then refused to report to the Pla-Mors.

William F. Grant, president of the Kansas City club, last night agreed to raise Byrne's suspension if the Shamrocks could come to terms with him. He did so in order to avert a dispute over Porky Levine, loaned to the Pla-Mors on an immediate recall basis. Agitated by the success of recent assaults on the Shamrock goal, President Shaughnessy asked for Levine's return, and when his request was refused persuaded Grant to compromise on Byrne.

ST. CLARA AND ST. COLUMBANUS GIRLS PLAY TIE

After playing two overtime periods, St. Clara and St. Columbanus called off their contest with the score 10 to 10 in the opening game in the south division of the Catholic Girls' Basketball league last night at the Aquinas gymnasium. St. Columbanus led at the end of the first half, 4 to 3.

The Sts. Peter and Paul squad swamped St. Ambrose, 28 to 4. Other scores were:

St. Lawrence, 27; St. Joachim, 10.
St. Bride, 18; St. Philip Aquinites, 14.
St. Philip Neri Aces, 24; St. John the Baptist, 6.

DUFFY FLORALS WIN.

LIKE 200 TO 1 ON A DERBY HORSE? CONSIDER I PASS

Don't Pass Him Up, Tip from Kentucky.

BY FRENCH LANE.

The first red hot tip on a 200 to 1 shot in the Kentucky Derby has just come into our hands from an operative who already is down in the Blue Grass country beating the bushes and endeavoring to uncover the next 3 year old champion.

And our 200 to 1 shot has been appropriately named by my friend; Col. Joe Chinn of Lexington. He has called the colt "I Pass."

I Pass never has faced the starter, but if what my operative tells me is true the mile and a quarter of the Derby at Churchill Downs on May 7 is going to be just a hop step and a jump for him.

"We've timed him running uphill a mile and a quarter in 2:04," writes the agent. "If he improves that effort he should run the Derby in less than two minutes, which will be lifting 'em up and putting 'em down in pretty rapid fashion."

Twenty Grand's Time Slower.

I Pass gets his name from his mother's side of the house. He is a son of Thunderer and his mother is Two No Trumps. He was growing so fast down in old Kentucky last season that no effort was made to get him to the races as a 2-year-old. He is a whoppin' big fellow now. In addition to my operative, other shrewd racing men in Lexington say he will do.

Don't Forget the Tip.

Now I am not going out and wager the overcoat on this son of Thunderer-Two No Trumps, for we may yet have some cold weather. But if I Pass comes charging down the stretch at the Downs on next May 7 and the mutuel figures read something like $468 for a $2 ticket, don't say that I didn't tell you about it.

Camp Douglas has won his last four starts at the Jefferson Park track in New Orleans and looms as the most dangerous contender in the impending Louisiana Derby. Whether he can keep to his good form and come north in May to fill important 3 year old engagements is doubtful. Winter track horses do not often win a Preakness, a Derby, a Belmont Stakes or a Classic.

It may be that Camp Douglas is strictly a sprinter. He is a half brother to the Kentucky flyer, Cayuga, of a few seasons back. But six or seven furlongs was as far as Cayuga could go. Campfire, the sire of Camp Douglas, so far hasn't produced a route runner of note.

Olive Sabath recently won in the silks of the Chicagoan and reports are that she is one of the most likely looking juveniles at the Cuban track. But Mr. Sabath says he has another youngster in his barn, named Fanny Price, that will scorch the track the first time she steps out to fill a racing engagement.

Remember when Toro thrilled the racing crowds a few years back? Few greater stretch runners have come along in recent years. He's the daddy of a big husky looking son, the first foal to arrive at the noted Claiborne breeding establishment in Kentucky this year. The dam is Whizz Bang, a daughter of Sun Star. It was unfortunate that Toro was of Reigh Count's age, otherwise he would have carried away the 3 year old championship. He went amiss a year later while endeavoring to win the Suburban handicap in New York. He was pushed and crowded so much that he came out with a badly injured leg, which all but ended his racing career.

FELDMAN TOLD TITLES AREN'T WON AT SCALES

New York, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Len Feldman asked the New York state athletic commission today to recognize him as the featherweight champion of the world, succeeding Bat Battalino, who failed to make the class weight for a title fight with the New Yorker here last Friday.

The commission said "no" and Feldman offered to compromise with the title of "defending champion" of the featherweights. Again the commissioners shook their heads and placed the matter on file. The commission previously had informed Feldman he had no claim to the title Battalino forfeited here on the weighing-in scales, forcing cancellation of the 15 round match.

Quail Need Heavy Brush for Refuge

BY BOB BECKER.

Hazelnut brush and young scrub oak growth are of little or no value to quail and other game and song birds during the winter season if there is snow on the ground. The quail has protective coloration and if there is no snow they can hide pretty safely in open brush when a hawk starts to make trouble. But

RUSSIA PROPOSES 'UNDERSTANDING' ON MANCHURIA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Jan. 12.—Alexandre Troianovsky, soviet ambassador to Japan, called on Premier Inukai at 11 o'clock this morning and urged a soviet Japanese understanding regarding north Manchuria. The soviet ambassador said he feared Japan might be spurred by the capitalist nations into breaking down the present amicable relations with soviet Russia. The conversation lasted half an hour.

Troianovsky has recently been active in assuring Japan that soviet Russia does not intend to support China in any way. The soviet feeling toward Japan, he said, is of the best and the action of Russia in increasing its Siberian army is due to the necessity of protecting the enormous border areas and is not directed against Japan. Furthermore, he declared, the soviets have no aims in south Manchuria.

Orders New Offensive.

A general offensive against 15,000 alleged Chinese bandits said to be running rampant in southern Manchuria was scheduled to begin tomorrow. An order for a punitive expedition was issued today following information that the bandits are advancing eastward to attack the South Manchuria railway. The punitive forces will be under the command of Col. Kawamura and will be composed of an infantry regiment from Liaoyang, a cavalry regiment from Kingchuling, and an artillery corps from Haicheng.

Reports from Mukden said 3,000 bandits are near the walled city of Mukden, intending to attack municipal and other official buildings.

Urges "State of All Nations."

The formation of an independent state in Manchuria, to be administered not only by Chinese but by all races represented in the four eastern provinces, including Russians, Americans, British, and others, was advocated by Lieut. Col. Kanji Ishihara, active staff officer of the Kwantung army, in a statement published here.

Ishihara recommends that in case such a state is formed, Japan return the Kwantung leased territory as well as the South Manchuria railway to Manchuria.

Japanese Move from Tientsin.

TIENTSIN, China, Jan. 13 [Wednesday].—(AP)—Japanese troop movements were under way today as fighting with Chinese forces continued near Chinchow.

Japanese troops left Tientsin for Shanhaikwan, gateway between Manchuria and China, after reports came in that Japanese soldiers between Shanhaikwan and Suichung, hard pressed by Chinese, had been withdrawn.

It was believed here that part of the Japanese forces stationed at Shanhaikwan were moving on to Chinchow.

China Replies to Stimson.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Jan. 12.—The Chinese government at Nanking today replied to the recent American note invoking the nine power treaty. The Chinese reply was handed to the American consul general for transmission to Washington. The contents of the note were not published.

Torbet Rites Tomorrow; Former Port Officer Here

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at Bellefontaine, O., for L. K. Torbet, 74 years old, former naval officer of customs in Chicago. He died on Saturday in the Illinois Masonic hospital. Mr. Torbet was appointed port officer by President Taft, holding the post until he entered welfare work with the troops during the world war. He was a member of the Union League club, the Hamilton club, where he lived, and of a number of Masonic orders.

Elizabeth Lux, Mother of Chicago Priest, Dies at 75

Mrs. Elizabeth Lux, 75 years old, died yesterday in her home in Joliet. She is survived by two sons, John F. Lux, city editor of the Joliet Herald-News, and the Rev. Joseph B. Lux, assistant pastor of St. Andrew's Catholic church, Chicago, and a daughter, Miss Laura Lux of Joliet. Funeral services will be held at St. Patrick's Catholic church, Joliet, Friday morning.

Harry Lippincott Funeral Services to Be Tomorrow

The body of Harry W. Lippincott, former law partner of ex-Senator Deneen, will arrive in Chicago tomorrow morning. Funeral services will be held in the afternoon at Christ church chapel in Winnetka. Mr. Lippincott died on Sunday in Phoenix, Ariz., while on a short trip for his health. He was 45 years old and lived at 738 Lincoln avenue, Winnetka.

CHICAGOAN DIES, 3 HURT IN AUTO CRASH IN WEST

Philip Klein, 30 years old, 4314 West 15th street, was killed; Charles W. Gould, 1317 Farwell avenue, was seriously injured and his daughter, Violet, less seriously hurt, and George Ide, also of Chicago, suffered a fractured vertebra yesterday when their sedan collided with a heavy truck near Indio, Cal. Physicians said that Gould and Ide would recover. The accident occurred when the automobile skidded and in attempting to recover control Gould swerved the machine into the truck.

Mrs. Louis Berger, 56 years old, 3041 South Canal street. Died in the German Deaconess hospital from injuries suffered early Sunday morning when the auto in which she was riding collided with another at 59th and Morgan streets.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

YOUTH CHARGES BEATING FORCED HIM TO CONFESS

Police Are Accused in Lavander Case.

Vernon Royals, 17 years old, on trial for the murder of Mrs. Agnes Lavandar on Feb. 17, 1930, testified yesterday in the absence of the jury in Judge Walter T. Stanton's Criminal court that policemen beat him before they obtained a confession of the slaying.

Attorney W. W. O'Brien for the defense sought to discredit the confession before the court rules on its admissibility. Royals told a story of being kicked, beaten and made to go without food, water and sleep by policemen of the Irving Park station.

Did Not Know Prosecutor, Claim.

Q.—When you were brought to my office at the time you made your last statement were you beaten there? A.—No.

Q.—Did you know you were being questioned by a state's attorney? A.—No.

Q.—Well, that's strange. How did that happen? A.—No one told me.

During the questioning the youth said: "The reason I made a confession in your office was that the police told me before we left the station that if I didn't give the same statement before the state's attorney that they'd give me a trimming when we returned to the station."

Punched in Face 100 Times.

Asked by the prosecutor to tell just where he'd been beaten, Vernon said he'd been punched in the chest and in the face and kicked on the shins. The questioning continued:

Q.—How many times were you punched in the face? A.—O, I don't know.

Q.—Well, 25 times? A.—More than that.

Q.—Fifty times? A.—More than that.

Police Are Witnesses.

Earlier in the day policemen had testified that the confession was made voluntarily and that the youth had confessed "to get it off his mind" two days after his arrest on another charge. Patrolman John Clike of the Irving Park district said the youth had pointed out various scenes of the crime at the Forest Glen railroad station after making his confession.

Dr. F. W. McNamara, attending physician at the county jail, testified he had examined the youth and found bruises.

More testimony on the confession will be heard today.

Deaths of a Day

PORTLAND, Ore.—(AP)—Charles A. Johns, 74, associate justice of the Supreme court of the Philippine islands. Failing health caused him to return to the United States last May. It was through the efforts of Justice Johns that the use of Spanish gave way to English in Manila court records.

BALTIMORE, Md.—(AP)—Ralph C. Hudson, president and general manager of O'Neill & Co. and for a time executive vice president of the Jordan Marsh Company of Boston.

GREENVILLE, S. C.—(AP)—Dr. B. B. Steedly, 58, head of Chick Springs sanitarium and a widely known surgeon.

ST. PAUL, Minn.—(AP)—Max Toltz, 75, former vice president of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

BONES FOUND IN CINCINNATI SLAYER'S HOME

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—A number of bones, believed to be human, were found late today by excavators digging in the cellar of Charles Bischoff, 45 year old cobbler, who has confessed the slaying of Marian McLean, 6 years old. The digging was ordered by police, who believe the bodies of other children may be buried in the basement.

The bones were taken to Cleveland tonight, where they will be examined at the Western Reserve university to determine if they are human. The search is being undertaken because other small girls have been kidnaped here in the last few years and never heard of since.

Meanwhile, the state obtained a first degree murder indictment naming Bischoff.

Miss Grace Elizabeth King, Author, Dies, Aged 80

New Orleans, La., Jan. 12.—(AP)—Miss Grace Elizabeth King, author, died at her home today. She was 80 years old. In recognition of her literary ability she was made a fellow of the Royal Society of England and received the palms of officer of public instruction of France. She was born in New Orleans and was educated at Tulane university, where she held a degree of doctor of literature.

Mrs. Albertina Hulsmann, Widow of Painter, Is Dead

Mrs. Albertina Hulsmann, widow of Henry Hulsmann, landscape painter, died of heart disease yesterday in her home at 1216 Scoville avenue, Berwyn. Mrs. Hulsmann was born in Germany and was 80 years old.

600 ARE DRIVEN FROM HOMES BY LOUISIANA FLOOD

Rains, Gales Sweeping Gulf Coast.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—With heavy rains in wide areas over Louisiana and Mississippi, amounting in some places to cloudbursts, the flood situation again is sending all rivers in this section on a new and menacing rampage.

In the city of Monroe several hundred homes in West Monroe and at least 150 in the city proper are surrounded by water and rains still are continuing. The Ouachita river at that city has risen to 45.1, several feet beyond the flood stage.

Residents of West Monroe and outlying territory are being brought to havens of safety in parts of the city not yet affected. In many homes occupants awoke today to find their residences flooded. Boats were used to bring in the occupants of at least 600 homes from the city of West Monroe.

On South Grand street, one of the principal thoroughfares of the city, the river has overflowed its banks and the street is three feet under water. In North Seventh street all homes have been vacated, where the water is six feet deep.

Around the city of Alexandria nearly four inches of rain fell and backwater from Rapides bayou is menacing rich farm land and hundreds of homes.

LOUISA JOHNSON, NATIVE OF CITY, IS DEAD AT 84

Funeral services will be held today at Tokepa, Kas., for Mrs. Louisa Whitlock Johnson, who was born in Chicago 84 years ago, and who spent most of her life in this city. Mrs. Johnson died on Monday in Topeka.

Mrs. Johnson was the daughter of Thomas Whitlock, who came to Chicago in 1835 and opened a boot and shoe store on Lake street, and she was born in her father's home, which occupied the block bounded by Washington, Wells, Franklin, and Madison streets. Her husband, the late Oliver Cutler Johnson, an insurance broker, died 25 years ago, and Mrs. Johnson had not maintained a residence in the city since 1922.

INDIANA FARMER DIES.

Evansville, Ind., Jan. 12.—(Special.)—Claude Kinsell, 51, Spencer county farmer, died here today at Walker's hospital. His widow, three daughters, two sons and one brother survive.

Mrs. Edward Miller Dies; Former Chicago Resident

Mrs. Edward P. Miller, formerly of Chicago, died on Monday in her home in Hollywood, Cal., after an illness of several weeks. Mrs. Miller was born in St. Paul, Minn., and moved to Chicago at the time of the 1893 world's fair. She was 65 years old. Mrs. Miller went to live in California last year. She is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. W. E. Macfarlane of Chicago and Mrs. Robert A. Emmett of Detroit, and four sons, Mortimer, Edward, Charles, and Franklin. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK RETAINS ALL DIRECTORS

Re-elect Officers of Central Republic.

BY O. A. MATHER.

Chicago national banks and some of the state banks held their annual meetings yesterday. As predicted in this column last week, both stockholders and directors appear content to retain directors and officers despite last year's difficulties and so few changes of importance are being made in the rosters of the various institutions.

The entire board of directors of the First National bank was reëlected and this board also constitutes the directorate and advisory committee of the First Union Trust and Savings bank. H. L. Droegemueller, for many years auditor, was promoted to vice president and controller of both banks and Charles Z. Meyer was elected auditor. In the First Union Trust and Savings bank Walter L. Cohrs was made vice president, Robert G. Collins, assistant secretary; Thomas S. McCarty, assistant vice president. Darragh Louderback was elected assistant treasurer of the First-Chicago corporation.

Adjourn Until March.

Officers of the Central Republic Bank and Trust company were reelected, and in addition Michael A. Georgen was made assistant vice president and Charles Van Zandt manager of the real estate loan department. The annual stockholders' meeting was adjourned until next March, at which time Gen. Charles G. Dawes will return to the bank and some slight changes in titles will be made in consequence.

The only change in personnel in the Straus National Bank and Trust company was the election of O. P. Decker as assistant cashier. Changes announced by other banks follow:

BOWMANVILLE NATIONAL — B. J. Schmidt, director.

CHATFIELD TRUST AND SAVINGS—Walter Fecher, director.

EDISON PARK STATE—Edwin C. Hansen, vice president and chairman of executive and loan committees. H. H. Seekamp and Henry Yaeger resigned as directors.

LA GRANGE STATE TRUST AND SAVINGS—Sigwald Johnsen, vice president; Robert G. Williams, cashier and secretary; Roy M. Quick, assistant cashier and assistant secretary; B. B. McKay, assistant cashier and assistant trust officer. R. V. Thomas and James A. Walker resigned at directors.

MADISON-KEDZIE TRUST AND SAVINGS—P. A. Schroeder, vice president; David W. Clark, honorary vice president; Harry R. Spellbrink, cashier.

MADISON SQUARE STATE—S. P. Tomaso, vice president and cashier; S. C. Straubing, assistant vice president and assistant cashier.

Reliance Bank Reports Earnings.

The Reliance Bank and Trust company reported net earnings for 1931 at $113,250, which was equivalent to 15.10 per cent on the $750,000 capital stock. All officers and directors were reëlected. The Chicago Bank of Commerce also reported no change in personnel.

Dismiss Electrification Suit—Leave to Reinstate

The Illinois commerce commission yesterday, at the request of Attorney Luther W. Walter, representing THE TRIBUNE, dismissed without prejudice and with leave to reinstate the suit filed by THE TRIBUNE asking that all railroads in the Chicago area be forced to electrify and modernize their terminal facilities.

Revise Estimates on 1931 Loss of Illinois Central

Latest unofficial estimates place Illinois Central's 1931 deficit at $4,000,000. Earlier estimates had it $500,000 greater. Officials expect that December earnings covered fixed charges, with a small margin to spare.

Must Reduce Bldg. Labor Costs: Craig

E. M. CRAIG. [Loubell Photo.]

Declaring that the building public of Illinois and other parts of the nation is on a strike, Edward M. Craig, president of the American Construction council, yesterday warned delegates to the annual convention of the Illinois Builders' league at the Hotel Sherman, that our building industry will not get back on its feet until labor costs are reduced. He pointed out that modernization and other campaigns for rejuvenating the building situation have been futile and that everything seems to be waiting for a wage reduction.

At the same session of the Illinois builders, Oscar W. Rosenthal, president of the league, declared that building of every kind is blocked by the refusal of banks to lend on any new projects. He also insisted that the real estate mortgage bond has passed out of the picture as a means of raising funds for construction.

Efforts Are Handicapped.

"While organized contractors are doing everything humanly possible to stimulate some construction activity," said Mr. Craig, "their efforts are handicapped at the outstart by high cost of labor. The building public in all parts of the state and in fact, in all parts of the country apparently is on a strike.

"Since the depression we've been preaching for a modernization campaign; we've shown the public where even with the present fixed wage scales the efficiency of workmen would make their costs cheaper, but hardly any work of this nature has been attempted.

Await Readjustment.

"Every factor of the construction industry realizes that there will be no great volume of work done in this territory until some readjustment of wage rates is made; that the building public will not do any great volume of construction until assurance is given them that there will be a conservative reduction of labor costs.

"The contractors of Chicago, whose efforts to get work have been thwarted by cheaters who figure and pay wages thirty to forty per cent below the agreed wage scale, are holding meetings and urging the union building trades to accept a reduction of 25 per cent in their present scales; this to take effect at as early a date as possible and to continue for a period of one year.

Hopes for Acceptance.

"We have some hopes that the unions will realize that the acceptance of this reduction will have a tendency to induce many people to do modernizing work and new construction and that more work will be provided for more men."

President Rosenthal urged the paying of taxes by the tenant and not by the owner. He declared that this would give the owner an opportunity to know his operating charges.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 12.—Net earnings of $22,742,654, an actual gain over the $21,336,734 for 1930, were reported today in the annual report of the National City bank, given to stockholders at the annual meeting.

Out of the profits shown $19,785,000 was paid in dividends. The profits shown were, before deduction of a $15,000,000 reserve for contingencies, taken directly out of undivided profits at the year-end.

Taking the profits for the year earned by the bank, the National City company and the City Bank Farmers Trust company, all given in the bank's report, the aggregate is $26,037,192, which amounts to $4.73 a share on the 5,500,000 shares of the bank then outstanding. Dividends were paid at the rate of $4 a share during the year, of which 87 per cent was paid by the National City bank.

The outstanding feature of the remarks of Charles E. Mitchell, chairman of the bank, was that section of the report dealing with the National City company, the bank's investment affiliate. Capital of this unit has been reduced from $55,000,000 to $11,000,000, Mr. Mitchell revealed, due largely to the elimination of the $25,000,000 General Sugar corporation as an asset of the company.

George E. Roberts, veteran banker and for 18 years identified with the National City bank, tendered his resignation as vice president. He will continue his connection with the bank's affairs as economic adviser of the National City organization. His son, George Bassett Roberts, was elected a vice president, and Gayer G. Dominick, head of the investment banking firm of Dominick & Dominick, was elected a director.

COPPER STOCK GAINS DESPITE OUTPUT DROP

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 12.—Despite a decline of 25 per cent in output of refined copper from domestic ores last year, stocks of copper above ground increased from 615,000,000 pounds at the end of 1930 to 905,000,000 pounds on Dec. 31 last, according to figures released today by the United States bureau of mines.

The firmer tone of the copper metal market in response to the curtailment plan persisted today. Copper exporters marked up the foreign price to 7⅝ cents a pound, up ⅛, in line with the increase in domestic quotations.

R. J. REYNOLDS CO. HAS PEAK INCOME OF $36,396,816

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 11.—The R. J. Reynolds Tobacco company for 1931 reports record earnings of $36,396,816, or $3.63 a share, on the 10,000,000 shares of common and class B common stock outstanding. This compares with $34,256,664 for 1930, or $3.42 a share. These earnings are after deduction of all charges, including provision for interest, federal and state income taxes, and depreciation.

The balance sheet of the company as of Dec. 31, last, shows current assets of $140,461,298, of which cash amounted to $34,479,270. Current liabilities totaled $12,219,047. Investments in noncompetitive companies, which consisted almost entirely of company's own stock in which the investment is below market price at Dec. 31, 1931, totaled $13,413,287. Undivided profits during the year were increased by $6,396,816 to $62,233,341; total assets were $176,856,099.

CAR LOADINGS UP 60,000 OVER PREVIOUS WEEK

Washington, D. C., Jan. 12.—(AP)—Revenue freight loadings for the week ended Jan. 2 mounted more than 60,000 cars over the preceding week, as announced today by the American Railway association.

Although each week had a holiday—Christmas and New Year's, respectively—the association reported the aggregate for the latest as 503,325 cars, representing an increase for the week of 61,736 cars, but a decrease of 111,535 under the corresponding week a year ago.

Miscellaneous freight totaled 183,250, a decrease of 28,923 cars under the corresponding week in 1931; merchandise 149,508, decrease 18,701; grain and grain products 23,959, decrease 8,734; forest products 13,721, decrease 10,256; ore 2,289, decrease 2,600; coal 106,455, decrease 37,030; coke 5,839, decrease 2,609, and live stock 18,304, decrease 2,682.

Oil Output in U. S. Held to 18,347 Barrel Increase

Tulsa, Okla., Jan. 12.—(AP)—Despite an increase of 38,642 barrels from east Texas wells, the oil production of the United States was held last week to an increase of 18,347 barrels in the daily average, the Oil and Gas Journal reports. This increase, making the total production 2,219,458 barrels daily instead of the 2,201,111 barrels registered the week of Jan. 2, followed more than five weeks of consistent decline.

Will Stay on Board of Directors.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 12.—James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel corporation, announced tonight at his home at 949 Fifth avenue his intention of retiring on April 18 next.

Mr. Farrell's announcement was made on the 21st anniversary of his election as president of the corporation. On April 1 he will have been in the service of the steel corporation for more than 50 years.

Mr. Farrell said that he believed the time had arrived for his successor to be appointed in order to establish the management of the corporation upon a more permanent foundation, composed of younger men. He declined to discuss the question of his successor, but said that directors of the corporation would reach a decision on that point between now and April 18—the date of the annual meeting of the corporation—at which time his resignation will be acted upon.

Time to Step Down.

Mr. Farrell's statement follows:

"On April 1 I shall have been in the service of the United States Steel corporation and its predecessor company for upwards of fifty years. For more than twenty-one years I have been president of the corporation, prior to which I served eight years as president of the United States Steel Products company.

"I firmly believe that the time has now arrived for my successor to be appointed in order to establish the management upon a more permanent foundation, composed of younger men. I have, therefore, requested the board of directors to relieve me of my duties as president, and they have consented to do so.

"My retirement as president will take place at the time of the annual meeting, April 18. I have been asked to remain a member of the board of directors, and have assured the board I shall be pleased to do so.

Has Confidence in Future.

"I have also given assurance that at all times I will continue to assist in every way the best interests of the corporation.

"My long service has been marked by unusual associations with America's foremost men, as well as leaders of industry in foreign lands, which offered contacts bringing me success and happiness.

"I will retire with a deep sense of obligation to all my associates for their loyalty, helpfulness, and abiding friendship, and with the greatest confidence in the future of the corporation and the steel industry. The basic principles, the character of our plants, and, above all, the quality of the men of our corporation insure its continuing success."

Anticipates Retirement.

Mr. Farrell became president of the United States Steel corporation in January, 1911, when he succeeded W. E. Corey. He is reputed to be one of the highest paid executives in the country, and one of the greatest salesmen the industry has produced.

By retiring on April 18, Mr. Farrell will anticipate by almost a year the date when he would automatically have been placed on the retirement list under the revised pension plan announced by the steel corporation last April. This plan provides for the compulsory retirement of executives at the age of 70 where such executives have not been retired already at their own request or that of their superior officers at 65 years.

At the time the plan was announced, widespread comment was occasioned because of the implication that Mr. Farrell would rather have to retire under it within two years, or on Feb. 15, 1933, when he will be 70 years of age. Mr. Farrell was born in 1863 in New Haven, Conn.

Stand on Wages.

Mr. Farrell has been a stanch advocate of maintaining wages in the steel industry during the depression and the decision of the directors of the steel corporation last fall to reduce wages by 10 per cent on Oct. 1 was taken only when the corporation became convinced that it was unavoidable and after the company's dividend had been drastically reduced.

At the time it was reported in Wall street that Mr. Farrell held out against the move long after other directors of the corporation had become convinced that it was inevitable. When the subject of wage cuts in the steel industry first came under active discussion early last year Mr. Farrell, speaking before the American Iron and Steel institute, asserted that it was "pretty cheap business."

Railways Act to Restore Old Rates on Grain Traffic

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Immediate steps to regain the income lost through the decision of the interstate commerce commission lowering freight rates on grain and grain products are to be taken by the western railroad presidents as a result of the Supreme court decision invalidating the reductions. Western railroad presidents, traffic executives, and attorneys yesterday met at the Union club to act on the matter.

At the close of the session the following statement was issued:

"In the light of the decision of the Supreme court on Jan. 4, which in practical effect overturned the order of the interstate commerce decision whereby freight rates on grain and grain products in the western district were reduced effective on Aug. 1, 1931, western railroad officials at a meeting here today decided to confer with the interstate commerce commission with a view to restoring at the earliest possible date the grain and grain products rates, rules, and practices which were in effect on July 31, 1931."

Would Halt Loss.

When the freight rate reduction was ordered last summer it was estimated that the action would result in an annual loss to the railroads of $20,000,000.

Among the presidents attending yesterday's meeting were William B. Storey of the Santa Fé, Ralph Budd of the Burlington road, H. A. Scandrett of the Milwaukee road, and L. A. Downs of the Illinois Central. Reports that the executives took up subjects to do with the forthcoming conference with the union executives were denied.

In a meeting at the Sherman hotel yesterday Examiners W. J. Koebel and P. O. Paulson of the interstate commerce commission continued the hearing on an investigation and suspension motion on behalf of the shipping companies on the great lakes to widen the differential between all rail and part rail, part lake shipments.

Navigation companies charge that if present schedules are allowed to go into effect next spring normal lake shipments, especially of dairy products, will be diverted.

May Divert Traffic.

Chicago rail circles see in the recently announced proposal of the Pennsylvania railroad to start a car ferry service between Muskegon, Mich., and Milwaukee, Wis., prospects for a considerable decrease in freight passing through the Chicago switching district. The Pennsylvania, in conjunction with the Grand Trunk Western railroad, has asked permission of the interstate commerce commission to establish the service.

The two roads plan to form the Grand Trunk-Pennsylvania Transportation company to purchase the four car ferries now operating between the two cities for $2,390,000. The Pennsylvania would own 75 per cent of the stock. Operation of the plan would mean a considerable saving in time for Pennsylvania railroad freight intended for Wisconsin points.

BY FRED HARVEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 12.—The stock market ran into thick weather today. Profit taking and "precautionary" selling by traders unwilling to take a chance on such pending matters as the French political crisis, the railway wage conference, and the important projects now before congress, brought the advance to a standstill in the earlier trading and eventually turned it into a mild reaction.

Pivotal shares finished the day generally from a fraction to a point lower. Liquidation was extended to all departments and the recessions of a number of issues from their early highs were quite sharp. Even the rails, which have been going so strongly for the last ten days, were cut down without much resistance.

Leaders Are Encouraged.

At that, market observers professed no little encouragement over the manner in which the list had performed in the face of the various obstacles encountered. Ordinarily, it was declared, the foreign news would have caused a severe setback, but today it did little more than "take the edge off" the advance of last week, as one observer phrased it. Some commentators were optimistic enough to insist that sentiment was still predominantly bullish regardless of the turnabout. The idea seemed to be that while the market does not appear to have a great deal immediately ahead of it to justify a resumption of the advance it certainly has reason a plenty behind it.

Trading was extremely dull for most of the session and the turnover barely topped 1,400,000 shares.

Some Active Issues.

Operations for the most part were featureless. A minor exception might be made for the increased activity which developed in a scattering of low priced descriptions such as United Aircraft, Radio, United States Rubber, Warner Brothers, Kelvinator, and Graham-Paige. There was talk of pools in course of formation to sponsor some of the better known of

CORPORATE TRUST SHARES, Accumulative Series★

Endorsement . . . .

Large numbers of investors are holders of Corporate Trust Shares, Accumulative Series—investors who have purchased fixed investment trust shares because they offer diversification plus the convenience of the trust form of holding. Investors have purchased these particular Trust Shares because of their recognized Sponsorship and because they were created against a background of long experience. Their wide investor-acceptance constitutes a significant endorsement.

★Also available in distributive type known as Series AA

To holders of* OLD SERIES

The issuance of the new series of Corporate Trust Shares has in no way lessened the investment strength and stability of the original series. The life of the original trust is for 25 years, of which 22 years have yet to run. Trust administration will continue as heretofore by the independent trustee, The Chase National Bank of the City of New York.

In creating the two new series, it has been the aim of the sponsors to add new and desirable features based on a long and successful experience in the fixed trust field.

Holders of the old series may exchange into shares of either of the new series. The exchange of shares of the old series for those of the new series is in no way compulsory or necessary in order to protect the interests of holders. Each holder may determine for himself after careful consideration whether or not he chooses to make the exchange.

INSULL ISSUES HOLD FIRM IN WEAKER MARKET

Helped by Report of Large Credit Arrangement.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Trading slowed up abruptly yesterday on the Chicago exchange, the volume of transactions shrinking to 55,000 shares. With the conspicuous exception of the Insull securities weakness prevailed while minor inroads were being made into the gains accumulated in the last few days.

While other classes of stocks were receding moderately the Insull issues held steady and in some instances registered gains. The strength was attributed to the unconfirmed report that Middle West Utilities company, one of the key companies of the system, had obtained a large credit to care for its financing needs this year. Although the reported figure of $50,000,000 mentioned in the rumors was scouted in banking circles, the opinion was heard that the parent company will have no difficulty in meeting the comparatively small maturities occurring this year.

Notes Show Strength.

Middle West preferred stock was higher, reflecting the strength in the company's senior obligations on the New York curb market. All series of the company's notes were strong with '33s showing outstanding strength with a gain of 9 points. Insull Utility Investment debentures and common shares were also slightly higher.

There were no severe recessions in other active securities. The motor accessory issues reacted slightly following the moderate upturn which accompanied the opening of the automobile show. Late in starting, the seasonal improvement in the motor stocks has been disappointing to many followers of this class of shares. It is felt that the caution with which the industry is proceeding on its 1932 program has been an effective damper on speculative enthusiasm of bullish minded operators.

Grigsby Flurry Dies Out.

The flurry of activity in Grigsby-Grunow died out and the stock relapsed again to 1¼. U. S. Radio was quite and lower with the general market.

The thin market which exists in many of the preferred stocks was again reflected when Central Public Service preferred sold off 2½ points of an odd lot transaction of 20 shares. The company recently received authorization from the public service commission to issue bonds suffiqient to meet its 1932 expansion needs.

Maytag.

Please let me know what you think of Maytag preferred stock.—B. C. N.

For the three years through 1929 sales were steady, varying from a low of $22,527,000 to a high of $25,626,000 in 1929. In 1930 sales totaled $14,471,000.

The company reported net profit of $212,400 for the first nine months of 1931. This was only 63 per cent of dividend requirements on the $6 first preferred shares. For the corresponding 1930 period net income was $1,840,000, which was 5.11 times first preferred dividend requirements, 2.30 times preference dividend requirements and equal to 52 cents per common share.

For 1930 net income was $2,030,000, which was 4.63 times first preferred dividend requirements, 1.82 times preference dividend requirements and equal to 43 cents per common share. For 1929 net income was $6,839,000, against $5,337,000 for 1928 and $6,152,000 for 1927.

As of Sept. 30, 1931, current assets were $5,371,000 and current liabilities were $615,800. Cash and marketable securities alone were $3,945,000. Working capital was $4,755,000, against $6,451,000 at the beginning of the year.

On June 30, 1931, there were outstanding 75,000 shares of $6 first preferred, 285,500 shares of $3 preference stock and 1,617,923 shares of common.

Although dividends are being paid on the first preferred and the preference stock, none is reported on the common.

The first preferred is medium grade. The preference is speculative and the common is more so.

$600,000 LOAN IS MADE BY THE CONTINENTAL-ILL.

Chauncey and Bruce Borland to Pay 5%.

One of the largest new loans in some time has been negotiated by the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company for Chauncey Borland and wife and Bruce Borland and wife, on the buildings at 610-742 Federal street. The loan is for $600,000 for a ten year period and calls for 5 per cent interest.

The property securing this loan has a frontage of 620 feet on Federal street, with a depth of 100 feet and is improved with several buildings ranging in height from one to twelve stories, used for printing and light manufacturing.

Title to the 50x100 on West Harrison street, 101 feet east of Kedzie avenue, north front, has been conveyed by William V. Griffin to the Commonwealth Edison company. The latter purchased this property last May and erected a substation on it.

Winona Street Deal.

The six apartment building at 1326-28 Winona street, lot 50x125, has been conveyed, subject to $24,000, by Harry P. Cooke to Frank Rosenfield, who gave in exchange a 160 acre farm at Monmouth, Ill. The Stewart Realty company was broker.

Carl Faust and Carl Peterson sold their store at 8035 Exchange avenue to A. G. Sweet, who in turn traded the property for the three apartment building at 7825 Cornell avenue, owned by Marie Kulczy. Elmer Johnson and N. Yakich of Johnson & Turnquist, were brokers.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene S. Crocker and Mrs. Lillie F. Tieste, sister of Mrs. Crocker, of 2316 Bryant avenue, have bought a site at the foot of Chabona lane, 95x175, in Indian Hill estates, and will build a new home of old English design for spring occupancy.

71st Street Store Lease.

A. Glick has leased from Meyer Krom the 14x65 store at 2208 East 71st street for a five year term at a reported term rental of $18,000. It will be used by the lessee for a grocery store. Coen-Berkson & Co., were brokers.

Mrs. Frances Pappazoglidas purchased the seven room residence at 2835 Fitch avenue from Peter Phillip, former president of the Phillip State Bank and Trust company, for a reported $15,000, subject to $7,500. The Georges Realty company was broker.

TELLS OUTLINE OF LIQUIDATING TRUST METHOD

Attorney Calls It Simple and Economical.

BY AL CHASE.

J. Arthur Friedlund, secretary of the bondholders' protective committee for holders of mortgage bonds sold by the Home Mortgage and Investment company, last night made public details of a liquidating trust plan of reorganization which is to be used in bond issues totaling several million dollars and which is having its initial use in the refinancing of the Mogill apartment building, at the northeast corner of Cornelia and Cicero avenues. The property was encumbered with a first mortgage of $150,000, a second mortgage, liens, etc.

Before we go into detail regarding the Mogill property, we'll quote Mr. Friedlund about the work his committee has been engaged in for some time on a plan of reorganization which would be economical as well as permanent.

Outlines the Steps.

"This method of reorganization is in every way a liquidating trust and it's the purpose of the trust to liquidate the property," said Mr. Friedlund. "Liquidation will take place in the following steps:

"First, by placing a new first mortgage on the property, if possible, and distributing the proceeds of this mortgage pro rata among the first mortgage bondholders.

"Second, the net income from the property will be paid to the bondholders from time to time until the real estate market improves.

"Third, the trustee will make a sale of the property at any time it receives a fair and adequate cash offer, at which time the proceeds of the sale will be distributed to the bondholders, and the trust terminated. The property then will be turned over to the owner and the junior interests.

Issue Ownership Certificates.

"Title to the property is acquired by compromise if possible, or by foreclosure proceedings if necessary, and conveyed to the Chicago Title and Trust company, as trustee, under a liquidating trust agreement, which title is held for the benefit of bondholders.

"The liquidating trust agreement calls for the issuance of ownership certificates to the bondholders, evidencing their proportionate interest in the trust on the same pro rata basis as they held bonds on the issue.

"Each piece of property is treated individually and stands on its own securities, and all of the net income from each building is paid to the security holder on the particular building on which he owns bonds.

"Under present depressing real estate conditions it's not likely that a fair cash bid will be received at a foreclosure sale, and rather than sacrifice the property, the committee will endeavor to work out this plan to dismiss the receivership as soon as possible and pay cash to the bondholders.

Made Careful Study.

"The committee made a careful study of the various plans of reorganization and adopted this plan in preference to using corporations, because of the savings in various corporation taxes, and further, because of the simplicity in operation."

In addition to the committee, composed of Edwin L. Read, Paul C. Mellander, Charles Wadsworth, Louis D. Glanz and Arthur M. Wirtz, there is a sponsors' committee composed of individual bondholders which coöperates in working out the reorganization.

This sponsors' committee was selected at a massmeeting attended by approximately 4,000 bondholders. It is composed of Dr. Martin G. Luken, the largest individual bondholder; Max Drygalski, Anton J. Kortas, Joseph Grenda, Dr. Alfred Crown, H. A. Olsen, Joseph Jozwiak, Andrew Mulzon, Walter E. Malicki, Dr. D. A. Steynbury, Joseph C. Santon, Frank Styburski and Martin S. Lewandowski.

All of the bonds in the Mogill property have been deposited. Because of this full coöperation the fees of the committee, it is stated, will not exceed 1 per cent. The building contains fifty apartments. Alfred H. and Rose Mogill were mortgagers. Interest defaulted in June, 1930. The Division State bank was appointed receiver. Marston, Friedlund, Tone & Friedlund are attorneys.

FORECLOSURES HIT ALL TIME HIGH IN DECEMBER

Foreclosure statistics made public last night by the Building Statistics corporation reveal an all time high of $56,000,000 in suits filed during December, 1931, as against $51,000,000 in November and $24,000,000 in December, 1930. Foreclosures totaling $441,624,406 were filed in the Circuit and Superior courts during 1931.

1926	1,435	1929	3,552
1927	2,157	1930	5,818
1928	3,148	1931	9,647

The average of all cases filed during 1931 was $46,000. Using this figure as an average for the last six years, it is estimated that $1,198,000,000 worth of Cook county real estate has gone through foreclosure since Jan. 1, 1926. This represents approximately 35.9 per cent of the assessed value of all real estate in the county.

A note of encouragement is sounded by these figures, according to the survey, since it is felt that the wave of foreclosures reached a peak in 1931 and that 1932 will see fewer cases, involving a considerably smaller sum of money.

INCREASES RATE.

FINAL TRADES SHOW LOSSES IN WHEAT MARKET

Liverpool Weakens; Lack of Demand Felt.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Professional operations continue to dominate the wheat market, and the latter backed and filled within a range of around ½c yesterday, averaging lower due to the relative weakness in Liverpool and the lack of foreign demand. At no time was there any great activity, the bulk of the business being of a local character. Final trades were at net losses of ⅜@½c. March closed at 55c, May, 56⅝c, and July, 55⅞@56c.

Considerable controversy prevails as to how far American wheat markets are out of line as compared with Liverpool, as May in the latter bu finished at equal to 56¼c, or ⅝c per bu under the same future in Chicago. Owing to the poor quality of wheat that can be delivered on Liverpool futures the latter are not regarded as a true guide.

Thomson & McKinnon's New York Produce exchange office wired that American No. 2 hard winter at the gulf was obtainable at 1c under Chicago May, which figured about 60c c. i. f. European ports, against 55½c for Argentine grain. However, it was claimed that the quality of the American wheat was about 2c better than that from the southern hemisphere country.

There was nothing in the general run of the news to cause enthusiastic buying or selling of wheat futures. Buying by holders of bids was largely responsible for checking the decline. Liverpool while reporting a better milling demand for American and Argentine wheat afloat also reported pressure from the latter country and futures there finished equal to ½@⅝c per bu lower. Winnipeg was off ¼@⅝c at the last, with May closing at 62⅝c in Canadian funds. The latter were at 15⅜ per cent discount as compared with American. Buenos Aires declined 1⅛@1⅜c, with March closing at 42¼c.

Trade reports indicated only 200,000 bu Manitobas had been sold in all positions for export during the day, including 50,000 bu from the Pacific coast to the Orient. The Greek inquiry for farm board wheat is now said to be for around 10,000,000 bu.

A milling meeting held in London yesterday decided that the proposed empire preference scheme which would allot around 55 per cent of the English wheat requirements of Canada and Australia was workable. Heretofore mills have opposed the quota scheme, regarding it as impracticable.

Corn Market Easy.

Corn made its highest price of the day at the opening and the lowest toward the close. The pit element were impressed by the continued lack of shipping demand and the moderate country offerings, and were inclined to operate on the bear side. Sufficient commission house buying developed around 40c for the May to check the break and a fractional rally followed. Closing trades were at net losses of ⅝@½c, with March finishing at 38⅝c; May, 40⅛@40¼c, and July, 41⅝c.

Action of the oat and rye markets was largely a reflection of that of other grains. Oats finished ¼@⅝c lower with May at 25⅜c and July at 25⅝@25½c. Rye was off ⅝@½c with May 46c and July 46¼c.

WORLD'S CORN CROP LARGELY INCREASED

Corn production in twenty-one countries in 1931 was more than 19 per cent larger than the 1930 production, says Foreign Crops and Markets. Last year these countries accounted for 74 per cent of the estimated world total, exclusive of Russia and China. The first official estimate of the crop in Mexico was about 40 per cent above that of last year and Rumanian was more than 40 per cent larger. The earlier estimate for Spain has been increased about 2,000,000 bu and now is only about 1,000,000 bu. Total production for the nine European countries reported now stands 6.3 per cent above that of last year. Estimated world production is 3,381,000,000 bu, compared with 2,832,000,000 bu in 1930.

BUTTER AND EGGS STEADY

Butter and egg futures were quiet and steady on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday, butter closing unchanged to ¼c higher, refrigerator eggs unchanged, and potato futures unchanged to 1c lower. January fresh eggs sold off 2c from the last sale. Storage news was bearish in butter and eggs, but the markets failed to react materially, recovering early losses at the close. The 26 cities reported 74,000 cases less eggs out last week than in the same period last year, and the heavy supply of fresh eggs arriving tended to weaken the undertone of the market, but quietness prevailed. The more markets reported a net inward movement of butter, which also failed to affect the futures. Sales: Butter, 46 cars; eggs, 26 cars; potatoes, 6 cars. Prices follow:

LARD MARKETS STRONGER

An advance in lard futures yesterday was due to decidedly lighter receipts here and for the week, with no higher prices for hogs, fair buying of futures and light offerings. The close was at net gains of 2½c on futures at Chicago. Bellies on May delivery were up 7½c on light trade. Lard in Liverpool was unchanged at 3d higher, the latter on January. Export clearances of lard were 1,593,000 lbs and of bacon 369,000 lbs. Hog receipts in the week ended last night were less than last week and a year ago. Cash lard was $5.05, loose $4.45, leaf $4.25, short ribs and clear bellies $5.75. Prices follow:

COTTON TRADE SMALL

Cotton markets were firm yesterday and higher early on light offerings, but weakened toward the close in sympathy with easing in the stock market and hedge selling. Trading in all was not heavy and the range narrow. At the close futures in Chicago were unchanged to 3 points lower, with New Orleans 3 points lower to 1 point higher and New York 4 points lower to a point higher. Spots were unchanged at 6.55c in New York, 6.40c in New Orleans, 6.35c in Galveston and 6.05c in Houston. Liverpool closed 2@3 points net higher with sterling up sharply.

A report of the New York Textile association for December showed a reduction of 12 per cent in production, with shipments 23.4 per cent of production, sales 30.4 per cent, and an increase in stocks for the month of 6.2 per cent. Exports to the orient show a heavy substitution of American cotton, and relatively high price of Indian cotton due to small supply. China is using American cotton at a phenomenally high rate. The European mill situation shows little change. Domestic fertilizer sales are running below recent years. Production of cotton in the principal foreign producing countries in 1931-'32 season will be about 1,000,000 bales less than in 1930-'31. Prices follow:

Why pay more than Household's low rate?

The nationally known Household Loan Plan offers cash loans of $50 to $300 to husbands and wives at reasonable rates.

Household's rate on all loans above $100 is almost one-third lower than the maximum permitted by the small loan law. We voluntarily established this low rate in 1928 and our customers have benefited ever since. This rate remains the same until the loan is paid off. It does not increase as the unpaid balance decreases.

FOR EXAMPLE:
The average monthly cost of a $200 loan repaid in 20 equal monthly payments is $2.63. This is the lowest cost in Chicago.

Get the Cost in DOLLARS Before You Borrow.

Commonwealth Customers Pay LESS for LOANS

$2.93 is the average Monthly Cost of a $225 loan under COMMONWEALTH'S Reduced Rate. This allows 25 months for repayment. There is no lower cost than this in Chicago.

THE personal property which nearly every family owns and the signature of husband and wife enable one to secure any amount up to $300 quickly and easily.

THERE ARE NO fees or deductions. You may take 25 months or pay all or part sooner. Interest at the Reduced Rate is charged only while you keep the money.

Also Salary and Auto Loans.

It's a plain, direct fact that we are overloaded with used cars. The reason is a good one. The 1932 Studebakers gave us a big new car business, and naturally our used car showroom immediately began to overflow with "trade-ins."

We need the room—and we must have this space IMMEDIATELY! We reduced prices SO DRASTICALLY that now you can positively get a good car at WAY BELOW THE MARKET!

BUICK SEDAN. Mast. 6 that's very clean throughout. Reduced from $285 to $195.

FORD SEDAN. Recent model. Will please you in every detail. Reduced from $285 to $225.

BUICK COUPE. 1928 four pass. Mast. 6. Side mounts and many extras. Reduced from $485 to $365.

PIERCE-ARROW ROADSTER. Mod. 80. Rumble seat. Will give new car satisfaction. Reduced from $385 to $295.

STUTZ SEDAN. Late model. Wire wheels, side mounts, safety glass, etc. Weymann body. Reduced from $750 to $495.

JORDAN 3 CABRIOLET. It's a beauty. Rumble seat. Wire wheels, side mounts, etc. Reduced from $445 to $345.

STUDEBAKER SEDAN. 1930 Dictator 8 De Luxe model. Was only driven evenings and Sundays for pleasure purposes. Reduced from $695 to $595.

CHRYSLER COUPE. 1930, only driven 3,000 mi. Rumble seat. 6 wire wheels. Reduced from $640 to $545.

STUDEBAKER SEDAN. 1931 Six, only driven a few months. Reduced from $685 to $595.

NASH BROUGHAM. 1931 Eight that looks and runs as though it had never gone a mile. Reduced from $885 to $745.

FRANKLIN COUPE. Late model. Rumble seat. Like new in every respect. Reduced from $850 to $745.

STUDEBAKER SEDAN. 1930 seven pass. Pres. 8 De Luxe model. Cost $2,480. Like new today. Reduced from $1,400 to $995.
